Students back to universities, colleges "fabulous" prices at auction sale

By Mrs. R. Shortill
A number of our young folks are entering University this week.

Kathryn Sinclair and Wendy Klatt are enrolling at Waterloo for the Arts Course. Allen Jamieson is returning for the fall semester to continue his engineering course. Terry Curtis is going to Sheridan College for a term. Andy Spiece will begin his third year at Toronto University taking a four year course in Political Economy. Gillian Haynes also will be extending her schooling at University.

All of these young people have our whole-hearted good wishes for the future success in the educational field of their choice.

Mr. Thomas Mack had a very successful auction on Saturday. A long table full of dishes, bells, lamps and oddments kept the auctioneer busy for well onto two hours. Old glassware, pewter and silver realized quite fabulous prices—one small cranberry and silver pickle cruet selling for $90 and bells for as much as $16, as well as oil lamps of good design, with bidders vying with one another for the prize. An organ brought a good price and articles of furniture sold quite well too.

Mr. Roy Hindley attended the sale and discussed old times with his former school mate but refused to take the auction stand.

The church service was in charge of the U.C.W. on Sunday. Mrs. F. J. Shortill led the service. Mrs. Sales and Mrs. Sinclair also taking part. The guest speaker was Mrs. Geggie. The Geggie family belong to our Ballinafad area, their home being on the former Wylie place on the ninth line. We were very pleased to have Mrs. Geggie bring to us her discourse on her text "Let's take a good look at ourselves."

Mr. Fredrick Air and his mother Mrs. Air called on the Shortills on Sunday. Mr. Air owns the 20 acre parcel of land formerly owned by Matt Shortill on the seventh line.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hajar have begun building their new home on the seventh line corner of Peacock Sidewalk. Mr. and Mrs. Hajar Jr. now live in an apartment in Georgetown.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. William Brown. Our sympathy is extended to the Jameson family.

Miss Beatrice Hills, now lives in Georgetown where she has rented an apartment on Mill Street. Mrs. Cutler will go back to her duties in the Sheridan College Cafeteria this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson visited the Clements this week. Mrs. Truman's mother is spending some time with her.
