BELL LINES

by L. G. Denby your telephone manager

Christmas weekend is on its way. With most of us enjoying a three or four day holiday, family gatherings will be possible since people will have time to travel home for Christmas. And much of that travel will be by auto. So, just a word of caution... remember that sleet, ice, snow-rutted roads often make winter driving hazardous. These few reminders, recommended by many experienced drivers, if heeded, will help to make your Christmas holiday trip both safe and pleasant. Keep your car in top mechanical order. Observe all the laws and be courteous and alert. Use snow tires or chains on ice and packed snow. Drive smoothly, avoiding sudden starts, stops and abrupt turns. Keep more than the usual distance between your car and the vehicle ahead. "Pump" brakes lightly on icy or wet streets to bring your car to a gradual stop. If you should skid, let up on the gas pedal and steer in the same direction as your rear wheels are sliding. Watch for thawing ice - you need twice as much stopping distance on slush as on glare ice. Turn your headlights on low beam during a snow storm or fog. Watch for icy patches on streets and frosty, bridge floors. Keep windows clear and clean. Above all... slow down! Happy and safe travelling.

For those last minute checks on holiday plans, remember your telephone is ready and waiting to help you through these busy days. Whether it's a call to a neighbor to check up on Junior's whereabouts to the store to quickly order a forgotten item, or to out-of-town relatives or friends to make final plans for the holiday, your telephone can ease the rushing about during these last few days. In fact, it's almost as good as having an errand boy at your beck and call 24 hours a day.

Canadians fortunate enough to have visited Expo 67 this past summer heard languages from every corner of the globe. Not only in the fascinating national pavilions, but along the walkways of Expo grounds, the different tongues added to the international atmosphere. I thought it might be interesting to discover how the telephone was answered in some of the different countries. Our "Hello" comes from the High German "Holla" which apparently was originally a command for a horse or dog. It's completely replaced "Ahoy", the first telephone greeting. Today's German answers with "Wer spricht?" - "Who speaks?" while "God dag" - "Good day" provides the opening gambit in Sweden. The Spanish "Diga" - "Talk" comes straight to the point, and the ever tactful Frenchman commences with "J'écoute" - "I am listening". The Russians answer with "Slushayu" meaning "Listening". In Britain, the telephone is usually answered by repeating the telephone number. However, if you're answering a business call, the name of your firm and your own name provides the best response for the caller.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
