BRASS BAND of the Lorne Scots paraded and then played an hour-long concert during the first part of the afternoon program at the fair.—(Staff Photo)

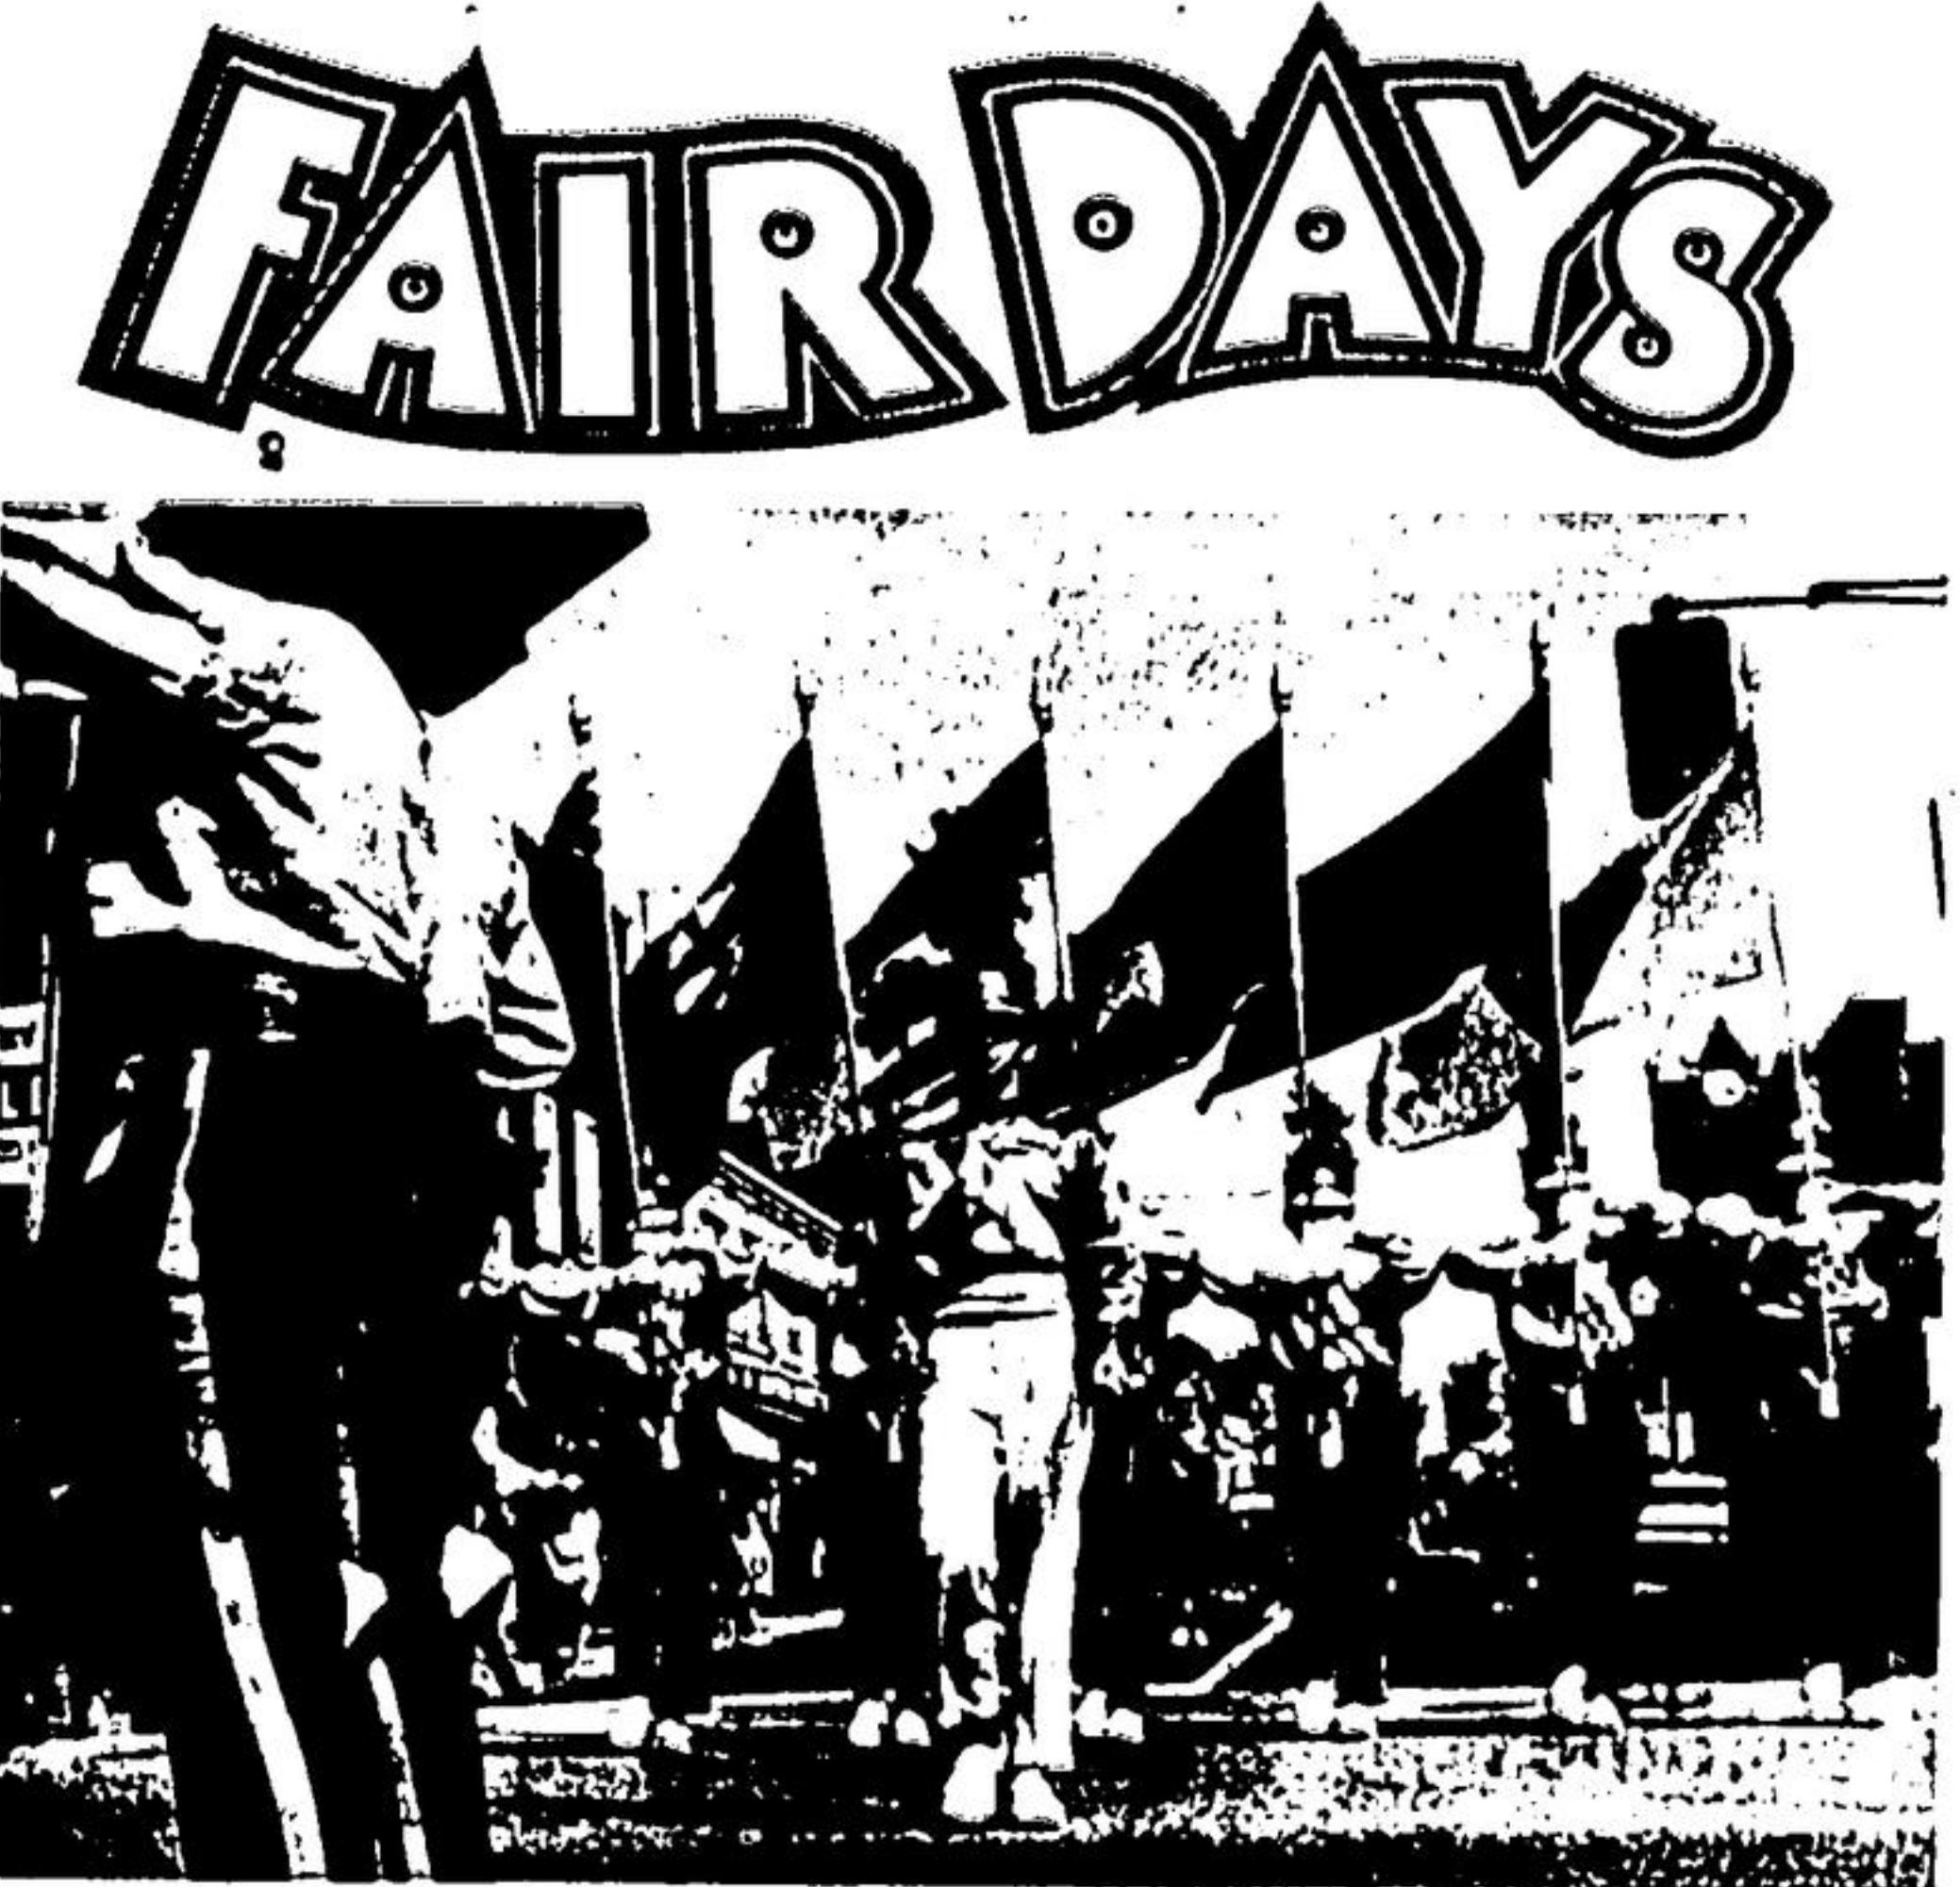

MIDWAY RIDES at the Fall Fair were well patronized and huge lineups formed in front of each ride, as patrons waited their turn.—(Staff Photo)

FAIR DAYS

"WOULD YOU LIKE TO RIDE IN MY BEAUTIFUL BALLOON?" asks balloon vendor Joe Lavigne at Saturday's Fall Fair.—(Staff Photo)

MANY JUNIORS played with Acton Citizens Band for the fair on Friday and Saturday. They led the second section of the parade.—(Staff Photo)

ABRUPT TURN takes the spectacular Opti-Knighs around the Mill-Main corner Saturday afternoon. "Best parade ever," some say.—(Staff Photo)

