

INSIGHT ACTON

Acton's core, with the Mill St. business section bisecting the town is the area where early settlers first put down roots. (Staff Photo)

... BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

New development in the east end of Acton is centred around Glenlea subdivision. Churchill Rd., right, acts as a boundary between town and township, while the C.N.R. tracks separates this end of Acton from the older section. (Staff Photo)

View from the air coming in from the south end of Acton shows the Beardmore and Co. plant and Acton Industrial Centre. Storage ponds for industrial waste take up much of the land. (Staff Photo)
