

Rain cuts attendance at blood donor clinic

Bad weather cut down the number of persons donating blood at the clinic at the Legion Hall last Thursday. The number of donations fell a little short of 200, considerably down from some previous clinics.

Steady rain throughout the day hampered the appeal.

For Mrs. W. Finlay, it was her last blood donor clinic of a long series of 21. She has been in charge of the arrangements for clinics for the past 12 years, but this is her last, she says. She looked back on a dozen years of "wonderful co-operation" as chairman of the blood donor committee. Much of the arranging has fallen to her in the past and she has an excellent record of service.

Mrs. George Angell was in charge of registration, with typists Mrs. Bill Dumarsh, Mrs. Sam Brunelle and Mrs. N. McCutcheon.

In charge of the cloakroom were Mrs. W. McHugh, Mrs. Turkosz, Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. Bert Fowler.

Mrs. Doug Rogers supervised the recovery.

In the kitchen in the afternoon were Mrs. Lloyd Masales, Mrs. Alice Coles, Mrs. Doug Price and Mrs. D. Jordan, and in the evening Mrs. C. Townsley, Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. V. Wheeler, Mrs. Masales and Mrs. Coles.

Members of the local St. John Ambulance brigade in attendance were Miss Bella-Maye Roszell, Mrs. J. Hargrave and Mrs. E. Hefferman.

Donors were: Raymond Saltz, Fred Landry, William Gillespie, Robert Hart, William Coats, William Kockx, Gerry Ockenden, Gail Reed, Eleanor Thompson, Andy Bowman, Jake Pasma, Sims McFeedran, Robt Poulsen, Edward Elliott, Dean MacDougall, Gordon Reed, Margaret O'Rourke, Neilaine Larsen, George Hargrave, Frank Devlin, Herbert Hinton, Allan Ellerby, Alan Norrie, David Hunter, Alice Duly, John Hartlin, Gladys Davidson, Gail Fryer, Lorna Chisholm, Fred Spear.

Canada's shame

Fire really hurts Canadians. Scandinavia (Sweden, Norway, Denmark) has a combined population nearly that of Canada, with generally similar climate. Its overall fire loss is less than half of ours.

The fire death-rate comparison (deaths per 100,000) puts Canada to shame. Ours is three times as great.

Family shares unique legacy as Model T car preserved

The September meeting of the Nassagaweya Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. Nicholson, Guelph, Ont.

The roll call was answered by naming a most useful kitchen gadget. Business included voting of donations to Mental Health and Muscular Dystrophy, and an announcement of the convention to be held in Guelph, October 24 and 25. An invitation was read from the Badenoch W.I. for the group to join them on October 10 at the home of Mrs. J. Black. An antique exhibit was planned for Milton Fair with Mrs. Young in charge.

The program was ably presented by Mrs. M. Moffatt who favored the group with a folk song, followed by some instructive readings and also an account of how the old Model T was preserved for posterity. Having been well kept by its owner while he lived, all parts were in good condition. When he passed on, it was dismantled and the family shared the parts. The heavy windshield was made into a mirror, the lamps were wired for electricity and the good leather seats were removed and used as such. In this way, the old Model T lived on.

A contest and a lunch brought the meeting to a close.

AFTER 12 YEARS of efficient service to blood clinics in Acton, Mrs. W. Finlay has decided to call it quits. Mrs. Finlay, centre, convened another successful clinic Thursday before deciding to pass the job along. She's surrounded by co-workers Mrs. G. Angell, Mrs. J. Rogers, Mrs. L. Masales and Mrs. A. Ford. (Staff Photo)

Why Halton West needs Jack Lush . . . NOW

— Because we can't have truly strong government leadership until we discard the shackles of complacent conservatism and give the go-ahead to men whose sights are set on legislative progress!

— Because a vote for Jack Lush will establish a better political climate where old standards of rob-Peter-to-pay-Paul taxation will be replaced with improved government services paid for (at least partially) by the elimination of present cost-eating inefficiencies!

— Because Jack Lush offers you effective representation based on the kind of personal involvement needed to translate objectives into ACTION! He stands as the watchdog of the citizen's rights in home-owner taxation protection . . . in expropriation protection . . . in pollution protection . . . in investment protection . . . in education and other costs!

VOTE JACK LUSH

-The "Peoples Protection" Candidate for Halton West

AN 'OPEN LINE' INVITATION

A member can only serve his constituency sincerely and efficiently when he is thoroughly aware of the basic best interests and problems of the people he speaks for. That's why you will always find me eager to discuss with you, any and all matters pertaining to the improvement of our Provincial Government's operations. Our Acton telephone number is 853-0110. Please feel free to call me at your convenience.

— A businessman who graduated from Queen's University with a degree in Economics and whose entire business experience has been keyed to the principles of sound financing . . . a deliberate man you can depend on to take a realistic and businesslike approach to the fiscal policies of our province.

— A family man with four children who has long been involved in community affairs . . . a man who recognizes the humanitarian responsibilities of citizenship, and who has given executive support to the Heart Fund and many other worthy projects.

— A tax-paying resident of the riding who is keenly aware of the localized nature of many of the problems which have provincial legislation overtones . . . A man who has the economic know-how to contribute constructive thinking to the solution of these problems and will work to solve them.
