TRY A CHANGE

Put your hammer in the locker,
Hide the sounding board likewise;
For anyone can be a knocker
And anyone can criticise.
Cultivate a manner winning,
Though it hurts your face to smile,
And seems awkward in beginng—
Be a booster for a while.

CANADA will not only be "dry" on April 1st, but it will be "extra dry," the recent legislation passed by the Dominion Government not only ensuring that Provinces now under prohibitory laws shall be rendered secure from liquor invasions, but expediting the time when the province of Quebec shall no longer be in a position to tempt the appetites of those who apparently cannot deny themselves if there is a possible chance of obtaining intoxicants at any price. As long as alcohol is manufactured there will be attempts to secure it, but once the Dominion prohibitory law against the manufacture as well as importation goes into effect the prospects are really good for a "dry" Canada.

VINOL CREATES STRENGTH

Positive—Convincing Proof

It is all very well to make claims, but can they be proven? We publish the formula of Vinol to prove the statements we make about it.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as published above, combine the very elements needed to make strength.

All weak, run-down, overworked nervous men and women may prove this at our expense.

There is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to feeble old people, delicate children and all persons who need more strength.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection.

HE WANTED ONLY BIG GAME

English Warrior Bravely Describes Numerous Encounters With the Ferocious African Beasts.

Once I was talking with one of those gentleman rankers of the old England, who by this time is probably somewhere in France, for he was always looking for trouble where it was thickest, writes a New York Sun war correspondent. He had been away for about three years in the jungles of Africa at that time and was giving a little account of himself.

Among his frank admissions was the story of holding off a band of Ashantees for six days single-handed, while he kept busy with two rifles and a revolver. Also he had got away with a few tons of illicit ivory in the African jungles and had slain six more bull elephants than the law allows. Incidentally he had shot a lion which was charging him and had a hand-to-hand clinch with a gorilla.

He had done things like that before the ingrum scamp aforesaid. There was nothing at which he ever stopped, being mostly composed of iron nerve and steel muscles. He had a soft, caressing way when he talked and when he dropped back into civilization he continued to wear the wrist watch with its grimy leather band which he had taken with him through so many adventures in the equatorial wilds.

"Bally effeminate," he observed, "this tickbus, eh? Maybe wrong, old man, but deucedly convenient to squint down at and time the two-horned rhino that happens to be charging a chap, eh, what?"

WAR BREAD CAUSES TROUBLE

Said to Be Responsible for Digestive Disorders Which Are Followed by Eruptions.

Reports of illness through eating war bread are being received from all over the country, and the news that Lord Rhondda has instituted an inquiry into the cause will come as a relief to many, says the Dundee Advertiser.

The bread is said to have given rise to digestive troubles and then eruptions in many districts. This is said to be due to the fact that some bakers are using imported flour, which contains beans and rice—ingredients which are quite unfit for breadmaking. The inclusion of the germ sets free a large percentage of fat which is unsuitable for weak digestions. Then, of course, regulation flour does not possess the keeping properties which wheaten flour does, and this fact again gives rise to disorders.

The gray loaf can never be as palatable as the white one, but it can be made equally digestible and nourishing if the necessary precautions are taken. Still, our bread of today, with all its defects, is not as bad as that which the Parisians had to satisfy their hunger at the time of the siege of Paris, when a quantity of straw was mixed with the flour in order to help eke out the supplies of grain.

Coons and Turkeys.

They are hunting coons in Massachusetts and eating them. They are said to be a fine substitute for turkey—more than a substitute, better. That is all right—they can eat them. Our Pilgrim Fathers can eat all the coon they want. We will take a second helping to turkey, declares a writer in the Columbus State Journal. We try to imagine the entrails of coon. We can't do it any more than we can think of eating cat. But hunting coons is different. Here is the process: Take an automobile. Put in guns, dogs, and a companion or two, and then, when far into the country and near a forest, unloose the dogs and send them into the woods. Soon they start to barking vigorously and there is a coon. The papers tell of one party of four starting out after dark, returning at aildnight with nine coons. That couldn't be done in Ohio, which is not a primitive state, like Massachusetts. Our coon crop is gone. We are sorry. The coon is a fine animal for coon, but not for meat. John Alden and his merry men are welcome to it.

Gear Wheels Made of Cotton.

Gears are now being made of ordinary cotton which outwears—those made from the finest steel. It seems incredible, but it is true, says Popular Science Monthly.

The very hardness of the metal gears causes the teeth surfaces to scrape over each other when they mesh, producing hideous screeches and groans. Everyone of these scrapings means a certain amount of wear.

Teeth made out of compressed cotton yield. They are, therefore, noiseless. Compressed with the metal gears, they are indestructible. To make these fiber gears a large cylinder built up of cotton disks is compressed to but one-sixteenth of its former length!

Cold Comfort.

"I was arguing with a fellow about politics the other day and I'm blest if he didn't advise me to consult an alienist!" exclaimed the contentious man.

"Well! Well!"

"I suppose he thought that a fine piece of sarcasm?"

"Oh, I don't know. Maybe he meant it."

Always Unusual.

"How do you account for the remarkable weather."

"Haven't tried. To be perfectly frank, I don't believe I recall more than a few months in the past ten or fifteen years when the weather wasn't being described as remarkable."

SPRING WHEAT SEED for Ontario

The world demand for wheat in 1918 justifies the greatest possible effort towards increased production. The small acreages of Fall Wheat put in last fall will mean increased acreage in Ontario available for spring wheat. The Ontario Government is co-operating with the farmers in order to provide seed. It has purchased 50,000 bushels of No. 1 Marquis Spring Wheat Seed through the Seed Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture. More will be purchased if necessary to fill needs.

