Mother's Sunday

It is a good thing that Mother's Sunday, even if it has no other reason than that little attention, rather often neglected by the young people, is paid to the mothers.

And will everyone remember on Sunday next to wear the white carnation, which says, to all who may wish to read its meaning, that sentiment, pure and holy, is not left out of a practical world that every Mother's son and daughter of us, has a specially tender place in the heart for the mother to whom they could always fly from trouble when they were children, on whom they can always rely for ready sympathy all their days.

Mothering Sunday is a very old custom, though only revived within the past few years. But as far back as the 17th century "Mothering Sunday" was observed. Sons and daughters made a point on that day of visiting their parents and taking gifts to them. As Herrick says:

"Till to thee a simnel bring Gaunt thou go a-mothering, So that when she blesses thee Half that blessing thou'll give me."

Perhaps Rudyard Kipling's poem, "Mother o' Mine" is one of the strongest, truest things ever written of mothers.

"If I were lugged on the highest hill,

Mother O' Mine, I know whose love would follow me still,

Mother O' Mine,

"If I were drowned in the deepest sea,

Mother O' Mine,

I know whose tears would come down to me,

Mother O' Mine,

"If I were damned of body and soul I know whose prayers would make me whole,

Mother O' Mine.

CHILDREN should be especially warned against making playgrounds of the streets. Those who do so expose themselves continually to the dangers of death from passing motor cars.

ONE GOOD method of raising a large sum for war purposes would be to tax companies according to their capitalization. Hereafter we should have fewer swelled corporations in Canada.

IF SOLDIERS are willing to serve in the trenches, to dig ditches, build railroads, and risk their lives, many civilians can well afford to spare a part of their time to serve in the furrows and in the harvest fields.

A NEW JERSEY man has been declared a loafer because he exchanged jobs with his wife and kept house while she worked in a mill. And yet most housewives say if their husbands had to do the housework for one day they would learn what real work is.

AN AMENDMENT to the Ontario Temperance Act provides that grocers and druggists may not in future sell flavoring extracts or essences containing alcohol except in bottles containing no more than two and one-half ounces. The law also requires that a record of all sales of such articles be kept, the addresses of the purchaser, the date and the quantity sold.

THE SERIOUS situation of the war during the past few weeks is partly responsible for the Government's new man-power bill, and we must be prepared for further war measures if the crisis becomes more serious. Young men beween the ages of 20 and 24 have been called to the colors, and although they have only been asked to report at present, there is a possibility that some of the young men may be taken from the farms.

Municipal Corporation officials throughout the Dominion are now co-operating with the Canada Food Board in the enforcement of the laws against waste, illegal and other conservation measures. The order against waste is applicable to most forms of food waste and municipalities now realize that it gives their waste powers. An Order in Council has been passed providing that in case no action is instituted by any municipality or officer thereof, under any order or regulation relative to the matters within the jurisdiction of the Canada Food Board, and a fine is imposed, such fine shall be paid into the treasury of the municipality.

Where proceedings are instituted at the instance of any provincial officer, the fine shall be paid into the provincial treasury.

AN ORDER has been issued at Ottawa against sugar hoarding. No one is allowed to have more sugar in his possession than will last him fifteen days, unless he lives more than two miles from a licensed dealer. If over two miles from a dealer he may have thirty pounds. Penalties shall not be less than $100 or more than $1000 or imprisonment up to three months, or both fine and imprisonment. There is no limit on the amount of sugar to be used, only on the amount kept on hand. It will have to be bought as it is needed. There will really be no hardship, but there will be some inconvenience for those who have too much sugar on hand and will have to return it to the dealer and get their money back. The order will take effect on the 16th inst.

