

Ramsey-Ramsden wedding

JOAN RAMSDEN AND JOHN RAMSEY were married in Trinity church, Acton by the Rev. Gordon Turner. (John Harrison, Guelph)

Miss Joan K. Ramsden and John D. Ramsey exchanged wedding vows recently at Trinity United Church, Acton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ramsden and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ramsey.

The Rev. Mr. Gordon Turner officiated at the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Miss Betty Ramsey, the bridesmaid Miss Brenda Ramsey and the flower girl Miss Marjorie Ramsey.

Best man was Gordon Ramsden and the ushers were Murray Wallace and Sims McPhedran.

After a reception at the Acton Music Centre the newlyweds left for a short honeymoon trip to Georgian Bay.

Issues warning

The rabies problem is a continuing problem in Ontario as rabies spreads through wild and domestic animals, Halton County Health Unit's medical officer of health Dr. L. M. Stuart noted this week.

"It is of particular importance at this time of year to those who will be vacationing in the resort areas and visiting Provincial Parks where the opportunity to contact wild animals is greatly increased," he said.

It is a wise precaution to avoid any contact with wild animals.

Dainty Thimblers guests at Greenock W.I. meeting

Greenock Dainty Thimblers were guests of Greenock W. I. when they met at the home of Mrs. Elwood Johnston for their June meeting.

The president Mrs. George Wallace welcomed the girls who later on in the evening took part in the program. They were modelling the garments they had made in their latest club, "Separates for Summer."

Each one commented briefly on her garment and also had her record book on display.

Norma Leslie on behalf of the club members presented a lovely cup and saucer each to Miss Elva Pesren and Mrs. Ralph Sinclair in appreciation of their leadership once again.

Miss Elva Pesren called on Mrs. T. Hemaley to accept a gift of Blue Mountain pottery as a farewell gift from her fellow members in the institute.

Mrs. Hemaley thanked all sincerely for the lovely gift and hoped all would accept her invitation to come to her new home for a meeting.

Eleven members answered the roll call.

Minutes were read. Treasurer's report showed a substantial profit from proceeds at a booth held recently.

Mrs. Calvin Aitken gave a good report on the District annual held at Fergus in May.

Mrs. James McCulloch was in charge of the program "Citizenship and Education". Her topic was "The Human Rights Code."

She read an essay she herself had written on "Canada and her People". We should all be very proud to be Canadians where there is no discrimination among white and colored people as in other countries, and we live at peace with our neighbours. Age discrimination in procuring work and wage discrimination among male and female workers were topics also dealt with.

During the week previous the members and families were invited to attend a trolouque on a trip to Moscow, a lecture given by a teacher in the high school in Acton. He had many beautiful slides he had taken and all who attended thoroughly enjoyed it. This had been arranged for by Mrs. James McCulloch.

Institute grace was sung to bring the meeting to a close.

Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by her daughters, also Mrs. C. Aitken and Norma Leslie. The next meeting will be held July at Mrs. C. Aitken's.

17 injured in car-truck crash

Collision between a car and a truck full of farm workers early Sunday morning near Stewarttown resulted in injuries to 17 of the 19 persons involved.

Two ambulances were called to transport the injured to Georgetown Hospital for treatment. Three of the injured were admitted to hospital and 14 others were treated for injuries and released. Just two escaped unhurt.

The truck was driven by Manuel Garcia of 17 Wales Ave., Toronto, and contained the driver and 17 others. The car was driven by William P. McElroy, 124 Prince Charles Dr., Georgetown. Damage to the vehicles totalled $1,000.

TEMPURA

Wash and 1/4-inch dice 2 medium carrots, 2 medium potatoes (if the pieces aren't small enough, they won't cook through). Add 1/2 cup frozen peas and 1/2 tsp. salt. Mash 1 (4 1/2 oz.) can shrimp, crab, or lobster. In large bowl, combine 1 cup plus 2 Tbsp. flour, 4 tsp. baking powder, 3/4 tsp. salt, dash pepper, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. mg. Blend in 3/4 cup water, then 1 large egg. Add vegetables and shrimp. Mix well. Deep fry by spoonfuls at 395 degrees for 5 minutes or until well browned. Serve with a light salad.

One weekend while our husbands were away hunting, Dorothy Allen came over for supper—about eight courses of it, including this. We started with hors d'oeuvres about 8 o'clock, and were still going at it around 11. I don't remember if we ever did get through dessert! We got a lot of talking done, though.

"IT PAYS TO SHOP IN ACTON"

By Wendy Thomson

There aren't too many things that are guaranteed to make me fly into a rage, (a quiet one perhaps, but a rage nevertheless). Being called "the old lady" will do just that.

For some reason or other, that phrase has come to be almost synonymous with "my wife" and is heard fairly frequently. I guess that God hears it so much at work that every now and then it slips out here. Then I hit the roof.

Gord assures me that it is an affectionate nickname, but to me it (along with many others, nowadays) is a belittling and derogatory term. Maybe I'm overly sensitive, but really though, what's wrong with "my wife"?

My parents and my grandparents always addressed each other with affection and courtesy. I can't even imagine my grandfather standing there with his silver-headed cane, very dignified and upright, calling my grandmother "the old lady", "the old battle axe", "my ball and chain" or anything else along that line. I'm sure they'd have both died of mortification on the spot.

And I would refuse to answer if Gord ever called me "mother". Why would any man want to call his wife "mother"? And what would he call his mother if she came to visit?

I hope I don't sound like a real prude. Gord calls me all kinds of names in private, and I don't mind in the least (as long as it's not "the old lady"), but in public I would prefer a little courtesy. I am his wife, proud of it, and hope he is proud to call me "wife".

There used to be a little French-Canadian woman in town, who delighted me when she referred to her husband. She called him by his name, "Ed", not more than half a dozen times in the years that I knew her. It was mostly "my man" with such an expression that you
