Specials in Canned Goods

Watch our window next Friday and Saturday, February 21st and 22nd, for some very attractive specials in canned goods. The display will be well worth your inspection. Special prizes for cash lots—A. McGibbon, Georgetown.
 High School Commencement
 The Commencement Exercises of Georgetown High School will be held in the town hall this Friday evening. The program as usual will be one of the best and a rare treat is in store for all who attend. Tickets are now being sold by pupils of the school and the plan will open at Matthew's drug store this evening at 5 p.m.
 Our New Needle Factory
 Georgetown's new industry, the needle factory, which occupies a beautiful new modern brick building on Water St., is now running with 20 hands and pays out over $1100 a month in wages. In January 22,000 needles were manufactured and shipped to customers and many more orders are in course of being filled. The stock holders of this company are so delighted with future prospects that they are doubling their holdings in preference to selling their bonds. This is another industry which our citizens should be proud.
 Awarded Studentship
 An Ottawa despatch says: "The Council for Scientific and Industrial Research has awarded two more studentships of $750 each. One of the new studentships goes to W. W. Eustace Ross, a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1915, with first-class honors in chemistry and mineralogy. Last year Mr. Ross was engaged under Prof. J. C. McLennan in research problems on improvement in submarine devices for the British Admiralty in London, England. He will carry on research work in the Physics Department of the University of Toronto."
 Mr. Ross is a son of Mr. Ralph Ross, principal of Georgetown High School.
 Exciting Hockey Match
 The hockey game between the Bankers and McGibbon House teams drew quite a crowd to the rink last Thursday afternoon. The play at times was quite interesting and it was quite evident that Georgetown has lots of good material for a first-class hockey team, had they suitable rink accommodation. The score when time was called was 8-0 in favor of McGibbon House. Following is the line up:
 Bankers McGibbon House
 E. McCabe O. Sachs
 W. W. Roe H. Cleave
 Percy Blackburn J. Clark
 Thos. Wheatley J. McGibbon
 W. Ford Bob McGibbon
 R. J. Hynds Alf Cole
 Goal umpires C. Mullin, Jos. Gibbons, Referee Albert Thompson.
 Georgetown Minstrels
 The Minstrels are on the move. They have organized and formed four committees for the work. Will those who are appointed on this work do their utmost to make everything run smoothly. From all their friends in Georgetown, Glen Williams, Norval, Stewart, Limehouse, Ballinfaed, Ashgrove, Speyside and Esqueving Township they ask your co-operation and support. If anyone has or discovers something in the lines of jokes, songs or drama that might be of assistance to their work, would you kindly leave same at the Herald Office. Let us remember that to benefit Georgetown, benefits the entire community and that with a good free spirit of friendship and assistance the Minstrels will give an entertainment you cannot forget.
 Annual Meeting Knox Church
 The members and adherents of Knox Church met for their annual meeting on Monday evening, January 27th. A good attendance was present. After devotional exercises, Dr. John McCall was voted to the chair. In all the organizations of the Church, the reports were away ahead of previous years. The new "Book of Praise," it was decided, was to be introduced on Easter Sunday. The total giving for Missionary purposes was $1618, and for all purposes $2907. In brief, the business was discussed and large plans for the future were undertaken, which it is hoped will be a great acquisition to the work of the congregation. The financial report was much better than I had it been for the last year. The Church was closed all October, our anniversary month, and then part of December and January, the months for getting in all arrears, were partially closed again. But on the whole it was a very good year and we have good reason to thank God and take courage—Com.

 Mr. J. H. Cole, of Burks Falls, was a visitor in town over Sunday.
 Miss Nellie Johnson, of Brampton, spent the week-end with Georgetown friends.
 Sgt. Edgar Wadley, Burlington; Capt. A. E. Bado, Brampton, and Miss Rita Crossland, of Toronto, spent the week end at Mr. and Mrs. E. McWhirter's.
 Before leaving to take a position in the West, Miss Roe was presented with a camera by the M. M. M. Club. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow Miss Roe to the West.
 Death of Rodger Stark
 Rodger Stark, of the 4th line, requesting who went to the Hamilton General Hospital to be operated upon for a growth on his neck, died at that institution on Friday last, in his 42nd year, leaving a young widow. The funeral took place on Monday from his late residence, at 2 o'clock p.m., to the Baptist Church cemetery, and was largely attended. Burial followed at 4:30 p.m.
 Statistics
 Old Uncle Eben Jones, of Nashville, went into a New York Life insurance office and requested a policy.
 "Why Uncle," said the president, "you are too old for us to take the risk. How old are you?"
 "Ninety-seven come next August," said the old man, and added, testily, "If you folks will take the trouble to look up your statistics you'll find that I might be a few months after they're ninety-seven."
 Limehouse
 On Wednesday evening last, Mr. John Henderson met with an accident which, but for the presence of mind of his young son George and Thomas, might have proven fatal. While attending to one of his horses a lantern was upset, and in trying to recover it, the horse became frightened and turning sideways gave Mr. Henderson several kicks about the face and chest which rendered him temporarily unconscious. In the meantime Thomas secured the lantern which was blazing in the glass, thus preventing the barn from being set on fire and a possible double tragedy. Mr. Henderson having revived sufficiently, called to his son George to back the horse out of the stall. George climbed over the front of the stall and succeeded in backing the horse out, but was severely bruised in so doing.
 Mr. Henderson was cut about the face and chin and severely bruised about the chest and ankle. He says a German shell couldn't have done much worse without finishing him. At present John is doing as well as can be expected. His son, who so bravely assisted him, deserves much credit.

Church News

METHODIST
 In the morning we worship with our Baptist friends. Evening service subject, "The value of what we lose."
 The regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society will be held at the parsonage on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A special program of music and missionary information is being prepared. Refreshments will be served and a silver collection taken. All the ladies of the congregation are asked to make an effort to be present.
 BAPTIST
 The annual meeting last week was very satisfactory, and successful. There was a large number in attendance, the reports were very encouraging, the officers and committee were re-elected and the work of another year is hopefully undertaken.
 The postponed Sunday School entertainment will be held to-morrow (Thursday) evening, and promises to be unusually good. All friends of the school are invited.
 Anniversary services will be held on Sunday, when Rev. (Capt.) J. L. Gilmour, D.D., one of the Professors in McMaster University will preach morning and evening. This will be the fortieth anniversary of the building of the church, and a general jubilee, offering is requested from the members of the congregation.
