Birthrate in Canada.

The large birthrate of Prince Edward Island is receiving comment in consequence of the recent repeal of the law which in the Province of Quebec gave two acres of forest land to each man who had twelve children, says American Medicine. The desire to be more populous has led the French-Canadian Government into several schemes, mostly to facilitate immigration, although curiously enough, the flow of population has long been out of Canada into the United States, as though the north were overpopulated. It was this error which informed the Quebec authorities when they again revived their exceptional policy to stimulate the birth rate by rewarding a little long fecundity, and they decreed that the land grant would be the father of such a large family, to be apportioned to his next of kin, should he "die" or not be found after a certain number of years. It was an easy matter formerly for a large family to be divided among the children, but the latest authority has it that the farms, to avoid alienation, were necessary, and the general sop was toward the multiplication of the fatherless. Whether or not Prince Edward Island will be a favorite birthrate, there is no doubt that the death rate among the young has been lessened, because of the greater knowledge nowadays to give the proper care and attention to the infant, so that no matter what the mother-born it will never be possible to bear as many in one family as formerly. It is now recognized that fecundity of population depends solely upon ability to make a living and the only way to increase it is to stimulate the productivity of a country—the present Canadian policy. He who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before, does more than he who brings infants into the world but cannot feed them.

Uncertainty.

Now doth the fretful season dawn
So full of harrowing doubt.
It's much too warm with steam turned on
And much too cold without.

A Stubborn Opening.

The head of the household was going through her husband's pockets the next morning.

"What kept you out so late last night?" she suddenly demanded.

"It was the opening of the campaign, my dear," the lesser half replied.

"Well, it didn't take three o'clock to open it, did it?"

And she threw the offending articles from his side pocket and waved them before him.

Swordless.

"Yes," said the contemplating youth, "I am taking fencing lessons."

"Gee!" answered Farmer Cornstalk. "I allus said you was goin' to turn in an' do somethin' useful. What's you, specially goin' to be—rail, stone or barbed wire?"

Same Old Story.

"Does he pay his alimony promptly?"

"No; he has to be urged and threatened every pay-day, but, then, of course, I got used to that when we were living together."

Pointed Replies.

A North Carolina doctor inclined to be mindful of other people's business was riding along a country road. He drew up where a native was husking corn in a field.

"You are gathering yellow corn," said the doctor.

"Yes, sir; planted that kind," came the reply.

"Won't get more than half a crop," volunteered the physician.

"Yes, sir; planted it on the half shares."

The doctor was somewhat nettled at this and replied:

"You must be mighty nigh a fool."

"Yes, sir; only a fence between us."

He Knew the Law.

A Civil War veteran, several times representative from his own district to the New Hampshire Legislature, and at one time Speaker of the House, had just returned home from a closing session of the legislature, at which, says a writer in the Manchester Union, the law pertaining to the right of way to pedestrians had been passed.

He was crossing the street from his office one day soon after his return, when an electric car came bounding along. The motorman, alive to the danger of the veteran, made frantic efforts to attract his attention, and when they failed, shouted:

"Look out, major! If you don't get off the track I shall run over you."

The major stopped stock-still in the middle of the track.

"If you do, young man, you'll hang for it," he said, firmly.

EARN CASH

In Your Leisure Time

If you could start at once in a business which would add a good round sum to your present earnings—WITHOUT INVESTING A DOLLAR—wouldn't you do it?

Well, we are willing to start you in a profitable business and we don't ask you to put up any kind of a dollar.

Our proposition is this: We will ship you the Chatham Incubator and Brooder, freight prepaid, and

You Pay No Cash Until After 1906 Harvest.

Poultry raising pays.

People who tell you that there is no money in raising chickens have tried to make money in it themselves by using boiling lards or hatchers, and they might as well have tried to locate a gold mine in the garbage patch. The business only benefits the large, energetic hatcheries and breeders who, by catering to the large demand, have established the Chatham Incubator and Brooder, and they do it perfectly and successfully.

The poultry business, properly conducted, pays better than any other business for the amount of time and money invested.

Thousands of poultry raisers—men and women all over Canada and the United States—have proved to their satisfaction that it is profitable to raise chicks with the

CHATHAM INCUBATOR AND BROODER.

"Yours is the first incubator I have used, and I wish to state I had 53 chicks out of 53 eggs. This was my first lot; truly a perfect one; hatch. I am well pleased with my incubator and brooder. Thos. McNAUGHTON, Chilliwack, B.C."

"My first hatch came off. I got 170 lusty chicks from 180 eggs. Who can beat that for the first trial, and so early in the spring. I am well pleased with the incubator. I shall not only get another [illegible] but buy it from me. Every farmer should have a No. 2. Chatham Incubator. E. W. Lemay, Dunnville, Ont."

"The incubator you furnished me works exceedingly well. It is easily operated, and only needs about 10 minutes attention every day. R. McINTYRE, Moose Jaw, Assa."

The Chatham Incubator and Brooder is honestly constructed. There is no humbug about it. Every piece of material is thoroughly tested, the machine is built on right principles, the insulation is perfect, thermometer reliable, and the workmanship the best.

