Fire' destroys barn

A large empty barn on Churchill road was completely destroyed by fire at high noon last Monday.

The roof and four walls were consumed by the time stremen arrived on the scene. Within less than an hour only the stone foundation and a heap of charred rubble remained.

Fire chief Mick Holmes said he suspects children of starting the blaze, although there is no way of knowing for sure. A bessle dog chained inside, perished in the blaze.

The barn was owned by Mrs. R. N. Brown. The insurance had elapsed some time ago.

Open meet tonight to name French advisory committee

French-speaking residents of Halton will meet tonight (Wednesday) in the Martin St. School in Milton to elect four members to an advisory committee to the County Board of Education.

Trustees Tom Watson of Acton, John Noble of Milton and Fred Bidwell of Burlington have been named as the board members of the committee and the citizen members are to be appointed tonight at the 8 p.m.

The committee will study French-language instruction in Halton schools and its establishment follows a request from interested citizens on which the Board must act.

MAX STOREY, Auctioneer,

Council brief tells McKeough keep Halton as regional unit

Following intense and voluminous discussion through council meetings on the evenings of March 3 and 4, Nassagaweys Council completed a submission representing the township's views on Regional Government.

It was included in the brief submitted to Minister of Municipal Affairs Darcy McKeough by a committee of Halton County Council Friday. Following is the complete content of the brief: . The Nassagaweya Township Council submit the following recommendations re the tentative proposal for Regional Government in Peel-Hallon by the Hon. W. Darcy Mckeough. Minister of Municipal Affairs.

1. The present County Government of Halton should be retained. The Township of Nassagaweya is strongly opposed to an amalgamation with the

Dear Sir:

Upon reading a story in the Free Press last week, I am convinced that Acton's now defunct public school board is suffering from an overly inflated

The grape vine has it that 17A Mill St. E. Acton, Oat. before Christmas when they For appointments phone 853-1300 heard about the switch to a county level, the cry was a sorrowful "no more money, we're broke". Hence there were to be no class trips, no special DONALD J. ARMSTRONG, D.C. projects, and no school skating in the arena.

Yet suddenly last week they have a spare $800 to spend on a painting for the wall outside the resource centre, to stand as a monument to their past efforts. Fellows - really!!!

In the first place, $800 appears to be an excessively large figure for a mural of that size. Surely a project organized through the art department in the school would be far less expensive and much more meaningful to the students. And what about M.Z. Bennett

20 Stavebank Rd., Port Credit school? Do they get a mural

If the money must be spent on a gift to posterity I would suggest reference books for those vacant shelves. Mind you, they wouldn't stand out in living color for all to see. One would have to look inside the cover to see the donor's name...not really that glamorous a reminder of that dedicated group who did, after all, invent school in Acton - didn't they?

Sarcastically yours,

Why walk?

Larder Lake, Ont. March 5, 1969

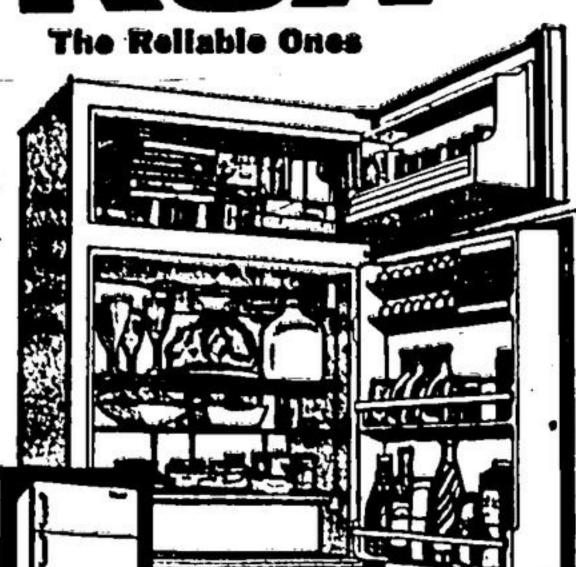

The Acton Free Press, Acton, Ont.

In a local paper, the article Hunger Marchers plan walk for needy in May, while Acton was not listed in the towns and cities, no doubt Acton will be taking part in the demonstration, as in former years. However, I would much rather see the energy and effort put to some worthwhile project, where it would be of some benefit to the municipalities as a whole. There must be some kind of a project that could be undertaken by the people to work at instead of walking the highway which is dangerous being on a weekend, and a headache to the motorist, and I
