TRAGIC HISTORY Carolina the Last of a Quartet of Shipe That Seemed to Be Decmed to Misfortune.

"The sinking of the Carolina by a German U-boat removed the last of a quartet of ships that have had a tragic history," remarked Brooks Amiss of Baltimore, a former resident of Washington, at the Willard, according to the Washington Post. "The Carolina was formerly the Grand Duchess, built for the Plant line in 1896. She made her first trip from Boston to Halifax and two years later she was taken over by the government to be used as transport in the Spanish-American war. Her malden voyage in the transport service was from Charleston, S. C., carrying a regiment of Wisconsin troops and high army officers to Porto Ne Alimony From Seldiers. The supreme court of New York state has no power to enforce an order for allmony against a soldier in the United States army, declared Jus-tice Aspinall in the supreme court in Brooklyn in the case of Mrs. Florence Merriman against Rapley P. Merriman, a private. It is the first decision of its kind here. Justice Aspinall gave the opinion in acting upon the request of Mrs. Merriman's attorney, who de-manded Merriman be forced to pay $40 on the first business day of each month. "It is obvious that the defendant could not comply with a direction that he pay $40 en the first business day of each month," said the justice, "when $40 is more than the rate of pay of his grade, and the time of payment of a soldier is necessarily very irregular.'
