Duncan Campbell Buys Famous Shorthorn Herd

What is believed to be the largst private sale of Shorthorn cat le in Canada has taken place whoreby Duncan Campbell, ex-Warden of Halton county, who iven at Moffat, west of Milton, be comes the owner of the herd Shorthorns gathered by the late

Bir Frank Bailie.

The herd is composed of some of the best breeding blood and in dividual merit which could be a cured when Sir Frank was cetab lishing a hord. The figures aid always ran high, and include the sum of $15,000 for the "Rothes King, 4th," bred by the Duthies of Scotland. To house these cattle Sir Frank built a sta ble at Oakville, and it was expect ed that Lisonally Farm would be heard from among the best shows in America. Many of the cattle had been prize winners at the big shows of the British Isles.

The 70 head comprising ord were loaded on cars at th Oakville station, consigned Molfat, in Nassagaweya township. where they will be placed on the farms of Mr. Campbell, who has associated with him Thomas Amos. young member of the family of that name, well known as breeders. Donald Grant, who was one of the herdsmen at Lisonally, goes to Moffat in charge of of the herd and will remain there.

What is a 'Registered' Optometrist

A "Registered" Op-tem-etrist, first of all, is a specialist on sight and refraction, who has passed the Government examination, conferring the title, "Registered Optometrist." He is one who has devoted time and study, and is especialstrained for the scientific and efficient examination of eyes. His training and experience enable him to be unusual); skilful in adapting lensos and prisms for the ease, improvemen and conservation of eye sight. Eyestrain or defective vision is not a disease. It is a physical defect that glasses only will correct. But the registered optometrist is also particularly qualified to detect a diseased eye, in which case he always refers the patient to a physician Be assured that the "registered" optometrist will never ad vise glasses unless they will be of material benefit to your eyes
