"Mothers' Day"

Sunday, May 9th
The Lord could not be everywhere
So he made Mothers

THE HEAVEN that lies about us in our infancy is Motherhood, and no matter how exalted or how degraded we may become we are always attended by the grace of a Mother's Love. Nor does that vision splended ever fade into the light of common day. Every great man has glorified a great Mother.

In the tragedy of Calvary it is beautiful the Master looking down upon His Mother in the most solitude, telling her to comfort His best-disciple, and him to comfort her.

Mother's Day let each of us honor the hall memory of His Mother, wearing in token thereof floral symbol of purity. Of other blessings we have had great stores, but of that most precious fluente there was but One.

God thought to give the sweetest thing
In His almighty power
To earth; and deeply pondering
What it should be—one hour
In fondest joy and love of heart Outweighing every other.
He moved the gates of Heaven apart
And gave to earth—a mother!

O LITTLE MOTHER OF MINE
ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER

Sometimes in the hush of the evening hour,
When the shadows creep from the west,
I think of the twilight songs you sang
And the boy you lulled to rest;
The wee little boy with the tousel head,
That long, long ago was thine;
I wonder if sometimes you long for that boy,
O little mother of mine!

And now he has come to man's estate, Grown stalwart in body and strong,
And you'd hardly know that he was the lad Whom you lulled with your slumber song.
The years have altered the form and the life,
But his heart is unchanged by time,
And still he is only the boy as of old,
O little mother of mine!

Such beautiful, beautiful hands,
They're neither white or small,
And you, I know, would scarpely think
That they were fair at all.
I've looked on hands whose form
and hue
A sculptor's dream might be,
Yet are these aged wrinkled hands
Most beautiful to me.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
Though heart were weary and sad These patient hands kept tolling on That the children might be glad.
I almost weep when looking back To childhood's distant day,
I think how these hands rested not When mine were at their play.
But, oh! beyond this shadow land,
Where all is bright and fair;
I know full well those dear old hands
Will palms of victory bear.
Where crystal streams, through endless years,
Flow over golden sands,
And where the old are young again,
I'll clasp my mother's hands.

Oh! In our sterner manhood, when no ray
Of earlier sunshine glimmers on our way,
When girl with sins and sorrows,
and the toil
Of cares that tear the bosom that they soil;
Oh! if there be in retrospection's chain,
One link that knits us with young dreams again,
One thought so sweet we scarcely dare to muse
On all the hardened raptures, it reminds,
Which seems an instant in its backward range
The heart to soften and its ties to change;
And every spring, untouched for years, to move,
It is—the memory of a mother's love.

Oh! I've looked on hands whose form
and hue
A sculptor's dream might be,
Yet are these aged wrinkled hands
Most beautiful to me.
