A Few Points

Tombstones, Taxemeters and Clothing Advertisements are said to tell the biggest lies. Not simply as a matter of "Common Honesty," but as a matter of good business policy as well, we never "draw the long bow" or overstate a value.

We want your "all time" confidence, not your "one time" purchase. We don't go to any length to get business, but we do keep it when we get it.

IF I COULD GO BACK

If I could go back to the trail's beginning, back to the starting place over again,
I wonder would I have a chance of winning, would I come first in the race with men,
Would I the mistakes I have made repeat them, blundering on in the old, old way,
Foes who have triumphed, would I defeat them?
Who is there now can say.
If I could go back to the contest's starting, back where the flag would fall,
Would I, in front of the field go darting, distance my rivals all
Would I come first in the great endeavor winning the throng's acclaim,
Or would I finish far back and never have aught but myself to blame.
Would I remember the traps that caught me, warily walk of the pitfalls wide,
Would I remember what life has taught me, let my experience guide,
Or would I blunder in foolish fashion paying the price at last,
Winning from some a cold compassion, there as the throng went past.
What am I saying? My questings idle, still and all 'tis the way with men,
Unruled passions would I, then bridle; or would I give them the rein again,
How can I know? No chance have I to solve questions I vainly cry,
What is the profit if this I try, to what is hidden from Fate to pry.
This I say so the world may know it. None of the fault, dear wife, is thine,
Back in their teeth that charge I throw it, if I have failed the fault is mine.
Loving and helpful—your kind eyes show it—brave and faithful and sweet and true,
This my tribute that all may know it: No better pal can I ask than you.

White Honey Crop Better Than 1920

Muskoka Has Highest Yield Per Colony.—Halton Greatest Bulk

Reports received by the crop report committee of the Ontario Bee keepers' Association from 442 members, together, with special reports from 40 of the most prominent apiarists in different counties in the province, show that quality of the honey crop in Ontario this year is much better than in 1920, with a good average yield in all parts.

The total amount of white honey reported for the 47 districts considered is 1,591,276 pounds from 21,169 colonies, or an average yield of 75 pounds per colony. A small percentage of the honey reported is sold in comb honey sections. As a colony managed for comb honey will produce about half as much as one managed for extracted honey, the crop report committee has multiplied the number of pounds of comb honey by two before adding it in with the extracted.

As regards number of pounds of white honey reported, the county of Halton stands first, with 187,075 pounds from 1,198 colonies, or an average of 115 pounds per colony. Muskoka, with only two colonies, shows the highest average yield, namely, 150 pounds per colony. Algoma, with 28 colonies, and 3,800 pounds of white honey, or an average per colony of 136 pounds, is second in order of yield per colony. The report for Bruce shows that county, with the greatest number of colonies, namely 1,304, and a yield per colony of 79 pounds, or four pounds above the average yield for the total of colonies in the province mentioned in the report.

Witness Fee Increase

Among the several important amendments to the Ontario Statutes, as passed by the Legislature last spring, is one of outstanding interest to the average citizen. It deals with the revision of the fees allowed witnesses attending the criminal and civil courts and increases the stipend from 75c to $1.50 for each attendance. In addition the mileage allowed witnesses has been increased from 18 to 15 cents a mile, another item that should commend itself to outside citizens who have found the old allowances inadequate to meet the increased costs of travel.

The 75 cents fee for witnesses has been sharply criticized during the past three or four years, particularly by men who have had to leave remunerative work and attend court sometimes for half a day or longer.

Another revision that is evidence of the good judgment that inspires the present Provincial Government has to do with the imposition of suspended sentence on persons convicted of minor offences and the placing of such offenders under the chief of police or some private individual during the probation period, with conditions imposed that the offenders report at regular intervals and give an account of their actions. If any offender fails to report regularly as required, he may be called to court any time by the magistrate and a prison or monetary sentence imposed, the revised statutes set forth. The probation period may be reduced or lengthened by the magistrate, at any time, if desired.

A provision also provides for the settling of damage claims, laid under a criminal charge, by the probation method. A magistrate may impose suspended sentence on condition that the offender report regularly to a certain person and remunerate the complainant for his entire loss, as fixed by the court.

The whole tendency of the revisions is to dispose of minor criminal charges in a less drastic manner and to keep mild offenders out of the jails and thus relieve the municipalities of considerable expense. The amendments also place more responsibility on the man under the shadow of the law and, in reforming him and in stamping out much crime of a petty nature.

