"Alf's Button"

7 Reels of Laughter, an All British Production

The story in brief—Alf Iggitto is a typical ex-cooler Tommy of the British army. He had the same abhorrence for cleanliness: his buttons, that many others had. The British Government had been forced to commandeer some brass vessels in order to get the metal for their army buttons, and among other articles had melted down Aladdin's lamp. The new tunic issued to Alf has a button on it made from the metal of the world-famous lamp. His trials therefore are many for every time he rubs that button the slave appears and in satisfying his wishes he causes considerable havoc with convention.

In Death Valley.
Death valley is a narrow area between the Panamint and Funeral mountains in California. It is irrigated by the Amargosa river, which is usually a dry channel, though probably it was formerly full of water. The level of the valley is covered with salt, supposed to have been brought by the torrents from the surrounding desert and left on the evaporation of the water. Death valley is said to be the hottest and driest place in the United States.

A Dead One.
The late Amelia E. Barr, who wrote sixty successful novels, was a keen and original critic. She was discussing one of her own death scenes with a New York publisher last spring, and expressed profound dissatisfaction with the chapter. "That death," she said warily, "has so life to it."

Overheard.
One evening as two of my girl friends and myself were returning from school we said some things about one of our classmates, which were not at all flattering. Upon looking back a moment later I was shocked to find our classmate walking behind us—Exchange.

He Who Knows.
He who knows nothing thinks he can teach others what he has himself just been learning. He who knows much, secretly believes that what he is saying is unknown to others, and consequently speaks with more hesitation.—La Bruyere.

Willing to Fall.
Freddy (who has eaten his apple)—"Let's play at Adam and Eve." Millie—"How do we do that?" Freddy—"You tempt me to eat your apple and I give way."

No Longer Funny.
As a general thing, when a woman asks her husband not to make an exhibition of himself it is a sign that she has got over the idea that he is cute.

The Tie That Binds.
Lawyer—"On what grounds, madam, do you wish a divorce from your husband?" Client—"Why, I married him for his money, and he has lost everything."

What Vanderbilt Means.
The name Vanderbilt (Van der Bill or Byt) means "of the mill." Cornelius Vanderbilt, therefore, means literally "Cornelius of the mill."

Looms for Invalids.
Interesting specimens of weaving are made on very small and simple looms, which may be attached to the frame of the bed for use by invalids.

Can Combat Blood-Poison.
An English scientist asserts he has perfected a method whereby metals that have been absorbed by human blood can be withdrawn by electrolysis.

Tricks of the Trade.
Lawyer (to fair client, a defendant)—"When a young furor looks at you, weep; when an old one looks at you, flirt."

Knows Where to Look.
First Farmer—"How do you find your new bird-when-Easy?" Second Farmer—"I look in the shade of the tree nearest his work."

How Cruel!
Edith—"Loss of sleep, you know, means loss of beauty." Maud—"Indeed. How long have you been troubled with insomnia?"

Worth the Money.
A girl will cheerfully give up a dollar to have a fortune teller inform her that she isn't going to be an old maid.

Fountain Pen Reservoir.
The reservoir of a new fountain pen holds as much as an ordinary small bottle of ink, and is shaped to fit the hand comfortably.

Generally Does.

Be a Thoughtful Santa Claus This Christmas

Give Her Freedom from Washday Drudgery for a Lifetime

SURPRISE her this Christmas. She is expecting, hoping for something practical. Watch her face light up with happiness when she sees at the foot of the Christmas tree this handsome-washday servant—and realizes that her drudgery days are over. That here, at last, is the gift she has secretly hoped and wished for.

1900 Cataract Electric Washer

Washday becomes a pleasant day when the 1900 Cataract enters the home. It ends hard-work. It ends rubbing. It puts an end to the back-breaking task of wringing; and gives a whiter, clearer result. Everything can be washed in the 1900, even heavy sheets or blankets. The cleansing, soapy water rushes back and forth, swirling through the clothes with every motion of the tub, and four times as often as in the ordinary washer. There are no parts in the tub to cause wear and tear or to wrench off bottoms. The spring reversible wringer works electrically: the entire cost of running the 1900 is only 10¢ an hour. You can buy a 1900 Washer on deferred payments and have the use of it several weeks on approval before you pay any money, or even commit yourself positively to buying it.

We believe you will like it so well that you'll not want to part with it afterwards.
