Carriage House ball opens county centennial project

The contennial carriage house at Halton county museum will be couned with a unique flourish. A gala costume ball is being arranged for Saturday evening, June 15. The just-finished building, fifth in the county museum complex, is the centennial project of Halton county. Before the heavy farm implements and bulky carriages are moved into the new building, it'll ring to the sounds of music. An orchestra will play for dancers who!Il be seated on the ground floor and in the wide gallery circling the hall. Sheriff Andy ball. Frank will be playing for square dancing with Ron Harris as call-

At midnight, a full buffet dinner will be served.

Maj. H. J. Newman, the museum's imaginative director, promises unusual decor for the ball. He hopes all the ladies who had centehnial costumes last year will wear them again to add authenticity to his setting.

A bridge is being built between the new carriage house and the museum main building, the original barn on the Alexander farm in Kelso conservation area.

For almost everyone at the ball, it'll be the first glimpse of the county contennial project. The building has just been completed and after a few minor adjustments are made, it will be turned over to the county museum board just in time for the inaugural

The dance is open to the public with tickets on sale.

On the ball committee of the museum board with Ron Harris, Milton, chairman, are Mrs. Joan Barber, Georgetown; Mrs. Ann McArthur, Milton; Mrs. Kay Dills Acton; Ralph Wakely, Oakville, with the museum staff.

Ask O.W.R.C. to study Glen sewer system

Esquesing council will ask the Ontario Water Resources Commission to conduct a study of Glen Williams to decide on the feasibility of installing a sea itary sewer system there and some suitable type of sewage disposal system.

Council had been approached by S. Penrice of Beaumont Knitting Milis at a previous meeting to discuss disposal of sewage in the Glen. A further meeting was arranged but results have not been made public.

Apparently the O.W.R.C. is carrying out plans to free the Credit River from pollution from the headwater to Lake Ontario.

First candidate for county board

The first candidate to announce his intention to stand for election to the new Halton County Board of Education is Ernest Forgrave. presently business-administrator for Georgetown District High

Mr. Forgrave has been secretary-treasurer of the Georgetown board since 1962, following a two-year period of part-time service in the capacity.

He is also a former chairman of the North Halton High School District Board, of which he was a member from 1955 to 1959.

A clause setting the minimum of 2,000 square feet for new houses in an agricultural zone caused many objections at the March 26 O.M.B. hearing in the Brookville Hall, but was passed without revision or alterations. The by-law is a step toward implementing the township's official plan and will allow the township committee of adjustment to make decisions on minor variances. Up to now they had to go by the book.

The by-law includes setbacks for quarrying as well as a curb on poor housing planning.
