

The Acton Free Press

Ninety-Third Year.—No. 18,

ACTON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1967

Second Section.

Students hike 27 miles for U.N.I.C.E.F.

U.N.I.C.E.F. funds will be over $150 richer as a result of Saturday's marathon walk by students and one teacher from the Robert Little public school.

Starting out from Orangeville at 8 a.m., 30 of the 31 who started out finished the 27-mile hike through snow, rain and cold.

First to arrive at the Robert Little School portals, the destination finishing point, was deputy John Van Dam. He finished the hike seven hours after he started.

Miss Risa-borough, 21, thought that way but others told me that, too.

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor, up the trunks of cars and cooked hot soup on small stoves right on Erin's main street.

First to tumble out of cars at the outskirts of Orangeville were the boys who got a head start. First place finishing John Van Dam and Robert Speaker put on a burst of speed and the other walkers claim they ran the first 10 miles. Not too far behind were Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor.

Hardest part of the march? "Orangeville to Alton," said grade eight teacher Miss Risa-borough. "I thought that way but others told me that, too."

said one proud mother of her daughter.

Tired and hungry the students might have been out at least two and maybe more showed up for skating at the arena Saturday night. Others were there Sunday and by Monday only a few were limping painfully on large blisters.

It was the second Olympic Jamb for Acton students this year. Project Action, composed mainly of high school students, did a 40 mile hike this spring to the cancer society.

As in the previous hike, encouragement was also supplied on the last leg by teachers and sisters walking along.

Mary Frances Maynor and Steven Vago finished as chairman and manager of the hike. Both finished.

Taking part in the walk were Susan Van Fleet, sister of Van Dam, and Van Dam's sister, Janet Van Dam, and sister, Charles McGinn. The girls were from the Robert Little School.

Other walkers were John Van Dam, Robert Speaker, Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor. They were from the Robert Little School.

Other walkers were John Van Dam, Robert Speaker, Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor. They were from the Robert Little School.