IT MEANS something nowadays to be a father. That remark applies in more ways than one, but we mean it especially in so far as the relation of neighborhood applies to the new budget. In the application of a heavier taxation burden the State has very wisely singled out the fathers for preferential treatment. It is no light task just now to bring up a family on a limited income; in fact, it is a marvel how some men are accomplishing the task. The new budget takes some cogitation of this situation, and in the new income tax it is provided that every youngster under sixteen years of age cancels the tax on $200 for the dad, whose income exceeds $2,000 a year. This is how it seems to work out. A married man without children is exempt $2,000; pays 2 per cent. from $2,000 to $3,000; 4 per cent. from $3,000 to $6,000, and after that pays super tax and war surtax in addition. Take the case of a man receiving $3,000 with one child under 16. He is exempt $2,000 because married and $200 more because he has the child. Thus his 2 per cent. is payable on only $800—the difference between $2,000 and $3,000—his tax is $16. He saves $1 on each child and if he has five of them (under 16, of course), he does not pay any income tax at all. If he has more than five children of that age and is getting over $3,000, the additional tax-free cancel, assessable income which would otherwise pay not 2 but 4 per cent. and each additional one saves him $8. The relief thus granted the fathers of Canada is a just one. It is to them we owe much, and even with the income tax to pay the man who has no children to bring up has the advantage—financially.

Our local Sanitary Inspector will start on his rounds May 10th. In the township the Sanitary Inspector goes on duty on the 15th.

Those who purchased autos a week ago certainly couldn't have made money any quicker than that saved in not having to pay a war tax.

Corn is now moving into Canada from the U. S. and will be available for human consumption and for feed for livestock.

All has been struck in two wells near Rockwood, which are reported to be yielding more than 200 barrels daily. Eight more wells are to be drilled at once.

Ninety motorists were fined $10 each at Oakville last week for speeding on the Toronto-Hamilton Highway. Seventy of them were residents of Toronto.

It is to be hoped that the graveling of the 10th line from the cut hill to the Glen Bridge will be completed and not left in its present condition.

A large number of our town boys are now engaged on farms in this vicinity. We admire their pluck and willingness to do their part to assist in winning the war.

Monday, May 20th, is the date fixed for the taking of the vote on the Corby-Wooden Mills by-law. A vote in its favor will help build up your home town.

A Box Social will be held at Limonhouse School, S. N. No. 5 on Friday, May 10th. A good programme will be featured commencing at 7:45. Admission, 15c. Proceeds for Red Cross.

The barns of Mr. David Featherstone, Trafalgar, were totally destroyed by fire on Thursday last. A lot of his valuable stock was burned. No human injuries.

All our subscribers who are in arrears kindly forward their subscriptions to us at their earliest convenience. We sure need the money and believe our patrons will do their part in helping us re-establish our business.

Attractive new signs have been erected at the different entrances to our town by the local motor club. They welcome the traveler and indicate the speed limit, two very important features now-a-days.

Get your old newspapers tied up in bundles and have them ready for the collectors on May 11th. You can in this way very materially help the Red Cross workers to supply comforts for our boys at the front.

Collection of Newspapers

A collection will be made on Tuesday, May 14, of newspapers, magazines and scrap, and the collectors would be glad if all persons having the same would leave outside all bundles securely tied and addressed in care of the collector. Covers are first torn off the outside of the magazines it would also save much trouble. These covers may be then included with the scrap as may also curbed boxes and wrapping paper. As the Red Cross Society benefited by the sum of one hundred dollars from the former sale of paper it is hoped that an equal amount will be realized this season. Kindly remember the date.

Copies of "Herald" Wanted

We would consider it a great favor if subscribers having copies of the Herald of the issues of April 3rd, 10th and 17th would kindly forward same to us.

Roy Carey Killed

Roy Carey, Hamilton, of Carey Bros., auctioneers, and well known in Georgetown, received injuries from which he died soon after, and his wife Irene (nee Fitzgerald) was severely shaken up, when their automobile collided on Monday afternoon at the corner of Bay and Herkimer Streets with a Hamilton & Dundas car.

