Christmas!

We need no calendar to warn us of the approach of Christmas, for the brightest day in the history of civilization proclaims itself from afar. The first trumpetings of winter turn our thoughts to the great festival, and we yield ourselves with pleasurable sensations to the Christmas spirit.

The weightiest argument in favor of the authenticity of the New Testament lies in the continuity of the faith and hope inspired by the Star of Stars that hung over the little fown of Bethlebem in the long ago. Even the skeptio or the unbeliever, questioning or scouting the divinity of Jesus Christ' must concede that He spoke as never man spake, and that His simple gospel revolutionized the world.

It is not more miraculous that Christ died and rose again from the dead than that His spirit is born daily into the lives of millions.

He came to serve and to lift mankind. He laid hands of healing upon the world's wounds. By His example, He crystallized and vitalized truths that had been only groped for in the ages before Him. He challenged Hate to do its worse with Love, for He knew that Love is eternal

To think less of ourselves and more of our neighbors, to ease the burden of friend or stranger, to help the good cause or the discouraged comradein these wars we may widen and strengthen the in-

Every generous deed is a sacrament, a renewal of the bond between ourselves and that power with in us that makes for righteousness. The finest gift is one that represents a sacrifice, for there, truly, the heart goes with it. We are enriched, not by what we keep but by what we give away.

To put something in the heart as well as in the hand is to bestow a perfect gift. To rekindle in a faltering or stricken soul confidence in the Eternal Good, though the instrument be only a stimulating word or the smallest gift-by such simple means we may lay up treasure in that City builded by no band and unassailable from any shore. By so much we bear testimony to the Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

was as usual a grand success. The program was all home talent and proved quite equal, and in some respects superior to that which is usually imported for such occasions. The opening choruses by the boys of the school were good; the violin duets by Bert and Jack Thompson are always apprec iated; the old reliable local quartette consisting of Messrs Herbert, Ross, Castell and Cole were in good form and upheld their part of the program magnificiently; the Butterfly Drill by Girls of the School was very pretty and nicely executed; the solos by Miss Josephine Willson were well rendered and delighted all; the Folk Dances by Girls of the High School proved an attractive feature and were

I heard the bells on Christmas day Their old familiar carols play And wild and sweet The words repeat ---

Of peace on earth, good will to And thought how, as the day he

The belfries of all Christendom Had rolled along

The unbroken song Of peace on earth, good-will to Till ringing, singing on its way, The world revolved from night to A voice, a chime.

A chant sublime. Of peace on earth, good will to

The cannon thundered in th

- And with the sound The carols drowned Of peace on earth, good-will to It was as if an earthquake rent

The hearth stones of a continent, And made forlorn The bouseholds born

And in despair I bowed my head "There is no peace on earth," "For hate is strong And mocks the song

Of peace on earth, good-will t Then pealed the bells more

"God is not dead, nor doth He The wrong shall fail The right prevail. With peace on earth, good-will to
