LET'S GO

"There isn't any business," waited the sad and gloomy man. "I haven't made a dollar since the armistice began." But I couldn't help reflecting, as I heard his story through, that the hopeful, cheerful hustler seems to have a lot to do.

I've been in business places where the air was thick with gloom and the men were sad and solemn like the mourners at a tomb, and there wasn't any business, or any order coming in. And, what's more, there never will be till those fellows start to grin.

"There isn't any business," aren't you weary of the cry? Men have caught the gloomy habit and they sit around and sigh, but the hustler, I have noticed, who has a bit, his easy chair. And is confidently working, seems to gather in his share.

It is time to get the business, it is time to hustle out. With a man's faith in the future—much too long we've scattered our seed. Much too long we've sobbed and whimpered, much too long we've talked of woe. Now it's time for optimism and the hopeful phrase: "Let's go!"

The Sunny South

Writing to the Herald from Nassau, Bahamas, B.W. I., under date of Jan. 14th, Mr. Morley Peitch says:—

"The particular points in the Southland that we have visited are so much as usual. Business depression is pretty general, with Miami, Florida, making a brave show, and pessimists croaking louder than ever. It is the fifth winter I have visited that town and growth in that time is remarkably good; but there is by far the most building going on in the business section that I have seen in any one winter. The First National Bank is putting up a ten story building to cost three quarters of a million dollars, and all over are new stores, hotels and apartment houses to take care of winter visitors." Just now the result is that there are vacant rooms in every hotel, vacant stores on every street, and vacant houses and apartments to rent are offering them for almost anything they can get. One man had rented an apartment house for $1,000 for the season and expected to clean up a tidy sum by letting the apartments to tourists who were to start coming in November. At last now he had practically no one in, and his landlord had generously agreed to share his loss with him.

But they have the climate, and are convenient to millions of people who in ordinary times are prosperous, so they will likely ride the storm. Of course this little island one hundred and eighty miles across the water from Miami has them all trimmed for climate. Just now we are having a "cold" north west wind and a temperature of 60. Almost as cold as it ever gets, yet it never goes above eighty in winter. The coldest winter had that soft mildness gained from crossing the gulf stream. The growing of tomatoes for the winter market is growing in popularity. They started shipping in early December and thousands of boxes go north by every steamer that calls. As frost is unknown, and snowing out does not occur as in Florida, it seems a much better proposition.

For the second time in history these islands are making money out of a civil war in the U.S.A. Once it was a war between the North and the South, and when the North declared a blockade of Southern ports blockade runners established headquarters in Nassau for getting supplies into the South under siege. It brought lots of money here and a very fine hotel, the Royal Victoria, was built for the entertainment of men who were making and spending it. It is still one of the two best hotels in the city. Again there is civil war in the States, and again blockade runners have headquarters in Nassau, only now they call them "boot-leggers" and if the quantity of supplies getting over to the besieged towns is any indication it is going to take longer to furnish the rebels into subjection than it did to starve their forefathers.

Of course the Americans try to give Nassau a bad name in this connection as they do Canada, but here at least their own citizens are doing the bulk of the bootlegging. With open bars everywhere one seldom sees a drunken man on the street here. Perhaps it is because the bootleggers have got the price up too high. I don't know."

Notes and Comments

ONE HUNDRED and fifty prominent Canadian manufacturers, reviewing conditions and outlook for 1922, in the January issue of the "Industrial Canada," the official publication of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, take a generally hopeful view of the industrial situation. In the opinion of the large majority, Canada had seen the worst of the depression and from now on a slow but steady improvement in business and manufacturing conditions is anticipated. By careful overlighting, and the exercise of energy and prudence, conditions will gradually right themselves again.

THE ELECTIONS of Grenville did themselves proud on Thursday in re-electing Hon. Arthur Meighen to Parliament by a majority that not only testified to the appreciation of the ex-Premier's worth but rebuked his Progressive opponents for their lack of courtesy in denying him an acclamation, which, seeing that they allowed all the Cabinet Ministers to be returned by acclamation, was his reasonable due. Parliament requires men of Mr. Meighen's ability, and for that reason, and also that Canadians generally have a very high regard for him personally, his re-election was generally hoped for and will be hailed with satisfaction.

HANOVER COUNCIL has passed a resolution recommending that hereafter the town council be remunerated for its services. The law allows councillors $5 a day, but they must pass a by-law to that effect. Township and county councils always take pay, but so far towns and villages have not taken advantage of the Act. Just why councillors and commissioners should serve the public for nothing, while every other service is being paid for, is one of the things we could never understand. Some refer to the honor given those elected. It is a certain amount of honor, but if honest service is given why should it not be paid for?

White Others Wait—You Sell!
by Long Distance

ALADDIN rubbed his lamp and summoned anyone to his presence. The same thing is being done today — only Aladdin's lamp has changed to a telephone.

Call the man you long to do business with, by Long Distance, and he is virtually in your presence when he lifts the receiver to listen. Practically you are face to face. Long Distance makes him more accessible than if he lived next door. The man you might hesitate to borrow a monkey-wrench from greets you cordially when you call him. While others cool their heels in outer-offices, waiting, you sell him.

He is in a receptive frame of mind. His curiosity is appealed to. He realizes the conversation will be brief, and lets down the bars. And when a salesmen knows his goods there is something in the tones of his voice that carries conviction—puts over the deal. Your goods go through doors that were formerly closed to them.

Because of the very low rates on Station-to-Station calls after 8:30 P.M. Evening and Night calls by Long Distance are being used more and more for business purposes. It only requires a little planning.
