Action

The influenza condition will not abate, it is growing, and out two doctors have their hands full. We are learning by the experience of other places which have had it earlier, and are succeeding fairly well with the "cure of prevention." Schools have been closed as a precautionary measure, and only few meetings are being held. Church services on Sunday were very scantily attended; most people feeling safer at home.

Miss Ruth Nelson who is in attendance at the Methodist Training school in Toronto, is home recovering from an attack of influenza.

Miss Marquette Stewart, who has been attending Normal in Toronto, has been quite ill after the influenza attack is at home here under the doctor's care.

Mrs. James Symon and Mrs. Arthur MacPherson are in Toronto, attending the funeral of the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Robt. MacPherson, who died on Saturday last from pneumonia.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Moyer arrived home from General Conference on Friday evening, and Mr. Moyer took his own pulpit on Sunday. Mrs. Moyer has quite recovered from her recent attack of influenza.

The very sad news came to Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson on Friday that their son, Arthur, had been killed in action in France on October 1st. Born and lived all his young life in Acton, a bright student, full of life and fun, he gave his life willingly for the dear homeland that we all hoped he would see again. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have the sincere sympathy of the whole town in their sorrow.

Milton

We understand that an Equating lachelor was seen ploughing on a recent Sunday. Time he had a wife to keep him in the straight and narrow way.

Drs. Gowland and McColl have both been laid aside through constant attendance on "flu" cases. Both, however, are on the mend. These are a story going around that last Thursday a carload of iron junk was shipped to the C.P.R. here from Montreal on an open freight car, consigned to one Rogers, and that it was unloaded on two motor trucks from Hamilton between eleven o'clock that night and six o'clock the next morning. Suspicions having been aroused from the smell of liquor from a broken bottle that there was something more than iron junk on board the station officials notified our chief constable, and he in turn notified Inspector Harvey of Acton but by the time the latter arrived on the scene it was too late, for the man, whiskey, and everything else had disappeared. It is said the liquor was valued at $1,000, and had been taken to Hamilton. Foreigners get the credit for the whole transaction.—Reformer.

Limehouse

JOHN McDONALD AND FAMILY

PREFER TO GO BAREFOOT.

Native African Troops Carry Their Boots When on the March.

Among native African troops living near mission stations and outposts, it is often worn on Sundays to go church in, and in the afternoon to walk in arm or shoulder, this being more comfortable for the feet and less wearing on the boots. Still, on nearing the church, they are put on with much seriousness and importance; the more the better, and should a pair creek badly the joy of the wearer and envy of his friends are beyond all description.

This natural antipathy to wearing boots, says Prof. Holloway in the "Wide World," does not only apply to the south, in some colonies where native troops are supplied with boots when on the march, they will beg their officers' permission to walk barefoot, and in comfort. I remember a cool-black Soudanese, a fine old soldier, tell over his feet, who was a bodykeeper at a friend's house in Khartoum. "Whenever I called on my wife, she would immediately put on her boots, and I would immediately take them off again with a grunt of satisfaction. It was a deep voice, and I was not sure whether or not his master was at home. He was quite under the impression that this was the correct thing to do."

Canadian Expedition:
The Victoria's war expedition, awarded for the 1,000th Anniversary of the Order of the British Empire, has passed the most venerable decoration in the number of those who held it. In fact, the O.B.E. is being awarded more liberally than ever before in the history of the Order. The following names have been awarded the O.B.E. in the comparative new honor:

TWO TITLES.

I had two friends, both lithe and young, and both very strong. Of mainly vigor, tenacity of spirit, and good nature, and both were full of life. One of them was a young man, and the other a young woman. They were both very strong, and both were full of life. They were both very strong, and both were full of life.

More dead than dead that friend lives. But his name is not known. No grave could make so wide a gap. As war's embittering mishap.

The reason that, with anger great I rail at the crime of fate Two titles in large letters state: One of them is O.B.E. The other simply "I.L.P."

Women Shipbuilders.
Women have not been men in certain work in British shipyards and more of them are being added to the shipbuilding forces as rapidly as possible.

At Lord Furness' shipyards on the Tees 700 women are working with spades and shovels, on excavations. Some of the women have been assisting in the building of a temporary railway at the yards and others laying concrete platforms on which the keels of ships will be put down.

In preparing concrete for the keel platforms gangs of women work by hand, and in one instance the women beat the men by a few minutes. The women are being cited whereby the men worked on the same kind of work.

They are branches of work from which women are barred, because they haven't the muscular endurance, but when the men are replaced by women of military age with women.

At first there were only a few women employed, but now they are being replaced by men of military age with women.
