Feb. 17: Well bowlers, this coming weekend will mark the windup for the Zone Finals of the 4 Steps to Stardom. There may be some of us who will succeed and advance on to the third step, the Provincial Finals and of course others will not. However, no matter what the outcome, everyone who was fortunate to participate, really enjoyed it.

Our thanks go out to our Chief Supervisor, Ivy Martin and her capable assistants and coaches, Steve Blanchard, Earle Middleton, Tinnie Masales, Mary Anderson, Sylvia Magos, Marg Middleton and Dave Pink for their time and assistance. Also a big "thank you" to our volunteer car drivers, Joan and Bill Knight and Jans Laustson whose services were greatly appreciated. Of course, as always, hovering in the background is Ken "Smiley" Hulford.

A friendly reminder to our Junior Girls' Doubles and Singles, our Senior Girls' and Boys' Doubles and the Senior Girl and Boy Singles, that we meet at the Bowling Lanes at 10:30 a.m.

Headpin Hilites
Don't know what it is with the Blue Springs Nursery league but the unengaged gals do not stay that way long. Anne McCabe is the latest one to flash a sparkling diamond on that all-important left-hand finger. Congrats -- Donna Manes was the winner in the Acton Ladies' weekly draw. This week it was based on a hidden score -- in the Major League weekly sweepstakes, Pote Homer with a 785 triple and Dee DeForest with a 323 single were the winners -- so far in the 4 Steps to Stardom with thirteen bowling houses from Georgetown, Bramalea, Guolph, Oakville, Clarkson, Galt, Streetsville, Port Credit and Acton participating. The Acton Y.B.C.'ers have not had too much success. Our best shot came last Sunday at Bramalea Bowl in the Junior Boys' Singles when Dave Pink finished second to Dave Broadhead from Sportsmen Bowl in Guolph. Dave stayed close to the Guolph bowl or all the way but couldn't quite catch him. Maybe in the windup at Galt this Saturday we might have a winner or winners. That winds it up again my friendlies, so adio amigos and goodnight Daily City.

Fire prevention wins Halton Bureau award

An "outstanding year-round fire prevention campaign" has earned the Halton County Fire Prevention Bureau another special recognition certificate in the National Fire Protection Association's annual contest.

The Halton bureau and another county-wide fire prevention group in Renfrew County were awarded certificates in the 1967 competition. It was announced Friday. There were 275 Canadian municipal fire prevention organizations, fire departments and industrial fire safety groups entered in the various population categories of the contest.

A 188-page scrapbook compiled by H.C.F.P.B. public relations officer Roy Downs was the Bureau's entry in the contest. It contained samples of literature and teaching aids, photos and press clippings, minutes of meetings, copies of press releases and a detailed explanation of the 1967 activities of the Bureau and its member fire departments in Oakville, Burlington, Milton, Acton and Georgetown.

A scrapbook entry by Milton Fire Department was also a winner this year. It was placed third for Ontario in the 5,000 to 10,000 population division, and received an honorable mention in all-Canada competition. Oakville Fire Department also entered a scrapbook which was awarded an honorable mention for Ontario communities in the 25,000 to 100,000 population class.

Certificates will be presented to officials of the Bureau, the Oakville and Milton brigades at a banquet in Milton in April. A representative of the Ontario Fire Marshal's office will be on hand to make the presentation.
