It is too soon to predict the changes but you can be sure there will be some new faces on Nassagaweya Council after the Dec. 2 election. The new faces will be replacing those of at least two men who have been there zince 1960 and 1961.

After eight years on council William Coulter has given his notice of retirement from Council and Councillor Ross Gordon will not be eligible to run this year as he has moved from Nassagaweya and is now a resident of Guelph.

Mr. Gordon joined council one year after Mr. Coulter. Deputy Reeve William Hoey has declared himself as an aspirant for the reeve's chair.

Gus Goutouski has made his decision to run for a council seat. Mr. Goutouski was unsuccessful in a previous Neither Councillor Mrs. Ann MacArthur nor William Mahon have made their intentions known. Nomination night is Nov. 18 and the election is Dec.
