Table with columns for routes, stations, and times. Includes 'HAMILTON NORTH' and 'HAMILTON SOUTH'.

As a time in the history of this country has been a period when the advice contained in the following extract from the columns of a contemporary was more applicable than the present. It is true, the depression it speaks of is not in any way so great as it has been, nor is there any very great amount of distress throughout the country.

It is to be hoped that returning prosperity will have the effect of lessening, even if it does not entirely do away with the swarms of tramps with which the country is infested. The tramp nuisance is something new on this continent, but has suddenly become so troublesome that many of the neighbouring States are adopting legislation which will have the effect of thinning out the ranks of the profession, at least within their borders, and it is a grave question whether in Ontario the evil is not rapidly assuming proportions which also call for strong repressive measures.

The darkest hour is just before the dawn, and in view of the commercial depression and deep distress which have and also elsewhere we are almost unconsciously led to ask ourselves whether this darkest hour has not arrived. But, while hoping this, we must not forget the old adage: 'Hemlock and the maggot, and if the maggot help we must put our shoulder to the wheel. And first, we must avoid all extravagance, and endeavor if we cannot bring our circumstances to our mind, to economize. That the vast spirit of speculation must be put down, and we must bear in mind the saying of our illustrious that while that cannot work with their hands need not be willing for the present at least to work with their hands. A great mistake has been and is made by our young men in considering trade more respectable than farming. A most dangerous one, and one which has done and is doing much to lower our already depressed labor market, and to prevent us from having an unlimited market for what our farms supply. Let our farmers stand, instead of depending on our towns and further lowering our already depressed labor market, and to study the best means of making our land productive. They at least may always look to remunerate for their labor, even if all else that of the farmer is the most independent. We want a system of improvement to go through our farming operations. With as good land as, perhaps, there is in the world these few hours of the day, the farmer should be independent. We want a system of improvement to go through our farming operations.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, rivers and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the miseries of people fall like a curse upon them, and they are discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no reason for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain relief. The proof that God's August Flower will make them so free from disease as when born, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Constipation, Nervous Prostration, Distension of the Head, palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents.
