New shop filled for wig show

Milady Hairstyling shop was filled to capacity with 80 interested women - and a couple of conspicuous gentlemen - Monday evening for a unique wig display and facial demonstration. Attractive members of the audience were used as models to show the many possibilities of wigs, falls and hairpieces to the keen interest of their friends.

A hairdresser from Hamilton, Margaret Charters, presided for the wig demonstration and a salesman Jim Parsons was one of the few men at the gathering. For Mrs. Pat Kentner, Mrs. Charters added a black fall to her glossy black hair, and swirled it in different ways to give completely different effects.

A hairpiece on the light hair of attractive young Frances Higgins was simply swirled at the back for daytime, and then put into charming curls for evening wear.

For another example, Mrs. Barbara McMullen made a complete switch when the stylist topped her blond hair with a long dark full wig.

The hair pieces shown were all made of human hair, the demonstrator explained. Mrs. Vivian Shaw of Acton talked about the Holiday Magic preparations, and a facial demonstration was given to Frances Higgins.

In a draw for those in attendance, Mrs. R. Arbie won a free facial and Carol Byes of Port Credit won cosmetics.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to all the visitors.

Co-owners of the shop are John and Anna Coniglio, who moved with lively little daughter Rosemary to the apartment above their shop and opened their business last October. They are located in the former Baxtor's drug store on Mill St.

Nominations, budget passed United Church annual meeting

Rev. Gordon Turner, on crutches and with his foot in a bulky cast, returned to his duties at Trinity United Church Sunday evening to conduct the annual meeting. Injured in a skiing mishap, he has been in hospital and recuperating at home.

That morning Allan Lauder conducted the service for Mr. Turner but he expects to be back in the pulpit this Sunday - sitting down.

Nine - page reports of all church organizations and budget estimates had been mailed to members of the congregation before the meeting.

Mr. Turner, minister for the past six months, chaired the meeting and George Bowman was named secretary.

Miss Dorothy Simmons was elected a new member of the session and those re-elected were Mrs. A. Long, G.W. McKenzie, William Morrison and John Bousfield. To bring their number up from 24 elders to 28, the session will name four more members.

New members of the board of stewards are Blair Bender, Douglas Copeland, Robert Laughlin, Mrs. Nan Reed and Mrs. Lorraine Shields. They will serve for a three year term. Returned for a two year term are L. Slingerland and Jack Talton. Mr. Talton will continue as chairman. John Allan and Clarence Rogavaldson will again act as auditors.

Bill Coats voiced the congregation's appreciation to Mr. Turner, pointing out to those present that the minister has spent considerable time with those in need, on the congregation's behalf.

Orwell Johnston specially thanked organist Dr. George Elliott and caretaker Gordon Lambert, while Mrs. A. Long thanked Fawcett Eaton and Allan Lauder for taking services while Mr. Turner was in hospital.

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Turner by Mrs. Johnston, as she was thanked for her co-operation.

Mr. Turner had praise for the Sunday School staff and those involved in various aspects of church work.

The church has 459 members, 70 of them non-resident. There are actually 204 households - amounting to 950 people - involved in some way with the church. The Sunday school has an enrolment of 145, the church's mid-week youth groups draw 60 and the U.C.W. membership is 75. During 1967 there were four baptisms, 12 marriages and 13 funerals conducted.

The budget accepted at the meeting totalled $25,810, some of which is received from Churchill church where Mr. Turner also takes services.

Mr. Turner expressed his hopes for a senior citizens' meeting room in the church and for the formation of a Young Couples group this year.

