LET ALL JOIN IN THE CHORUS

(Louis Dodge)

"Before we sing," Ezekiel would say

"I want to ask you all to lift your voices

Let loose your souls on this bright Sabbath day

God loves the man or woman who rejoices

My Faith Looks Up—oh, send your tones up, too

Rejoice that there's so much of pleasure for us

And if you can't quite sing the whole hymn through

Let all—with accent and joy—join in this chorus

Through all the years I hear again the words

The lagging time, the voices dull or fainting

I see as in a picture, a throng that one day out of seven found hourly for singing

And in the windows' hearts behold

The rank farm horses hitched to plow the arbor

And the low-headed the mandate obli-

Join in the chorus still—my heart doth long

I often think of Park's flock

And find in it a lesson worth the reaping

Day after day I think of him though he

Has gone beyond the singing or the weeping

So, when from me joy seems to fly away

And peals glad from other men are ringing

I hear again the urgent preacher say

"Join in the chorus"—and I fail to singing

—We always try to respect a cheerful liar when he says, "You don't feel the heat while working"

—Some men are very absent-minded, but mightily few of them ever make the mistake of paying their water bills twice over —A coroner's jury at Moose Jaw brought in a verdict that a man had met his death through suicide and exposure. All suicides should take warning and not expose themselves afterwards

—Judging by the sickly letters of protest against hanging, there ought to be a good membership to start an organization to be known as the Ancient and Accepted Order of the Friends of Murderers

—Soon commencement days will come

And the graduates with ease will act just like thermometers. They'll get by their degrees

—The street watering carts and the oiled roads are greatly welcomed, for although of the earth, earthly, man doesn't want to look like a dust heap before his time

A laugh is just like sunshine. It freshens every day

It tips the peak of life with light. And drives the clouds away

The soul grows glad that laughs it. And feels its courage strong

A laugh is just like sunshine. For cheering folks along

A laugh is just like music. It lingers in the heart

And where its melody is heard, The ill of life departs

And happy thoughts come crowding. Its joyful notes to greet

A laugh is just like music. For making living sweet