DISTRIBUTION—Seed is sold only in 2 bushel bags. Carloads will be placed at certain points in the Province where less than carload orders can be filled, the purchaser paying local freight from such distributing point to his own station. Where Farmers' Clubs or other organizations bring in carload lots, the price at their local stations will be the same as at distributing points.

WHERE TO BUY—Purchases may be made either in the warehouse at the distributing points, or orders may be placed with the nearest District Representative of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, or they may be sent direct by mail to the Markets Branch, Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

PAY IN CASH—Price is $2.74 per bushel at all Local Stations. In all cases, without exception, cash must accompany order. Send remittance by marked check, postal note, post office or express money order made payable to Ontario Department of Agriculture, Markets Branch.

ORDER EARLY—In the event of the requirements of the Province being underestimated, there may not be enough seed to go around. It is advisable in order to insure having their orders filled that purchasers should place orders as soon as possible. All orders are subject to confirmation and will be filled in the order received. As seed is delivered in 2—bushel bags, order should be for even number of bushels, and no order for less than 2 bushels can be accepted.

"PUNKIN" PIE IS BEST OF ALL

Man's Mouth Still Waters When He Thinks of the Kind That Mother Used to Make.

To a man still young enough to remember sufficiently far back into his boyhood years to the time when he had never had enough dessert in his life, there is no word in the English language so suggestive of toothsome, lickerish joy as pie, plain pie—particularly "punkin."

You can't spell punkin pie with an "m" and a "p," declares a writer in the Milwaukee Journal. Pumpkin pie is the kind one gets in restaurants, flavored with cloves and allspice. "Punkin" pie has cinnamon and ginger in it, and sometimes a hint of an unmentionable heady fluid about which one would not dare ask mother. And of all the smacking, ambrosial delicacies catalogued under the genus "pie," the best is "punkin."

There are other kinds, of course—apple, peach, cherry, squash, blueberry, custard, lemon, mince—and every one probably has its value in the world. Some people even may prefer them. One never can account for different persons' tastes. But for boys, young men and elderly men whose stomachs have not yet grown old, there is none that will approach "punkin," the kind-colored queen of pastries.

One grows hungry at the thought of "punkin" pie—the crisp, crinkly crust; the thick, rich pungent filling, with the dust of cinnamon tarnishing its tawny top; the creamy, dreamy, velvety, far-away taste as one's mouth closes on its prize. Some appetizing joys there are, but none that exceeds capturing a piece of punkin pie, getting it into one's hands, contrary to all social usage, biting into it, until one almost mires up to one's nose, until one can scarce see over the top of the upstanding crust, and beginning the unequaled delight of devouring the first mouthful. To taste it is to love it, love it and love forever.

THIRTY YEARS' WAR PLAGUES

Sweeping Away of Lives Was Frightful, Combatants Themselves Being Mown Down.

In the famous Thirty Years' war, it is estimated, the population of central and western Europe was reduced from thirty millions to less than half—ten millions, and yet during the whole of that time there were only forty important battles fought, and their total death complement did not reach half a million.

All the rest of the frightful sweeping away of life was from plague and famine, which not only followed in the wake of the armies, but mowed down the combatants themselves.

Nor was the deadly work of these fierce partners of war—the terrible triple alliance of the prayer book, plague, pestilence and famine—confined to the civil populations. They played equal havoc in the ranks of the armies themselves.

Even as recently as the days of Gustavus Adolphus that great captain is said to have broken up his winter quarters and begun his summer campaign nearly two months earlier than he had intended, because at the rate at which his soldiers were dying from disease in their huts and barracks he would soon have had no army left to campaign with.

Kicked Himself to Freedom.

Prisoners of war have had many thrilling adventures in their attempts to escape across the German frontier, but it would be hard to find a more remarkable story than the following, told in a Dutch paper: Four British escaped prisoners of war, one Frenchman and seven Russians arrived at Oldenzaal, besides two German deserters. An amusing incident took place in the case of one of the Russians. He was seized by the German sentry when in the act of crossing the frontier, and in the course of the ensuing struggle threw himself on the ground. He fell half way on Dutch and half way on German territory. The Dutch sentry came to his rescue and tried to pull him across by the shoulders. The German pulled at the other end. When the Russian found that the Dutchman was helping him he started kicking with all his might, with the happy result that he was safely pulled onto Dutch territory.

Sausage Makers' Repartee.

An old story which is being revived nowadays concerns two rival sausage makers. They lived on opposite sides of a certain street in London, and one day one of them placed over his shop the legend, "We sell sausages to the gentry and nobility of the country." The next day, over the way, appeared the sign, "We sell sausages to the gentry and nobility of the whole country." Not to be outdone, the rival put up what he evidently regarded as a final statement, namely: "We sell sausages to the king." Next day there appeared over the door of the first sausage maker the simple expression of loyalty, "God save the king."

Hailstorm Insurance in Germany.

Hailstorm insurance is more extensively carried on in Germany than in any other country. During the last 45 years the German hail insurance companies have collected the enormous sum of 1,144,709,000 marks (mark—23.8 cents), in premiums, and have paid out 902,420,000 marks in indemnities. During the year 1915 the companies realized a profit of 7,000,075 marks, which was much in excess of their average earnings, and the business of the year showed an increase in insured values of 404,000,000 marks.
