THE THINKER

(Horton Hales)
 Back of the beating hammer
 By which the steel wrought,
 Back of the workman's elbow
 The sealer may find the thought,
 The thought that is ever master
 Of iron and steam and steel,
 That rises above disaster
 And tramples it under heel
 The drudge may fret and tinker
 Or labor with lusty blows,
 But back of him stands the Thinker
 The clear-eyed Man Who Knows
 For into each plow or sabin
 Each piece and part and wife
 Must go the brain of labor
 Which gives the brain a soul
 Back of the motor's humming,
 Back of the belts that whirl,
 Back of the hammer's drumming
 Back of the engine that swings,
 There is the eye that sees them
 Watching through stress and strain
 There is the mind that plans them
 Back of the brain that brain
 Might of the roaring boiler,
 Force of the engine's thrust,
 Strength of the sweating toiler,
 Greatly in thee, we trust,
 But back of them stands the schemer
 The thinker who drives things through
 Back of the job, the dreamer
 Who's making the dreams come true!

Will Soon Begin New Road
 A meeting of the Hydro Electric Commission was held at Toronto on Tuesday, at which Sir Adam Beck was authorized to execute all the agreements with the municipalities interested in the Toronto-Niagara Falls Hydro Electric Railway. It is understood that work will be commenced as soon as surveys are completed, the surveys being busy now completing their work.—Oakville Record.

Too Bad, This
 The divorce question is once more agitating all Canada, and the immediate outlook is that we shall soon have a sort of divorce Reno in this country that will outdo the one across the line. It appears that the Maritime and Western Provinces have the right, or think they have, to confer divorces for any cause that appeal to them the most. We Canadians could only pride ourselves upon the fact there was only one good reason for a statutory divorce in Canada, and that was adultery. Now, there are half a dozen reasons for getting them, and each province appears to be law into itself. This is all really distressing to those who wish to see a proper change made that would cover, with its limitations, all of the provinces. It is not, we hope, too late to start anew.
