Sgt. Polkinghorne Honored for Bravery, King's Message to Mrs. Armstrong

Sgt. Polkinghorne Honored for Bravery
Sgt. Polkinghorne was awarded the Victoria Cross for his bravery in the attack on the Hindenburg Line, near Cambrai, in November, 1917. He was the only Canadian to receive this honor in the attack.

King's Message to Mrs. Armstrong
The King has sent a message to Mrs. Armstrong, the wife of the late Sgt. Polkinghorne, in recognition of her husband's bravery. The message reads: "I am glad to hear that you are well and hope that you will be able to visit me soon."

Supper Thos. J. Forgrave enlisted at Toronto January 16th, 1917, went overseas in April and to Belgium in June and to France in September, and was at Marcell, near St. Etienne at the time of his death. He was struck by a piece of shell on the 28th and died of wounds on the 29th. He would have been 20 years old had he lived to the 2nd. Before enlisting he worked in the C. P. R. freight Office, Toronto.

King's Message to Mrs. Armstrong

The King commands me to assure you of the true sympathy of His Majesty and the Queen in your sorrow.

Secretary of State for War.

France, March 31st, 1918.

From Officer Commanding 13th Can. Light Bty, Operating Coy.
To Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, Glen Williams, Ont.

It is with the deepest regret that I write to advise you of the death of your son, Supper Thos. J. Forgrave, on the 29th March, 1918. He was wounded by a piece of shell on the 28th March and was rushed to Hospital with all possible speed. Owing to the expert services rendered by the surgeons he suffered no pain. He showed exceptional fortitude and passed away with a smile on his face. He is greatly missed by the Officers and men of the Company, on account of his cheery disposition and willingness to help out in any situation no matter how hard. He has proven himself to be a man worthy in every way to wear the King's uniform. He was always fearless in the face of danger and his coolness inspired confidence in all who came in contact with him. He was laid to rest in the British Cemetery at Aubigny, between Arras and St. Pol and a minister conducted the burial service. A cross has been erected to mark his grave as that of a soldier who fell in action while doing his all to help a neighbor's cause.

A dedication service was held to-day by a Y. M. C. A. but where special hymns were sung and prayers said for your loved one and those who are left to mourn the loss of a brave and fearless Canadian soldier.

Our sympathies go out to you so many miles away in your sad bereavement and also my pledge that every one of us who are left will fight to the utmost of our ability to crush the fiend who has caused such deep bereavement to be suffered by the innocent ones in our dear Home Land. All per-
