Location very important for Senior Citizen Housing

The cold weather and the busy season helped to lower the usual good attendance at the regular Golden Age Club meeting.

Although the attendance was somewhat disappointing the program was one of the best.

Miss Marilyn Cripps played a couple of lovely instrumentals on the piano. Jimmy Ellis, a young beginner of ten years, showed good promise on his accordion. His first piece, was shaken a bit but he bravely conquered his nervousness to finish up his part in good style, and was given a good hand of appreciation and encouragement.

Rotarians impressed with parks program

Area manager Harold Townsley was guest speaker at the regular meeting of Acton Rotary Tuesday night, to outline plans and costs of the town recreational program.

Mr. Townsley told the group of the proposed green belt to be constructed through town from the Pioneer cemetery along school creek, and mentioned the possibility of having an amphitheatre overlooking Fairy Lake.

He confessed that his immediate aim in coming to the meeting was to look for donations toward barbecue pits to be installed by picnic tables in the parks. Rotarians were impressed with the program and asked for a detailed list of requirements for further consideration.

A highlight in the evening came when member Chris Larsen announced the birth of a new son and handed out cigars to celebrate. Twenty members attended.

Clohecy, Priestner get seats on board

The interests of Separate School supporters in Halton will be voiced on the new Halton County Board of Education by two representatives chosen from the county at large in Monday evening's election.

Of the four candidates, Hubert Clohecy, William Priestner and Hugh Henderson were from Burlington; and Kenneth Walsh was a resident of Oakville.

Victors were Clohecy with 1,247 votes and Priestner with 1,710.

Henderson accumulated 992 favorable ballots, while Walsh was awarded 978.

varied pictures she had taken on a trip to England last spring. Many were of historical interest such as those of Westminster Abbey, some shots of royalty, changing of the guards, etc. Miss Coles gave her humorous commentary in a clear, carrying voice, essential to the enjoyment of pictures like these.

Mayor Duby was present to talk on the senior citizens housing projects. He left the audience with mixed feelings—hopes of a building possible in the future and dissatisfaction that a site convenient to churches, stores, post office and bus stop was hard to procure.

It is hoped that council will bear in mind that many senior citizens are not capable of long walks, nor climbing up and down hills, and that Old Age pensions do not allow much for taxi fares. Yet these folk still want to, and have to, get out and about.

Plans for the annual dinner, Dec. 3, were finalized. Mrs. Finimore held the lucky ticket on the pretty apron; Jimmy Ellis drew the ticket.

A nice lunch and social chat wound up a pleasant evening.

Day's pay for projects

Members of the United church are participating in a unique project called R.S.V.P.—Respond by Sharing in a Variety of Projects.

It involves the giving of a full day's pay to the general council of the church at Kingston, which is allocated for projects overseas.

The goal of the campaign $1,750,000. The official board of the local church endorsed the proposal and the Rev. Gordon Turner is very pleased with the cheques coming in already.

Sample projects: $50,000 to drought relief in Korea; $25,000 for family planning in India and Taiwan; and $29,000 for the establishment and maintenance of secondary schools in the Congo.

Must register snow vehicles

All motorized snow vehicles registered with motorcycle plates, etc. should immediately be registered under the new Motorized Snow Vehicles Act, the Department of Transport rules.

This means motorcycle plates on machines must be changed over immediately to the new snow vehicle plates.

These, of course, must be mounted on the front of the vehicles.

Pension plan lowers age

Canada Pension Plan retirement pensions will be paid at age 66 in 1969, a year younger than in 1968.

Reminding contributors to the plan of the reduction in pensionable age, Health and Welfare Minister John Munro pointed out that retirement pensions must be applied for, payment is not automatic.

Application may be made at any of the Canada Pension Plan offices in 38 major centres across Canada or at local offices in smaller centres.

Mr. Munro said, "If you are 66 now, retired, and have been a contributor to the Canada Pension Plan, get in touch with the nearest CPP office at once. If you will become 66 in 1969, application must be made within three months prior to your birthday." For applicants now 66 or more, payment will begin in January, 1969.

Mr. Munro explained that the eligible age for retirement pensions is reduced each year until 1970 when it will be 65. This is consistent with similar age reductions in the minimum eligible age for Old Age Security pensions and the Guaranteed Income Supplement.

People who are 70 or more and who have contributed to the Canada Pension Plan need not be retired to receive a retirement pension, but application must still be made.
