Hallowe'en pranks for U.N.I.C.E.F. pennies

Acton's total contribution to U.N.I.C.E.F. should be bigger than ever this year when all the figures are totalled.

Final collection for penny boxes on Hallowe'en night in both Robert Little and M. Z. Bennett schools is $312.67.

Window washers on the main street, the morning after, scrubbed in another $45.50. They were members of Mr. Batkin's grades seven and six from Robert Little.

Added to this will be the $70 earned by Miss Brajda's grade four bake sale, the money collected in Mrs. Sandord's grade seven fun fair, not to mention the walkathon and the various other projects.

So you don't believe in UFO's, eh.

Trick or treat? Well, a treat of course.

How about a Chinese coolie in lace pantaloons and a paper rose.

EQUIPPED WITH PAILS AND SPONGE-MOPS David Morris and Byron Timbers took the modern approach to scrubbing off soap on down-town shop windows. (Staff Photo)
