

Munday-Stroyan wedding at St. Joseph's July 29

Catherine Mary Ellen Stroyan and Gary Bert Munday were married on July 29 at 10:30 a.m. in St. Joseph's Church, Acton, by the Rev. V.J. Morgan. White mums decorated the church for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Stroyan, 239 Mason Blvd., Acton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Munday, Port Colborne.

Miss Irene Mulholland played the organ.

For her marriage, the bride wore a white gown of pash de sole with Empire waist, lace bodice and long tulle-trimmed sleeves, with A-line skirt topped by a full length coat of Chantilly lace. A white roseholder short veil of illusion tulle, and she carried a cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Pat Graham, a friend of the bride, and two cousins were bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Mackie and Miss Barbara Blask.

They were gowned alike in yellow pash de sole with Chantilly lace, and carried cascades of white mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Ronald Johnson, who was groomsmen, while the ushers were Pat Graham and John Munday.

The reception was held in the Legion Hall, Acton, when the bride's mother received wearing a light blue sheath topped with a lace jacket with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the groom assisted wearing a white three-piece walking suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Guests were present from Acton, Toronto, Port Colborne, Goderich, Windsor, Brantford and Saltcoats, Scotland. Among them were the two grandfathers of the groom, B. Elliot and B. Munday.

The couple left on a trip to Montreal, and are making their home in Port Colborne. The bride wore for travelling a two piece suit of boucle with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Before the wedding, Mrs. G. Mackie held a miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be on July 15. Miss Pat Chisholm, Mrs. W. Conn and Miss D. Jordan held a miscellaneous shower on July 19. Mrs. Pat Graham, Mrs. Frank Holmes and Mrs. Peter Holmes were hostesses for a miscellaneous shower on July 27.

Karin Heller, Fred Dawkins will teach school in city

In a double-ring summer ceremony in the Church of St. Alban the Martyr, Karin Helena Heller and Frederick Clarence Dawkins were married.

The Rev. E.C. Mills of Georgetown conducted the marriage, in a setting of white roses, at three o'clock on July 15.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heller, 67 Lake Ave., Acton, formerly taught kindergarten at the M.Z. Bennett Public school and will be teaching this September in Toronto.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar Dawkins, 104 Agnes St., Acton, will be teaching this September at Richview Collegiate, Etobicoke.

Glenn Banks played the organ for the wedding.

The bride wore a full-length dress of Schiffl re-embroidered lace in dove white, its Empire waist accented by a tailored bow of organza. The back swept into a chapel train and the hemline was bounded in silk organza.

The chapel veil of silk illusion was held by a matching bow of organza.

She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and white roses accented by baby's breath.

As maid of honor, Miss Donna Pendleton wore a coral floor length gown of chiffon and tulle overlay. The empire bodice had a high rounded neckline with a ruffle trim, and soft folds fell from an Empire waistline at the back.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary Dawkins, the groom's sister-in-law, and Miss Lillian Miller of Hamilton, a cousin of the bride.

They chose similar gowns in Nile green with matching head bows.

The attendants carried white gardenias and tangerine roses. A nephew of the groom, Master David Dawkins of Kingston, acted as ring bearer.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Groomsmen were Randy Daly of Georgetown, and the ushers were Ron Heller and Gary Dawkins.

After the marriage, the reception was held at the Cullen Club, Guelph. The mother of the bride wore a mist green ensemble with druse with green hat, matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Guests were present from Acton, Toronto, Halifax, Georgetown, Kingston, Hamilton and Ottawa. Among them was the groom's grandmother.

The couple are making their home in Toronto.

Showers and presentations were held for the bride-to-be before her marriage. Miss Donna Pendleton and Mrs. Gary Dawkins held a shower, and another was held by Mrs. Howard Dwyer.

A presentation was made by Lake Ave. neighbours at the home of Mrs. T.B. Moore. A presentation was also made by the staff of the M.Z. Bennett public school.

Diamond-Field wedding vows

The white flowers on the altar and standards of white mums, pink and white gladioli, and pink snapdragon formed the setting in All Saints Anglican Church, Huntsville, on Saturday, July 29, at 4:00 p.m., when Lois Pauline Field, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Field, Huntsville, became the bride of Edward Smith Diamond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diamond, Salsburgh, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Archdeacon George Sutherland and the organist was Mrs. W. Kaufman.

Due to her father's illness, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Evan Collins, Saint John, N.B. She looked lovely in a floor length Empire style gown of white bonded crepe. The molded bodice had long bell-shaped sleeves banded with wide lace. The A-line skirt and detachable train which fell from the shoulders were trimmed with the same wide lace. Her tulle illusion veil was held in place by a pearl edged satin crown.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, white carnations, stephanotis and ivy with sprigs of heather included from the garden of Glen Stewart of Vancouver, B.C.

The bride's attendant was her older sister, Mrs. John Gilde-meester of Toronto. She wore a floor length gown of pale turquoise sheer over taffeta with lace bodice and matching lace coat. Her headdress was a circular veil held by a single rose of matching dress material. She carried a nosegay of pale yellow rosebuds, white carnations, baby's breath and fern with white satin streamers.

The best man was John Gilde-meester of Toronto, brother-in-law of the bride and the usher was Gerald Barnard of Acton, a close friend of the groom. The groom and his attendants wore dark trousers, white jackets and boutonnieres of red carnations.

The reception and dance for 50 guests was held at Huntsville Lodge. The bride's mother received in a lace trimmed navy silk shantung dress with matching jacket. Her accessories were navy and white and her corsage was pink rosebuds.

In the absence of the groom's parents, who reside in Scotland,

LOIS PAULINE FIELD and Edward Smith Diamond were married in Huntsville, and are making their home in Acton. (Winger Studio, Huntsville)

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dick of Acton, close friends of the groom, were present to receive the guests. Mrs. Dick chose a two-piece blush pink linen dress with white accessories and her corsage was white rosebuds.

For travelling, the bride wore a pink figured silk A-line dress with matching pink linen coat, white accessories, and her corsage was white rosebuds.

The young couple spent the week holidaying in Muskoka and have made plans to visit the groom's family in Scotland at Christmas.

Out of town guests were present from Saint John, N.B., Toronto, Niagara Falls, Acton, Lindsay, Bracebridge and Huntsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Diamond are making their home in Acton where the groom is employed at Micro Plastics and the bride is with Sydney K. Lamb Real Estate.
