Hive of activity

ACTIVITY at Acton Limestone Quarries keeps a constant stream of trucks coming to and from the huge automated rock crushing plant. Left, the huge loader fills up empty railway cars. The quarry has its own diesel engine to do the shunting. Below, a view of the main processing line which grinds rock to set sizes and piles it for loading. (Staff Photos)

News of the District

BURLINGTON
Six youngsters in Burlington's east end were really pushing for the Society for Crippled Children; literally. They decided they would raise money by pushing children around the block on a homemade push cart, at one cent per ride. About 400 pushes later the youngsters had raised $4, which they forwarded to the society. Not content to rest on their achievement, the group is again busy pushing to raise money for the children's wing of Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital's proposed addition. — Whew!

OAKVILLE

There were more drinking drivers arrested in Oakville over the Thanksgiving weekend than in any previous three-day holiday in the history of local law enforcement forces.
Officers from the Oakville detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police who investigated three minor motor vehicle accidents over the weekend charged one person with drunk driving and four with impaired driving.
Oakville Police who investigated 91 occurrences on the weekend charged three persons with drunk driving and four with impaired driving.