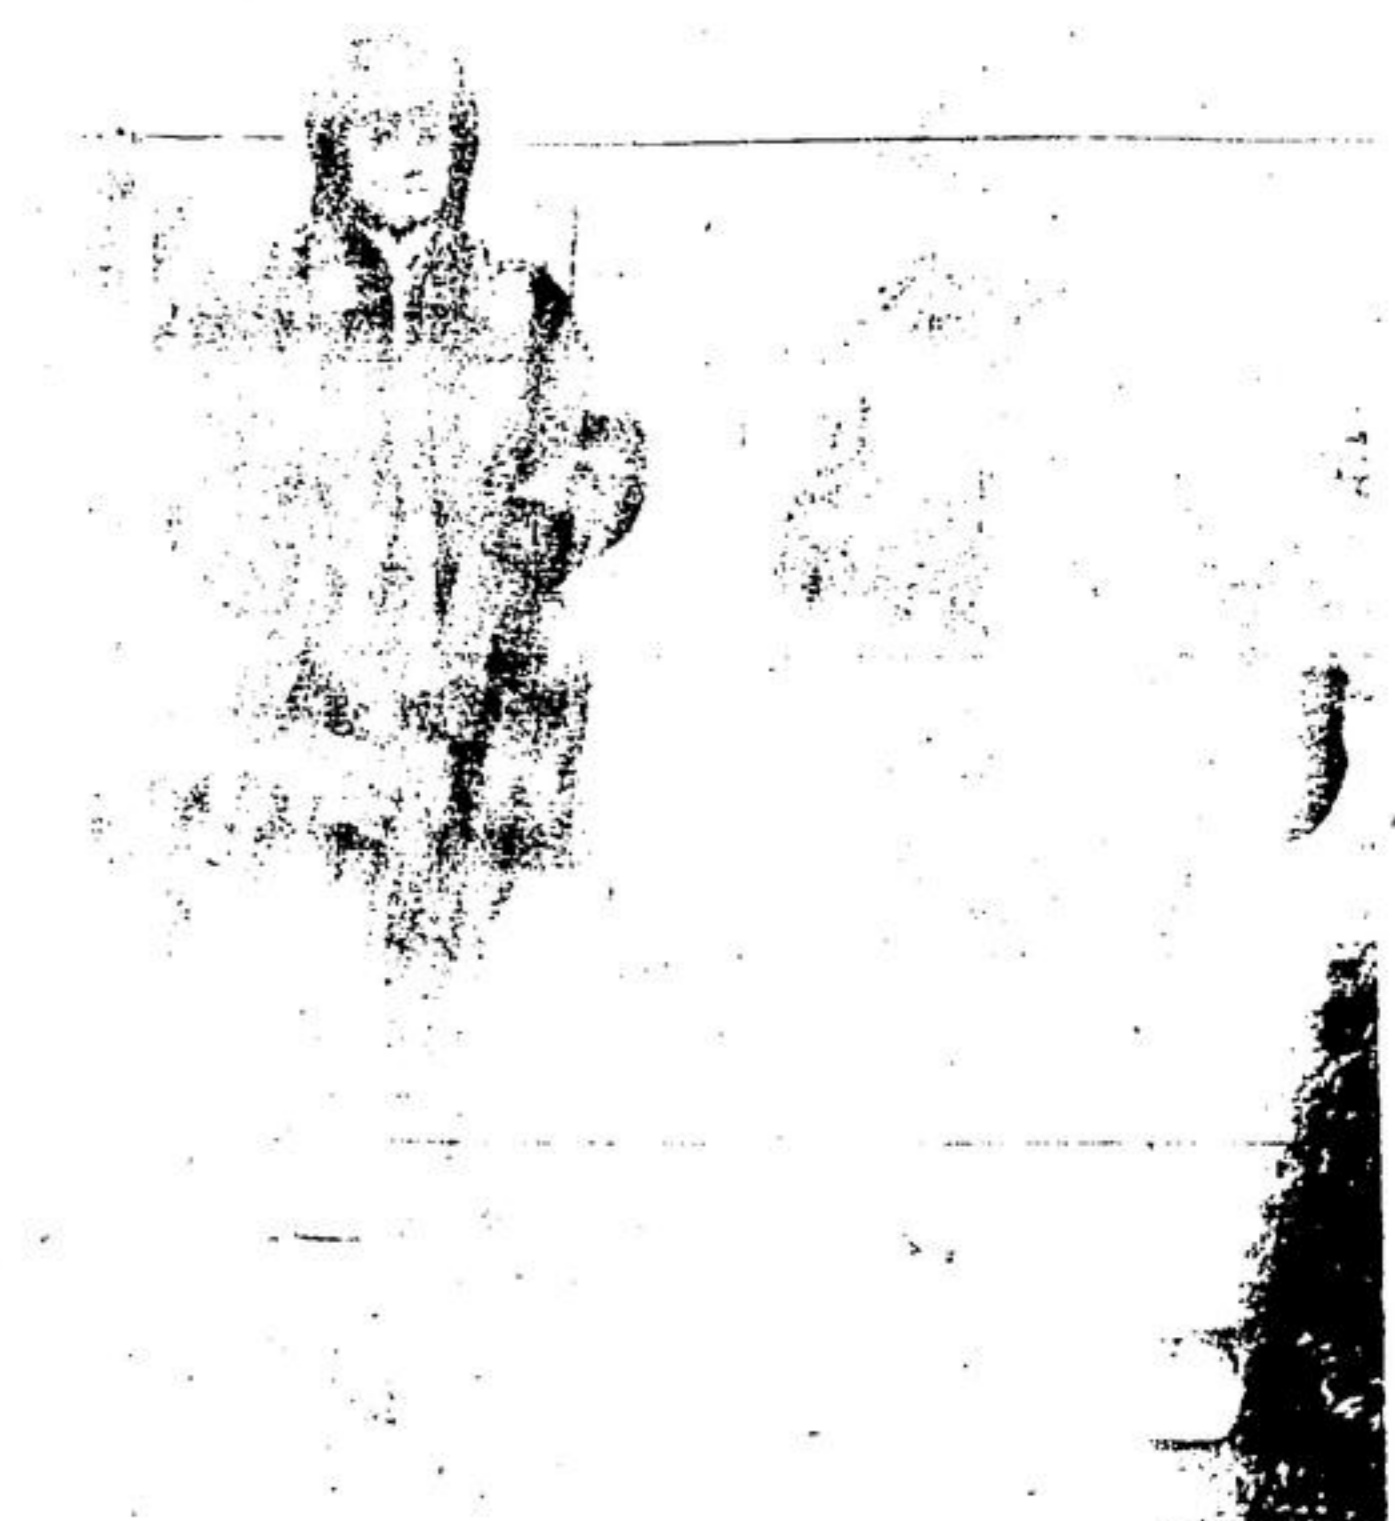

Other walkers were John Van Dam, Robert Speaker, Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor. They were from the Robert Little School.

Other walkers were John Van Dam, Robert Speaker, Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor. They were from the Robert Little School.

Other walkers were John Van Dam, Robert Speaker, Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor. They were from the Robert Little School.

