Let's Play Bridge

by bill coats

I probably shouldn't write about this hand. Anytime a bad bid gets a good result you should forget about it. It would still be a bad bid. On this hand South made the wrong call but came up smelling like a rose. This occurred last week at the Acton Bridge Club.

Hornets dazzle Raiders Jets, Orioles split

Hornets really put the bite on the Raiders in the Industrial league opener Sunday night when they captured a 12-3 win. Hornets tallied eight of their scores in the last stanza and two more in the first and second periods. Dan Arbie and Stu McDonald opened for the Hornets in the first period with an assist piece going to Ken Tuck, Ritch Gordon and Glen Holmes. Dave Wilson scored for the Raiders from Bill Oon to close out the first. Oon tallied up the Raider scoring in the second stanza with a pair of markers and Ken Tuck and Gord Van Gils took the assists. Hornets took complete control of the game from here on in. Ruddy Holmes slugged in three quick markers from McDonald, Arbie and Gordon. Remaining Hornet tally came from Stu McDonald, Ritch Gordon, Dave Papillon, Steve Goy and a pair from Dan Arbie. Ken Tuck served a Raider tripping penalty, penalized by officials Rob Schmidt and Al Mc Nab. Orioles and Jets battled to a 3-3 tie in the second half of the

Novices down Hespeler lose 1-0 to Bramalea

Novice coach Barry Incoe was bursting with praise for his L.G.A. club Sunday night despite losing a marginal 1-0 decision to Chingoussou a few hours before. "We had from 50 to 55 per cent of the play but just couldn't seem to score," said Barry. The Acton club had only 10 players dressed against the Bramalea based club. Every player gave 100% and he pulled his goalkeeper in the last minute but couldn't break even. The club was further hampered when Joe Kentner was hurt in the ankle. The loss came right on the heels of a 4-1 win over Hespeler Friday when the Acton team scored two goals in the first 40 seconds. Again only 10 players in harness but every player did his best against the three Hespeler lines. Gerald Bardon drilled a pair of goals for the Acton team, Russ Van Fleet and Kent Kentner scored one each. The last scheduled game for the Novice grocers will put them against Guelph A's. Then it will be play-offs.

Legion dinner draws 170 to hall Saturday

About 170 enjoyed the annual Legion dinner Saturday in the Legion. The annual event is characterized by a good meal and good fellowship, with jokes replacing speeches. Head table guests were president Gord James, vice-president Barney Ennest, Max Storey representing all the past presidents, past commander Bill Shields, past: Rev. A.H. McKenzie, Mayor Les Daly, Corp. Ray Mason and representative of the mayor of ceremonies for the short program. Mr. James when he spoke briefly mentioned the branch's hopes for renovations to the building this coming year. Willy Kay James, the Legion Ladies' president, accepted the thanks for the dinner and announced her group has just purchased new upholstered chairs and tables for use in the upstairs hall. This continues the Auxiliary's long tradition of donation to the branch, with much of their proceeds from catering.
