Local leaders for Y program

The Y program began this week following registrations.

Since the recreation course has been moved from the University of Guelph to the community college at Scarborough, no leaders can be secured there. Instead, Actonians are taking charge themselves, including Mr. and Mrs. Art Cooper and some of the school physical training teachers.

Pete Lawson, the recreation student who directed the Y program last year, is now in Toronto to attend the course.

Recalls visiting Free Press plant

The latest issue of the Pointe Claire, Quebec, News and Chronicle contains an item of interest here, and former Actonian Jack Malprize, of Montreal, sent back a copy.

One of the paper's columnists wrote:

"Former Clifton president (1953-54) Ernie Moore writes: 'My uncle, the late H.P. Moore, published the Acton Free Press for 50 years and he won many awards in his small circulation category in the old days. In my youth, I used to hang around his plant on visits to Acton and guess that is where I first became imbued with publishing fever... (pretty strong stuff, eh?) Mr. Moore returns to Gardenvale (St. Anne's) headquarters every now and then for meetings and have been around my haunts in Pointe Claire the odd time...'

And the next item in the column, although not of special local interest, is too good to pass over:

"Instant Letters to the Editor are provided area residents by the Anti-Island Sewage Treatment plant in Pointe Claire. All you have to do is sign and mail. Now if they had been pre-crumbled as well they could have gone directly into the waste paper basket!"