Man Gives Wife Glycerine Mixture

She had stomach trouble for years. After giving her simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, her husband says: "My wife feels fine now and has gained weight. It is wonderful stomach medicine." Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach and which you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach or chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. The impurities it brings out will surprise you. —L. V. Hourigan.

O. A. C. 104 Wheat

Highest Yielder Grown. Farmers are anxious to begin with this grand variety. Do not hazard next year's crop by seed of doubtful quality. The seed I have was grown on new land and has been harvested in grand shape. This wheat is a great stooler and 7 pecks to the acre is sufficient. 10 bushels or over, $2.00 bus. 5 to 10 bus. $2.50. Under 5 bus., $3.00.—W. F. BRADLEY.

Notes and Comments

THE DISCOVERY of the perennial sow thistle in Kent County is attracting the interest of the farmers near Chatham and an organized attempt is being made to prevent its spread in the county. J. H. Smith Public School Inspector for West Kent and a naturalist of considerable reputation, states that the sow thistle was seen in Kent five years ago, but has not made much headway in spreading during that time.

THE POST OFFICE department is reminding publishers by circular letter that, according to the amendment to the Post Office Act, passed during the session of Parliament of 1920, the rate of postage on newspapers and periodicals printed and published in Canada, daily, three times a week, semi-weekly, weekly, fortnightly or monthly, and sent from the office of publication to regular subscribers and to news dealers, will, on and after the 1st of January 1922, be one and a half cents per pound. There will be no charge as regards the free area accorded weekly, fortnightly and monthly publications.

ADDRESSING THE DRY GOODS section of the Retail Merchants' Association, at its annual convention, T. M. Humble, a well known advertising writer of Toronto, placed emphasis on the value to merchants of weekly newspaper advertising. "Every reader of a newspaper is a possible customer," he said. "Newspaper advertising costs less per actual thousand of people reached than any other form of publicity, not counting the prestige of your name appearing in a reputable newspaper. There never was a time in merchandising when newspaper advertising was more necessary or potent in its power to get business. Newspapers are the safest, surest and the cheapest means of reaching the greatest number of people."

AT A MEETING of the Automobile Club of Canada in Montreal the price of gasoline was discussed at length. It was pointed out that in Montreal and Toronto gasoline costs 90 per cent. more than it does in Detroit and other American cities. From enquiries made by the club, it was disclosed that in Detroit gasoline sells for 20 cents a gallon for some brands and at 21 cents for others. In Montreal the retail price for one grade is 37 cents, and 44 cents for another. Calculations were then made to show that the local price should be about 25 per cent. less than it is, even after making allowances for loss on exchange, freight, government taxes and the difference between the American and Canadian gallon.

AT THE PRESENT TIME a series of advertisements are appearing in our columns tending to educate the people to conserve our forest wealth through fire prevention. The destruction wrought by forest fires was brought home very closely to the weekly newspaper publishers who recently toured through Northern Ontario and in the province of British Columbia. Miles of valuable timber land has been laid waste by fire in both of these Provinces, the value of which cannot be estimated. The timber resources of Canada cannot be too carefully conserved and a perusal of the advertisements referred to is most strongly urged, especially in our own district what forest remains should be conserved and new wood lots should be planted out.

WE COPY THE FOLLOWING truth from "Observer" in the Guelph Herald:—

One of the things that the workingman with good reason very strongly objects to is that of handing large retiring allowances to officials in the public service who have been well paid for their services. As the workingman well knows, when he has to retire there is no handsome retiring allowance for him to fall back on—he is lucky if he has made enough to save something on.

Why, for instance, should the Ontario government hand out to J. D. Flavelle, late chairman of the Board of License Commissioners, a retiring allowance of approximately $8,500? He not only was in receipt of a good salary all the time he was in office, but he is a rich man who doesn't need the money nor any retiring allowance whatever. If we are to have pensions let them go all the way around, and only apply to those who need them, not to those who already have enough to live comfortably upon.

Talk about adding to him that hath; we do it alright in the public service, even although it ought not to be. Pensions should only be for those who really require them, and should not be to simply swell their estates when they die. Handing pensions to men like J. D. Flavelle, or to any men who do not need them, is entirely wrong.
