HIGH AND LOW SHOES

Rumford
THE SHOE MAN
"The Home of Better Shoes."

Every home there comes a time when every thought, every hope, every prayer for the future centres on the recovery of one loved one.

In that hour of anguish, every means to recovery is sought—the highest medical skill, trained nurses, costly treatment. Does the price matter?

It may be so great as to stagger the imagination—a sum beyond the possible.

But does anyone ask, "Can we do it?" Money or no money, they do it. And somehow they pay.

It may mean doing without things they think they need. It may mean privations, sacrifices, hardships. They make unbelievable savings, they achieve the impossible, but they get the money to pay.

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—vast sums of money. Only one way now remains to obtain it.

The nation must save, every community, every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I cannot save" let him consider to what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

You who read this, get out pencil and paper NOW. Set down the items of your living expense. Surely you will find some items there you can do without.

Determine to do without them. Start TO-DAY. Save your money so that you may be in a position to lend it to your country in its time of need.

THE LOST PATH
(Beatrice Washburn)

Along a little twisted, rose-hung path
We two went out two walk one summer day.
Then, led by wider streets and
broadier fields,
We lost our way.

We saw their running streams and
deep blue seas,
And roads that led along the wind-blown
And "my dear" mountains which flung austere shadows
We saw their palaces with carved
And avenues where the long, high,
And we were seeking, but we were not found.

Prodigal Waste By Big Earners

War Prosperity has Led to Injudicious Spending. No Thought of Lean Years Ahead.
Side by side with a good deal of thrift, there is a good deal of thriftlessness among us, just now, in the writer's immediate neighborhood in the East end of Toronto, and no doubt it is the same in other places; in fact it is quite as much in evidence in this city as it is in the neighborhood. It is sad to see that the case is the same in this neighborhood, for it is one in which, only the year before the first year of the war, the people, very many of them, experienced the pinch of dire poverty. Many of the big earners who had bought their houses could not keep up the instalments, or pay the taxes due on them. Many who lived in rented houses could not pay their rent. Yet although this was only between four and five years ago, many of the people who suffered most have already forgotten that their things went hungry and, in most cases, almost starving. They don't realize what they have had to do. They think that the present boom—for wages are quite abnormally high—will last forever. Here is a concrete case. A certain man who, four or five years ago, lacked food and all the necessaries of life, is to-day making big money at his munitions. He is not putting by a cent in the three years and more during which he has been working on munitions, he has bought himself two cars. His first car didn't last long. He gave the poor thing no rest. When it was "all in" he bought another. Yet this man will cudge for clothes for his children, and send his children to the school dentist.
Now when the call is for economy, many women, whose husbands are making big money, are outrageously extravagant in their clothes. One of them in the same locality is so in love with fine clothes that she was seen wearing a silk dress when scrubbing the floor. Until her husband got his present $50 a week job, they had never had more than $30 a week to get along on. They have nothing saved (as she admits) and if the man was out of a job to-morrow, all they would have to show as resultants from their present prosperity would be a quantity of partly-worn fine clothes.
Many families are literally eating up their big earnings. One that I know will give $5.00 for a leg of lamb for Sunday dinner. The father takes to work for his lunch, sliced ham bought at a store for which a big price is paid. The butcher who serves them says he could not begin to afford the expensive food they consume in large quantities.
War-time prosperity is just giving them a good time—for a time. What of the "lean years" that may be ahead? In the cases mentioned, and they are typical of very many in this one neighborhood, no provision whatever is being made for them.

Some "Saving" Briets
Save for Victory.
Save to make Canada secure.
To save in the wisest of professions—if you have the will.
Pinch your expenditure a little and you'll find it will pay.
Save to lend to your country when it calls.
The will that saves is the will that wins.
Saving will provide both an umbrella and a mackintosh for the "rainy day."
Saving money is often the expression of saving grace.
A man who is hoarding on the verge of want is not his own master.
Save to save—both yourself and Canada.
Live within your means and your means will be increased.
If you don't live within your means you must live on the means of others.
The first dollar saved is often the first step on the road to affluence.
Heaven helps those who help themselves. Moral—Save!
Sacrifice a present pleasure for a future good—Save!
Save, remembering that to him that hath shall be given.
Saving carries its own reward—with interest.
Carnegie's chief asset in beginning life was his "saving" quality.

THEIR HALLMARKS A NATION
Saving the mighty dollar in gratifying one's desires in the line of personal purchases has been a working force in society for all time. To save for the sake of hoarding the golden denarii is a form of insanity that has afflicted the miser of all time. To save in order to make another stronger is the highest form of thrift known. In exercising this virtue of laying aside extra dollars from our present surpluses, for the better living of society when times may not be so generous, we carry in us the marks of the true Canadian patriot.
He who loves his country is no waster. He knows his savings form the capital that makes business go. The dollar soon doubles itself as total savings of a thrifty people mark out the nation as really great one. Love of our Canadian home land demands of every resident from the Yukon to Cape Breton, that he save his surplus dollars against a possible rainy day. The thrifty man is one of Canada's big patriots.