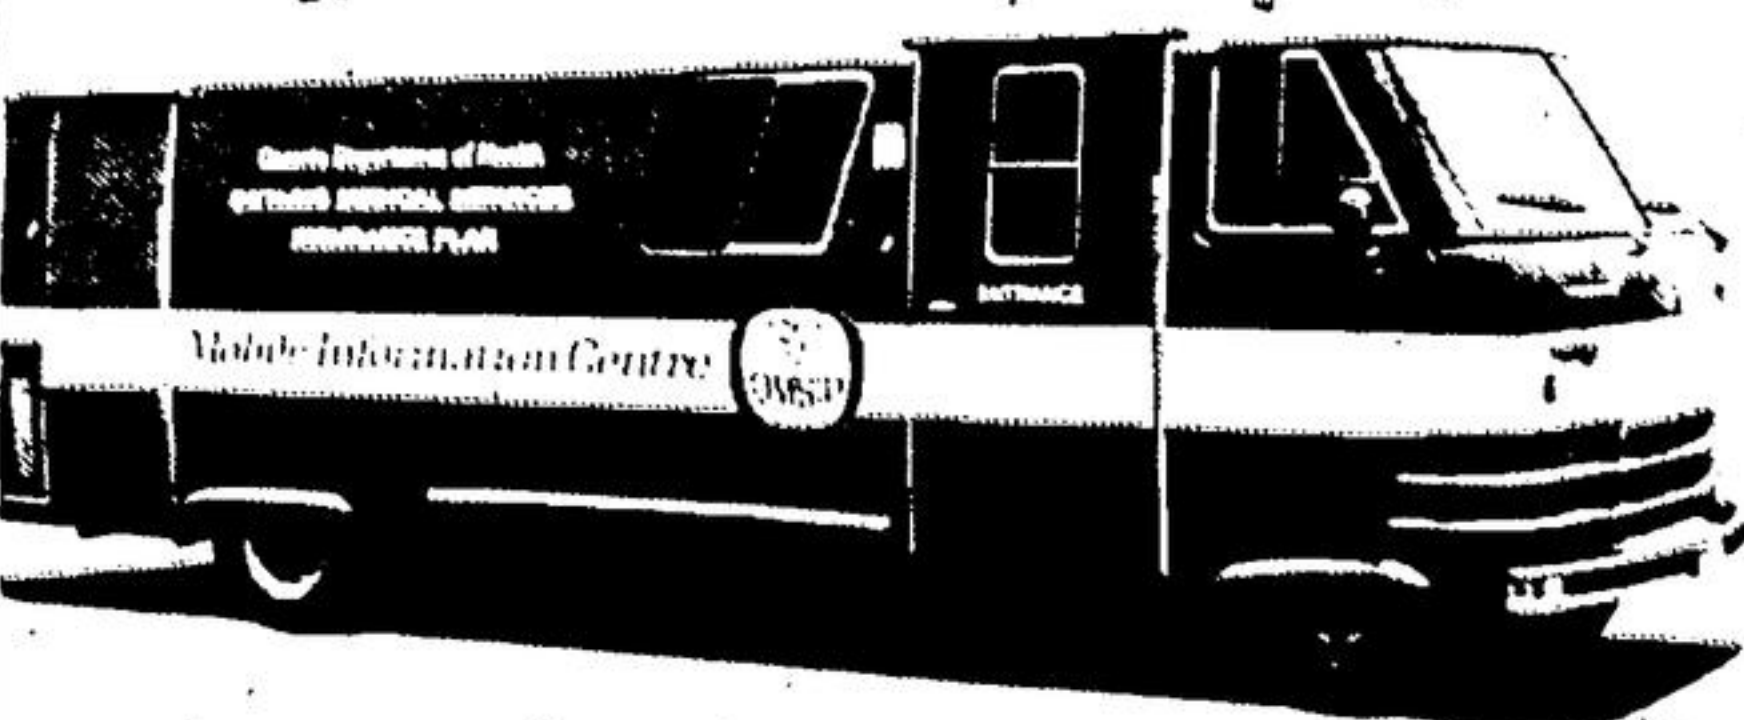

Concern was expressed by Sunday School superintendent Hugh Patterson that more children are not attending Sunday School. He said he would like to hear of any suggestions that would bring the children out.

About 40 attended the annual meeting, changed to a Sunday evening to encourage attendance. Coffee was served afterwards.

"LASSIE'S GREAT ADVENTURE"

Flowers of Hope funds for retarded residence

Limehouse Women's Institute held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Joan Anderson with Mrs. Frank Brown presiding.

The meeting opened with the Mary Stewart collect and roll call, Do you remember when? Minutes were read and approved and treasurer's report given.

It was decided to donate 25¢ per member each year for five years to the McDonald Institute for the Mentally Retarded. An invitation was read inviting W.L. members to Banockburn W.L.'s 50th anniversary in March.

Mrs. Noble reported 10 Christmas cheer boxes were delivered at Christmas time, thank you notes were read. Mrs. Karh is to be 4-H club leader with Marilyn Kirkwood as assistant. The project features fruit.

Topic for the meeting was a display of antiques or old text books, with some of their history - Mrs. Kirkpatrick had some very interesting old text books.

Mrs. Sanford had current events. The motto a good deed is a better memorial than a stone, was well prepared by Mrs. Elterby and read by Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Anderson served lunch and a short social time was enjoyed.

Old text books shown at Limehouse meeting

An executive meeting of the North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded was held at the Sunshine School on Wednesday, February 7. William Ferguson, president of the Association, received reports from the committee chairmen.

The workshop reported a flooded basement, as numerous other places did, during the recent thaw.

According to research reports, doctors are presently working towards prevention of retardation, as well as the cases. Each of the three auxiliaries of Milton, Georgetown and Acton outlined their planned activities for the coming year, which they hope will be supported by the public to enable them to assist the Association.

The Flowers of Hope Campaign will come in the Spring. Last year's donations were used to renovate a building which is now the H.O.P.E. workshop. This year's donations from the Flowers of Hope Fund will be directed towards the building of a residence for retardates. If available, the Association could place a number of retardates at the present time.

Regretting about yesterday and fretting about tomorrow will not get us anywhere today.
