The Women's Patriotic League have made another shipment to the Canadian Red Cross Society, consisting of 66 prs. of socks, 27 suits of pyjamas, and 17 comfort bags. The following is a summary of comforts sent during the period ending June 30, 1918, 260 prs. of socks, 128 suits of pyjamas, 102 hand towels, 17 comfort bags and 8 trench caps.

Last Sunday week, a special service arranged by the Women's Patriotic League, was held in the Presbyterian Church, it being the fourth anniversary of the war. Rev. J. A. Ferguson preached an appropriate sermon urging upon his hearers the need of re-consecration to the great cause. The singing was good. The anthem by the Choir was greatly appreciated, as were the solo voices of Mrs. George Brown and Mr. Carl Adams. The collection amounted to $10. which was handed the League.

The weekly sewing meetings of the League will commence in September, of which notice will be given.

Milton

Mr. Sam Harrop, who had a couple of ribs fractured when he took flight at an approaching auto, has had the broken bone set and is up and about again.

Word has been received here that George Smiley, Jack Ford and Ed. Blaupold, who went overseas with the 164th Battalion, and who are now in France, have been down with trench fever.

Georgetown bowlers made another attempt to lift the cup last Friday evening when a rink skippered by Postmaster McDermid came down for that purpose and for the first few ends it looked as if they might succeed. The Milton defenders, however, piloted by skip Toleksi, got their stride, and gradually crept up and passed their opponents, and were never afterwards in danger, especially when they got a lead. The score at the end was 27 to 11 in favor of Milton. Another Georgetown rink that came down for a friendly game, however, got rather the best of their opponents, if that was any consolation.

It is not a matter of whether Georgetown wants the shelter or not. What we would like to know is why our Warden and some members of County Council should be giving such enthusiastic support to the interests of the County of Peel when a better site can be secured in Halton for about half the money. This is a matter we would like publicly explained. As regards supporting the institution, probably the good people of Halton would have their sympathy touched sufficiently to do their share before the difference in the price of the two locations has been expended. Are Halton's representatives in County Council less than their loyalty toward the old banner county, or is it just indifference? It is negotiable in any case, and to see the Warden boasting for another county is doubly so.

The settlement reached in the Toronto riots shows that the men can be managed alright if the proper method is used. And persuasion is the only weapon that should be employed with regard to those men who have done their "bit."

Canada entered the war with a regular army of only 8,000 men. At the beginning of last month she had sent overseas no less than 800,000 soldiers, and on the same date there were in this country about 60,000 men being trained for service in France. This makes a total army of 450,000.

Obituary

DR. J. MILTON COTTON.

Death came with startling suddenness to Dr. J. Milton Cotton, at 20 Bloor street east, who died in Wellesley Hospital Sunday morning from heart failure, six months after the death of his wife.

Dr. Cotton, who was one of Toronto's foremost surgeons, had been suffering from overwork for some time and on the advice of his colleagues entered Wellesley Hospital on Thursday to take a rest. His death was unexpected for, as it was thought that a month's rest would restore his health.

Dr. Cotton was the senior surgeon at Grace Hospital for fifteen years and had practised in Toronto for twenty years, a considerable portion of which was spent in private practice. He enjoyed a wide reputation.

He was also a member of the Board of York, and an acknowledged expert of the A.O.U.W. He was born in Simcoe in 1862, and was the eldest son of the late W. A. and Sarah Ferguson Collier.