EVERYONE WASN'T HAPPY at the Fall Fair midway as this photo of the youngster on a tank gun illustrates. His wide-eyed companion is bewildered by attention from the lens.—(Staff Photo)

PRIZE FOR THE BEST FLOAT in the business and commercial section of the Fall Fair Parade went to the Acton School of Dance's entry. Here Joyce Carpenter and Marianne Coles are framed by the lovely lattice work on the float.—(Staff Photo)

ABOUT 100 MEN of the Lorne Scots regiment marched in the military section of the fair parade. The Lorne Scots also sent two bands—(Staff Photo)

NINE YEAR OLD JIM TURNBULL points out the 1000 pound steer he won in the Acton Rotary Club's draw at the Fall Fair. The Rotary Club raised $1,400. for the Boy Scouts, Brownies and Guides.—(Staff Photo).

...VE FINALIST are picked from 13 contestants ...ring an exciting moment in the judging of Miss Acton Fair. They're Anita Thibodeau, Cathy Smith, Margaret Slaven, Kris Houser—and Rosemary Bird. Last year's winsome winner Zenith Armstrong stands at the far left.—(Staff Photo)

ASPECTS OF scout training are depicted on this float which won first prize in the service group category. Scoutmaster Ross Budgell stands over a "badly wounded" Jim Krapek as first aid is administered all along the parade route.—(Staff Photo)

MARCHING TYMPANI with the Guelph Opti-Knights set the pace. (Young mascot in front later got sick and had to go home to Guelph.)—(Staff Photo)