The Chatham Incubator and Brooder is simple as A B C. Scientific in construction—a woman or girl can operate the machine in their leisure moments.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were coming into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Miss Emma Cole

Every positive and unequivocal testimonial to the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should therefore be carefully considered by every girl suffering from any of the ailments peculiar to her sex.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to the use of Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are suffering from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

WEAK TIRED WOMEN

How many women there are that get no refreshment from sleep. They wake in the morning and feel tireder than when they went to bed.

They have a dizzy sensation in the head, the heart palpitates; they are irritable and nervous, weak and worn out, and the lightest household duties during the day seem to be a drag and a burden.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the very remedy that weak, nervous, tired out, sickly women need to restore them the blessings of good health.

They give sound, restful sleep, tone up the nerves, strengthen the heart, and make rich blood. Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., writes: "I was troubled with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and weak spells. I got four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking them I was completely cured.

DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH DISORDERS

MAY BE QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Mr. P. A. Labelle, Montebello, Que., writes us as follows: "Like to thank you for your wonderful cure, Burdock Blood Bitters.

Three years ago I had a very severe attack of Dyspepsia. I tried five of the best doctors I could find but they could do me no good. I was advised by a friend to try Burdock Blood Bitters and to my great surprise, after taking two bottles, I was so perfectly cured that I have not had a sign of Dyspepsia since. I cannot praise it too highly to all sufferers. In my experience it is the best I ever used. Nothing for me like B.B.B.

Don't accept a substitute for Burdock Blood Bitters. There is nothing "just as good."

BACK FROM THE ARCTIC.

First "White" Woman in the Far North—Wife of Major Moodie Tells Her Experiences.

Mrs. Moodie, wife of Major Moodie of the Northwest Mounted Police, was the only woman with the Hudson Bay expedition of the Dominion Government steamship Arctic, of which her husband was commander. She was the only "white" woman ever seen in those regions, and was therefore, regarded by the natives with much curiosity. The party were for nine months frozen in the ice, going in on the 17th October and breaking out on the 4th July, the whole expedition occupying thirteen months.

"We experienced no discomfort whatever," said Mrs. Moodie, speaking of her Arctic tour, "and had a most interesting time. One of course feels, of course, to dress entirely in furs and skins, but there is no danger of being frost-bitten. The thermometer averages 30 below, it is not so very severe, but at times we all the time. Thermometers are also like the Yukon, many of them are pointing more than Canadian. Each year [illegible] Arctic is decreasing rapidly; however, owing to starvation and [illegible] which they would [illegible] the Government, equipped their old whaler, the [illegible] to their aid with food, for the [illegible] of the [illegible] have been visited, and in fact [illegible] when they [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] of not starting their [illegible] adjusting them to play around naked, only [illegible] being necessary for them on the deck of the vessel or [illegible].

"Could not those splendid people be brought down to a more moderate climate, where they would have a chance to live?" Mrs. Moodie was asked.

"Yes, and I think it would be a good thing to do for them not to bring them down to civilization exactly, but along the shores of Hudson's Bay further south. I think the Government will [illegible] that the [illegible] after the expedition has found out about their condition."

Speaking of the country, Mrs. Moodie was enthusiastic over the beauties of the scenery, saying she never saw such rich coloring as there is in the [illegible] though how, amidst of wild snows [illegible] the shores of Ungava Bay. The fishing, too, is excellent, both of salmon and of cod. "They speak of twenty hours' night, but there is really no night, for the twilight lasts so long, the sun [illegible] such a short distance below the horizon and the northern lights are so vivid, that it is always party light, except on stormy nights. There is a great snow and no heavy snowfalls, only a continual light drifting, sort of fine snow, which hardens on the ground and is cut into blocks to build the igloos."

Prefontaine Harbor, to Ungava Bay, is a magnificent land-locked roadstead, nine miles long, capacious enough for the whole British navy to anchor in it. The party thought it well to give it the name of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. They named the promontory at its entrance Cape Laurier, and the island which shields the entrance they called White Island, after Col. White, the leader of their expedition. The party expects to cruise further north, going even to Greenland, next summer.

ALIENS ARE BARRED.

Marriage Licenses Must Now Not Be Sold to Them.

The Provincial Secretary's Department is taking action to prevent the issuing of marriage licenses at from the police in Ontario to persons from the American side, a business which is quite a flourishing one, particularly at Windsor. This follows upon the handing down of an opinion by the Attorney-General that these licenses should not be issued. He based his finding upon sections of clause 17 of the act respecting the solemnization of marriages. These sections provide that the affidavit made personally by one of the parties to the intended marriage, before a license is granted, shall state that one of the parties has resided in this province for the period of not [illegible] days immediately preceding the issue of the license. If the county or district in which it is intended that the marriage shall take place is not that in which either of the parties has resided, as stated, the affidavit must show that the reason for solemnizing the marriage in such place is not in order to evade due publicity or for any other improper purpose.

In effect the ruling of the Attorney-General is that the [illegible] should not be issued to people who are not bona fide residents of the province, and the Provincial Secretary's Department will try to enforce that ruling. Some of the license issuers and some ministers will naturally suffer financially, and those at Windsor to a greater extent than others.
