Growing Old

A little more grey in the lessening hair
Each day as the years go by
A little more stooping of the form
A little more dim the eye
A little more faltering of the step
As we tread life's pathway o'er
But a little nearer every day
To the ones who have gone before.

The city papers are telling their readers about the great riches the farmers are gathering in this year. But they forget to say that these riches have been made possible only by the toil, not only of the farmer himself, but by the toil of his wife and his boys and girls, all of whom are doing farm labor.

Muskoka in Autumn

Those who have never seen Muskoka in the autumn with its beautiful tinted leaves and foliage, have missed a sight beautiful to behold. The beauty of nature never more more vividly portrayed than in the view which unfolded before the eye while cruising the lakes of far-famed Muskoka in the autumn.

EXCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT
Within the corporation limits of Orillia cost two drivers of motor cars $5.00 and costs in the police court in that town on Wednesday of last week. Henceforth reckless motorists will be severely dealt with in the Court-house town. There is no excuse for recklessness. Dizzy-headed motorists who make speedways out of streets have no consideration for the safety of the public, and should be rigorously suppressed by the authorities of all well conducted urban municipalities.

Notes and Comments
THERE SEEMS to be a somewhat general impression that the past few good times on this continent have been reached, and that the next few months will see a slump in business. Henceforth reckless motorists will be severely dealt with in the Court-house town. There is no excuse for recklessness. Dizzy-headed motorists who make speedways out of streets have no consideration for the safety of the public, and should be rigorously suppressed by the authorities of all well conducted urban municipalities.

Notes and Comments
THERE ARE FEW RICH clergy-men," says the Farmers' Sun. True, most congregations feel it their duty to keep their minister relatively poor. Sometimes that is about the only duty they never neglect. "O, Lord, keep him humble, O Lord, and we'll keep him poor," was the ready interjection of one of the wealthiest of the flock. Rich clergymen are not to be desired. As a matter of fact, clergymen have no right to be rich. Their Master was poor, and so was his disciples. As a matter of fact, the higher the minister and his family the more they should be despised. The local public library has a big mission and so far it has filled it well. Its yearly issue of books shows its popularity and the fact that it is being conducted in satisfactory evidence of the fact that nothing is being wasted. It is only natural that the higher cost of everything should have found its way into books and libraries, as it has into everything else, and the increased demands are not excessive we hope they will be met and the efficiency of the library continued. If the library could be opened on Sunday afternoon, particularly during winter, there is a good reason for believing that its influence would be considerably augmented.

Notes and Comments
IT IS NOT THE MATTER of our municipal tax made a bug-bear? Is it not given too great a place in the public mind? Is it not the subject of so many a doubtful important nowadays to have a circulating library, which, while not altogether devoid of weakness, is a considerable counter effect to the determining influence of the "penny dreadful" and the "problem" and "spook" stories that are fed to the weaker minds of the public.
