Tell the truth.

At the meeting of the county council on Tuesday, the Warden and Reeve Little stated that after her last inspection of the Halton-Peel house of refuge, Dr. Helen McMurchy said its management was so exceptionally good that she intended to recommend that the next meeting of managers of such institution's should be held in it. The Matron, Mrs. Whitfield Armstrong, came in for special praise. Mr. Armstrong, too, got his share for his good farming of the fifty acres of land attached to the house of refuge. Not only did the inniates get an ample supply of milk, roots and vegetables, but the excess of crops sold for $1200. The two counties have given Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong a war bonus for this pear of $200.00, each paying $100.00 .- Champion.

HE COULDN'T GET IN

I have heard a tale of a cheerful pearly gate, and asked if he might go in. St. Peter said: "Well, I like your looks, but I have to hunt through my set of books, and see if your charged with sin." He pulled his ledgers and daybooks down, and looked them through with a growing frown, and muttered: "Your name is Pance: in some divisions you stack up high; you didn't swear and you didn't lie, and you didn't smoke or dance. You passed through life with a high renown, and you cut much grass in your native town, as my books do plainly show; but you had one habit that makes me tired; to outer darkness you must be fired, and down with the gosts you go. Your wife was ever a patient soul, and though you carried a big fat roll, she was always busted to hint to pull a plunk from your fist of flint, whenever she wished a hat. You sent long greens to the heather guys-because you thought it would advertise the piety of your soul; but your wife must get on her marrowbones, and always you filled the house with moans. whenever you drew your roll. So chase yourself to the dread abode where the brimstone's used by the wagonlead, and the weather's always dry; h man like you in our realm of grace would jar the saints they'd jump the place, and start up another sky."-Walt Ma-

To Improve Party-Line Service

WE suggest consideration for the persons who may be talking on your party-line. Do not interrupt their conversation. It is discourteous and unfair.

 Answer only your own signal.
 If there is any confusion about the rings, report the fact promptly to the Chief Operator.

2. When you wish to call, remove the receiver and listen. If the line is in use hang up the re-ceiver and wait until the conversation is finished. 3. Do not allow children or others to listen on the line when it is in use or to play with the telephone at any time.

4. Make your calls as brief as possible. Short conversations will keep the line open and make the service of most value to everyone.