BY THE BRISTOL... Teachers... walk along it

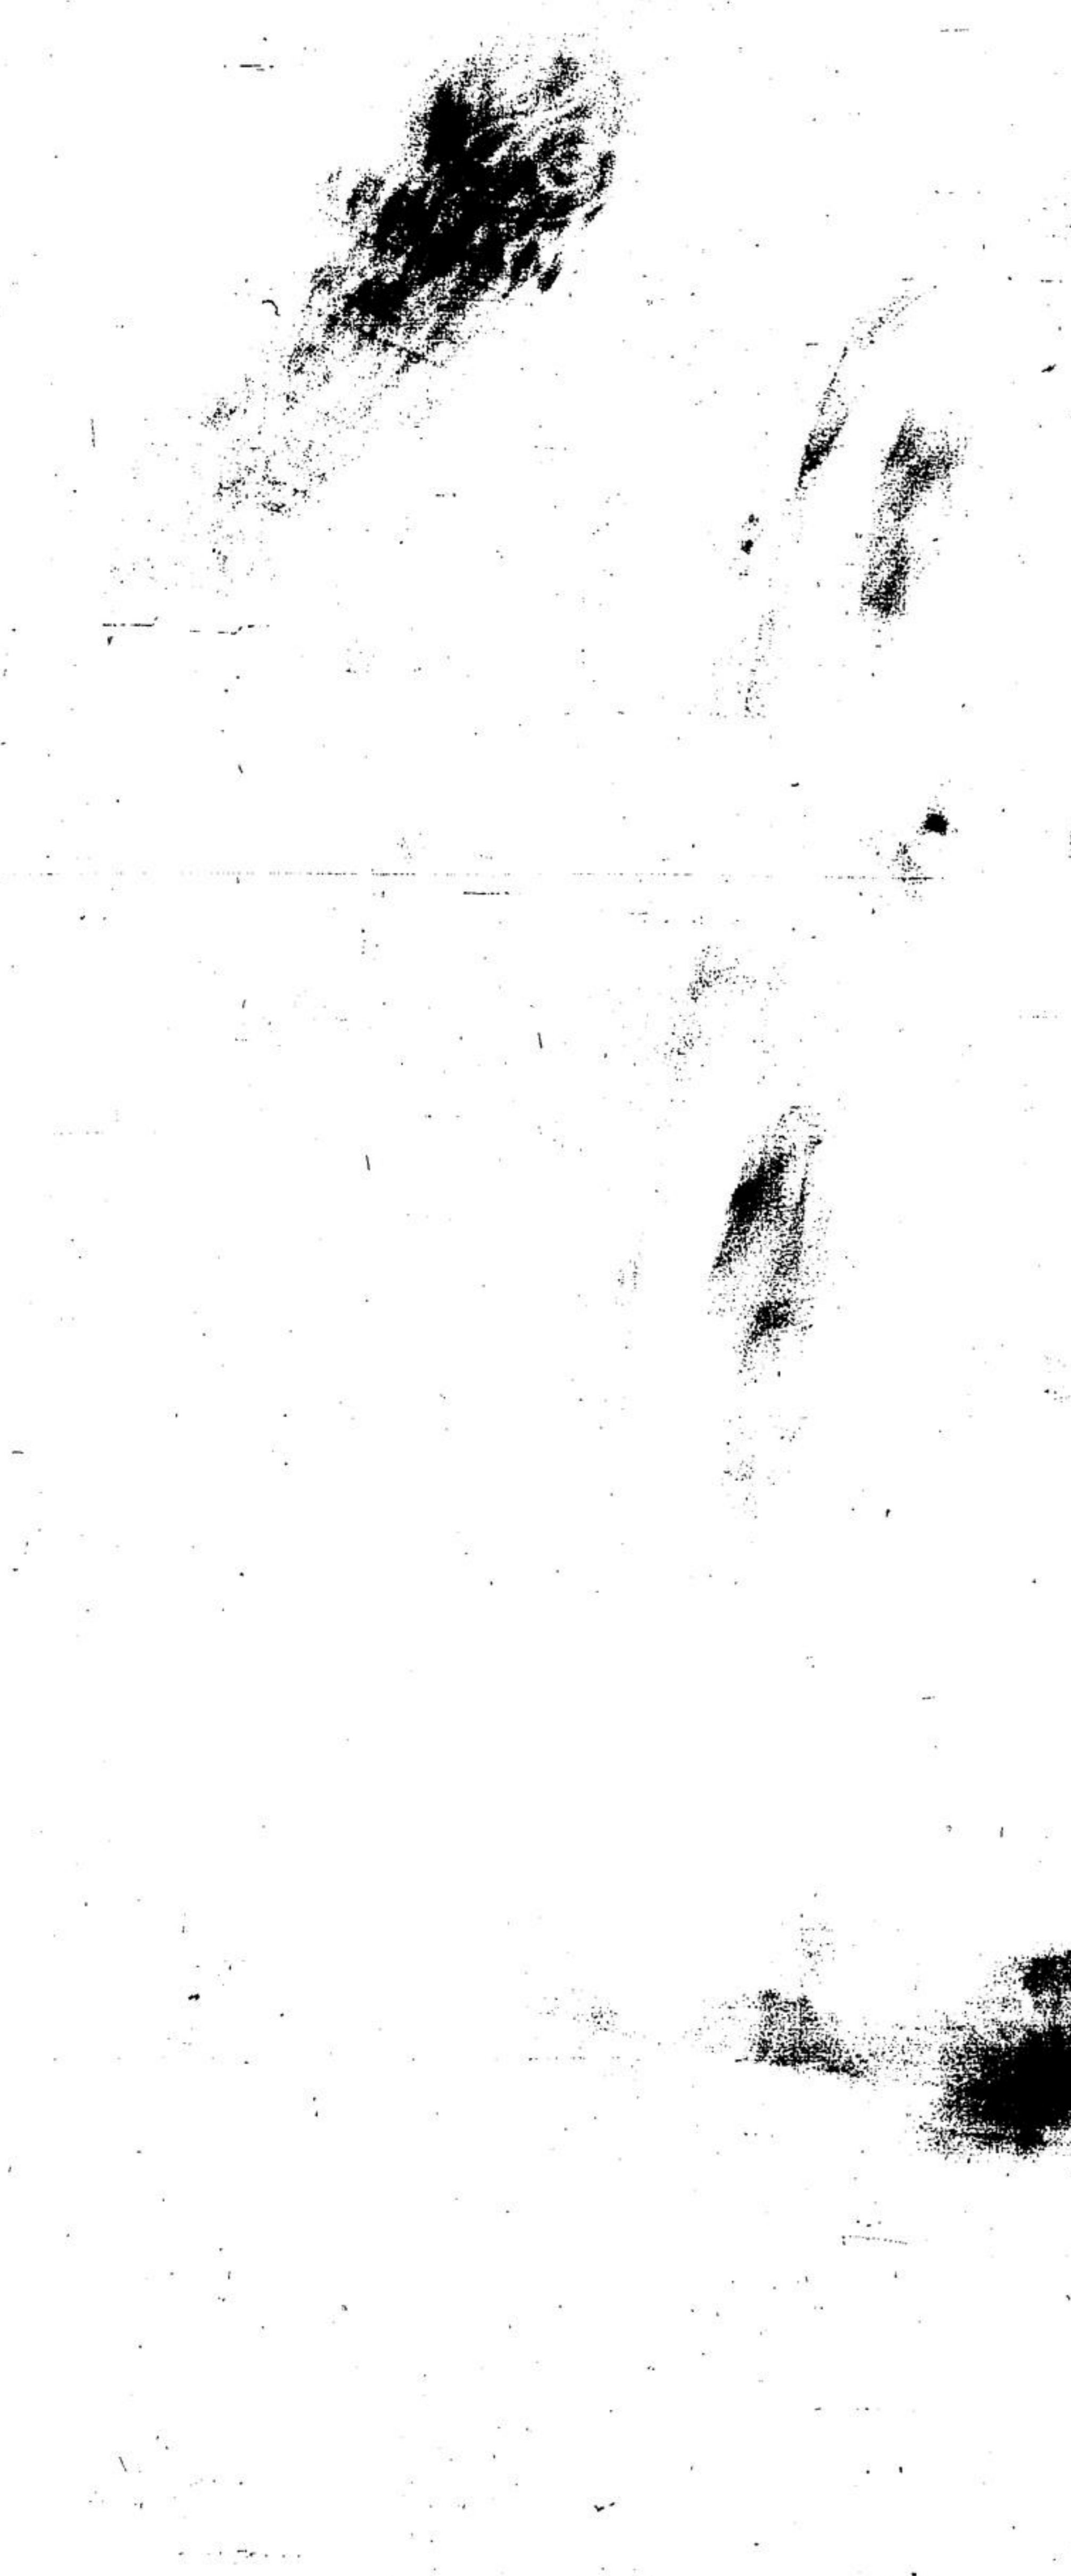

BY THE BRISTOL... Teachers... walk along it

A WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT for Charles McGinn and Garth Taylor is given by Robert Little vice-principal Doug Copeland during a break in Saturday's walk for UNICEF this side of Erin. Students raised over $150. (Staff Photo)

TEA...

TEA...