

Gent demands gun duel

May 11, 1876—One evening last week a gentleman in our village, while considerably elevated, was accidentally insulted. As nothing but blood would satisfy his honour the bystanders kindly loaded up a double-barrelled shot gun. After considerable trouble, they decided to toss for the first shot, which the aggressing party was fortunate enough to secure. Our friend was accordingly posted up at twenty paces distance, with instructions to stand still. Instead of this he surprised the spectators by making tracks in a lively manner for a neighbouring wood pile. He escaped two flying shots due to his adversary's want of practice, and lives to tell the tale.

Apparitions seen on Main

October 17, 1878—While strolling around town about 10:30 o'clock, Monday evening, we were startled by seeing what appeared to be two ghosts. They were on Main Street, in front of the Presbyterian church, behind which building is the village cemetery. They each appeared to be dressed in white gowns, one seemingly about six feet and the other a little shorter, and both making an unearthly appearance in the bright moonlight. When we approached them they suddenly vanished. We have not heard whether the performance was repeated on the following nights or not.

WATERING THE STREETS kept down the dust that summer of '98. Here John "Pussy" Williams, operator of a livery stable, has the annual task. He was a one-time reeve of the village. (A. T. Brown Collection)

Old Fashioned Days

In some ways we're still a little bit

"Old Fashioned"

Even Though the Products We Sell Reflects Current Trends . . . the Ethics and Principles that Have Guided Us for More Than 5 Years Remain Unchanged!

✓ WE BELIEVE that to deal fairly with our customers is an obligation which we should never forget.

✓ WE DO NOT BELIEVE in pricing some merchandise high enough to permit us to "make deals" on other merchandise.

✓ WE BELIEVE that when a customer buys from us he should be able to do so without any misgivings.

✓ THE CONFIDENCE of old customers is one of our most valued assets.

✓ WE BELIEVE our prices meet legitimate competition and strive to keep them so at all times.
