 —Mr. Brown, returning home one night in the wee small hours, from being detained at the office, hoped and prayed that his family might be sleeping soundly. As he approached his house, a dim light—dim, but still a light—glimmered in the living room.

—Slightly as he could, Mr. Brown unlocked the door, and slipped in. From the living room there came a gentle murmur, and then the unmistakable sound of a kiss—of kisses numerous and prolonged.
 —Caution thrown to the winds, Mr. Brown dashed in. He heard two gasps, uttered simultaneously, and saw the flushed faces of his daughter and a young man.

—"Mary," said Mr. Brown, sternly, "what does this mean?"
 —"Why, you know, dad, I—I love Jim, and tonight he is freshly shaved and his face is so smooth and sweet smelling that—"
 —"That will do, Mary, go to your room. I have something to say to this young man here."
 —"Young man," he continued, when Mary had slipped away, "take your hat and go. But, say, where do you get your shaving things?"

—At Hourigan's Drug Store, Georgetown, phone 70, "flattered the frightened young man, as he looked cautiously out of the room. Very carefully Mr. Brown wrote down the name and address in his pocket note book, and as he looked the door after the retreating form of young Jim, he muttered to himself:
 —"I must remember to go there first thing to-morrow and get some of that stuff if that's the way it works."

Little Girl Drowned
 While bathing with other children in the Credit at Norval on Tuesday afternoon, Pearl Louth, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Louth, got beyond her depth and was drowned, life being extinct, when the body was recovered by Mr. George Gollup a short time after the accident. Doctors were summoned and everything done to revive the little girl but without avail. Another little girl had a narrow escape, being rescued by a brother of deceased, who, however, had not seen his sister go under the water, but on missing her gave the alarm.

The spiritual window after removing the iron grating on the street and made his exit by the rear door. The drawers of the safe were pried open and papers scattered over the floor. So far as known only a few small articles were taken in each place. This is the fourth time Mr. Hourigan's premises, and the second time McKay Bros. premises have been broken into this year. It is about time some decided action was taken to bring the guilty parties to account.

Obituary
 THOMAS H. RUMFORD
 The death of Thomas H. Rumford took place at Guelph Hospital on Saturday morning last. Mr. Rumford was stricken with paralysis a week previous, from which he never rallied. Deceased conducted a successful shoe business in Georgetown and was one of our most progressive merchants.

Besides his widow three brothers survive deceased: A. Rumford, Forest; Charles and William of this town; also four sisters, Mrs. Wm. Light of Bostonport, Mrs. J. E. Robinson, Parkhill; Mrs. W. Washburn of Port Huron; and Mrs. A. Fitchett of Pinnebog, Mich. The remains were taken to Forest on Saturday afternoon and the funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the home of A. Rumford to Beechwood cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. Walker and Rev. D. J. Barnish. The funeral was held at Masonic temple and Bro. M. Thomas of Arkona, conductor of the burial service of that Order. Burial in the cemetery was by Rev. J. D. Livingston, L. P. Moore and C. W. Stewart. The members of Forest Lodge, A.E. & A.M. and a few visiting brethren attended in a body.

—Mrs. Drummond has disposed of her home on Queen St. to Mr. Robert Buchanan of town. The sale was made by E. A. Benham.

Are You Getting 6%?
 If your savings are not earning nearly 6%, while surrounded by undoubted security, they are not fully employed.
 Victory Loan Bonds not only afford the highest grade of security but, in the case of the 1934 maturity, yield an interest return of almost 6%.
 Furthermore, Canadian Victory Bonds are the most convenient form of investment. Coupons payable half-yearly will be cashed at any branch of any chartered bank in Canada and, should there arise a necessity for immediate cash, Victory Bonds will be found the most readily saleable of all securities.
