pointment had nothing to do with what was said about the security of farm labor and the difficulty in getting meat. Measures are being taken to improve the situation in both cases. But the apparent disinclination for increased production without guarantees of increased prices was not encouraging. From the standpoint of the consumer prices are already high enough. From that of the producer they may not be in proportion to the cost of production, but the shortage if any, cannot be great. However that may be, this is no time to talk profits. It is no time for selfishness. The great need now is that men should not think of what they can give nor, what they can get. Our soldiers have set the example by giving their services, many of them their lives, for the freedom of the world with no thought of getting anything for themselves beyond their share of that freedom. It is our duty to follow their example in a less heroic way. It is to be doing and giving what we can for the same great cause.

Mr. Carl Adams was last week presented with a handsome tin and the following address by the Presbyterian Church:—

Dear Mr. Adams—We deeply regret to learn of your intention to sever your connection with this church, of which you have been a most efficient leader during the past four years, and we wish to take advantage of this opportunity to express our very warm wishes for your success and prosperity in your future undertakings. The difficulties to be faced in leading a church where it is not possible for the members to attend practice regularly, and where your work has been appreciated by all, especially the members of this church. Will you please accept this tin as a small token of our appreciation of your very faithful and successful work with us. We trust that you will live long to wear this little remembrance and may it often bring back pleasant recollections.

Signed on behalf of the church, (Rev.) J. Ferguson.

Driver A. W. Allen writes to his parents under date of March 31st from some place in France as follows:—
Dear Mother and Dad—Will you answer your kind and very welcome letter which I received about two weeks ago. You will please excuse delay as I have been working hard driving a team every day, guess you know what that means. I received your postal order on the 15th of last month, also the parcel and it was certainly good. Had a letter from young Tommy, he is in the 12th C. I. and only a short distance from me. He is going to get a pass and come and see me. You asked me if I had seen anybody from home I saw Bob Haddie, he is driving a truck. We had a good old talk about home. I had a pass for a day to a little bag a week ago and was able to buy a couple of cups of coffee, that was 10.45, and at 12 I had 2 more eggs, a plate full of potatoes, bread and coffee. A meal here costs about 40c in our money. I have been sleeping in a barn and although a little cold I feel it. To-night I am lying beside a good warm fire. I
