AFTER A BLOW COMES THE BLOWER. If council decided to buy it for town use. The machine demonstrated its ability to fill a truck in two minutes during a run through town on Monday. Many town officials feel it could be the answer to complaints of clogged streets and plowed-in laneways. No decision has been made as yet. —(Staff Photo)

IN SPITE OF IMMENSE snowdrifts blocking the entrance, employees at the H. K. Porter plant were able to dig out. Old Man Winter daubed the building with artistic touches. —(Staff Photo) supported Mr. Priestner who felt the grant structure was inconclusive and there was no likelihood of much growth in the field of special education. Mr. Singleton advocated the figure of 1.3 because the Minister of Education wants to push the idea of special education in the areas where they don't exist. He named the north end of the County as being deficient, and growth in the south, as making it necessary. L. D. Wood, spokesman for the education committee, said the figure of 1.3 was three less than what there would have been under the old structure and two less than recommended. Assistant director Doug Lawless said he supported the figure since there would be no additional appointments until 1972. He felt the board should vote on it as if it were 1971 instead of 1969. Ratios for the appointment of senior officials subject to the approval of the Minister of Education was set as one for every 3,000 students.

Damage slight Monday accident

Damage was slight in a minor accident at 12:30 a.m. Monday morning, police report. A car owned by Dennis Gibbons, 64 Main St. S., parked on the south side of York St., was struck by the car driven by Jack Ridley, 44 Eastern, as he backed out of his driveway. Damage to the Gibbons car amounted to $30 to the left front fender and door, and to the Ridley car $15 to the right rear chrome.

Where there's smoke, there's fire danger. Use your car ash tray — NOT the roadway.
