Following words of appreciation, the ladies served dainty refreshments including an anniversary cake.

Bedtime snacks apparently have little effect upon how well one sleeps. Researchers in Milwaukee studied 36 volunteers who for a week consumed a snack of a 275-calorie cereal serving before retiring, then for a week omitted the snacks. No significant difference was found in the frequency of body movements, an index of sleep depth, nor how they said they had slept.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Curran have returned home from a vacation spent with relatives in Nova Scotia.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Allan McCrae, first line, in the passing of his father in Toronto.

The first Fall meeting of the Women's Institute, after two months vacation, was held at the home of Mrs. T. Fines.

Miss Doris Fines presided and opened the meeting with an appropriate poem, "Your Garden".

Mrs. Stan Fuller read the minutes, correspondence and thank-you notes, and also presented the financial statement.

Arrangements were made for the Historical Society Hobby and Craft Show in Guelph, when Mrs. T. Fines will display her hooked rugs and demonstrate the art of hooking. Mrs. C. Storey is also sending her collection of Salt and Pepper Shakers.

Mrs. E. Wingrove read the scripture and Mrs. G. Aitken brought all up to date with her current events.

Highlight of the program was the showing of pictures of Expo taken by Miss Fines; these were both educational and interesting and all enjoyed the sights without walking.

Mrs. Dan Winter extended the courtesies and Mrs. Howard and Miss Fines served a delicious lunch.

Bob Smith and John Salmon hooked up in another torrid pitching duel with Smith bearing down hard when Rockwood got men on base. Salmon's crackling fast balls were a real puzzle for Otterville until the fourth frame when they plated all four runs.