Ex-Inspector Reynolds Dead

Thomas A. Reynolds, for fifty-nine years a resident of Oakville, passed away at his home on Tuesday of last week, aged seventy-two years. Mr. Reynolds, who was a real estate agent, had been in poor health for a year. For many years he was a member of the town council. He was license inspector for Halton for a number of years. He is survived by his widow. The late Mr. Reynolds was a charter member of the local branch of the C. M. B. A. and a life long member of St. Andrew's R. C. Church.

Exemption Tribunal

Justice Elliot and Crown Attorney Dick are still busy with category B men. There are still about 125 of them. 74 have been considered at the tribunal 25 per cent. But many category B men have been exempted. A number of others who have been able to show that they are not profiteers have been granted exemption for various periods, with the result of getting the full exemption. Others have been ordered to report for duty when called.

An entertainment will be given in the Town Hall, Glenwilliams, Friday, May 17th, under the auspices of St. Alban's Church, consisting of songs, recitations, and a tea net given by the Girls' Guild of St. George's Church, Georgetown, entitled, "The Parish Fair." Admission Adults 25c., Children 15c.

Please take notice that I have put in stock a choice lot of boys' and girls' shoes. They are right from the factory and I am going to sell them at the lowest price you ever heard of for the quality of the boots. I have some splendid Flow Boots from $1 to $4; and Men's Fine Shoes with medium soles, at $5, that would cost you $9 any place else. These boots are made by the Western Shoe Co. I will sew ribs free on all shoes. I do not know I won't have much of it to do on these goods. J. Roney, the man that can shoe the people at a saving of 30 and 40 per cent. Sign of the Gold Boots.

In the Matter of the War Measures Act, 1914, and in the Matter of the Order of the Power Controller, dated January 8th and further Order by the Power Controller dated May 1st, 1918 (copy of which is hereto attached) and in the Matter of the Commission's Order, bearing date January 8th, 1918, and subsequent Orders prohibiting the use of electrical energy for advertising purposes or ornamental or window lighting.

WHEREAS, pursuant to said Orders certain customers and users of electrical power and energy, while observing in form the terms of said Order and discontinuing the use of electric light in store windows, have placed additional lights in that part of their stores actually used for selling purposes and have, in some instances, used reflectors for the purpose of throwing such light into the store windows, thereby defeating in part the object of the said Order, viz: To Conserve Electricity.

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, in pursuance of the said Order of the Power Controller, hereby order and direct that no Municipality, Commission Company or Person using electrical current supplied by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission shall permit any electric lights to be fixed, arranged or used in any store, either with or without reflectors in such a manner as to direct or throw light into the store windows, nor that part of the store used for the purpose of displaying commodities to passers-by on the streets on which stores face, AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that no greater amount of electrical energy be used in stores or other buildings than is absolutely necessary to supply the lighting to enable business to be properly carried on in said stores or buildings.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that this Order is to become effective on the 10th day of May, 1918, and remain in force until further notice.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that any Municipality, Company, Commission or person purchasing, installing or using electrical current, violating or infringing any provision of the Order of the Power Controller or of this order shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in the Order of the Power Controller, of May 1st, 1918, and the said penalty may be recoverable or enforced by summary proceedings and conviction under the proceedings of Part XV of The Criminal Code.

DATED AT TORONTO this Second day of May, A. D. 1918.

A. BECK, Chairman.

Forethought and Good Judgment Used

Travellers show preference for Scenic Routes! Busy Men use Night Trains

Nowadays, forethought, and a lively sense of public appreciation play an important part in the construction of a railroad. The Canadian Northern made a happy choice in the selection of its route between Toronto and Ottawa skirting the shores of Lake Ontario and the Bay of Quinte; over the height of land between Napanea and Sydenham; and through Rideau Lakes region, adds seat to the daytime journey in Spring or Summer. Comfortable day and night trains, stopping at principal intermediate stations, have made the route very popular.
