ON THE RIGHT ROAD Spite of all the growlers say: World is runnin' right! Sunshine silverin' the day." Hope an' heaven in sight! Winters never come to stay.

Roses redden every May. Hallelujah on the way-World is runnin right. Take the leasson to your soul: World is runnin' right !

An' 'tis Love that makes it roll With Love's beaven in sight! Love, that leads from the gloom, An' the shadow of the tomb To the beauty an' the bloom-World B'runnin' right! -Erank L. Stanton

The annual meeting of the Halton Protective Association was held in the town hall here on Wednesday of last week, and was largely attended. The association is in a healthy condition, finan-cially and otherwise, their being nearly $800 in the treasury. On account of the large number of chicken stealing cases being reof the association, it was unanimougly decided to engage the services of a detective to run down the thieves. At present the association has the largest membership in its history. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, R. E. Harrison; Vice-President, W. E. McCready; Sec. retary-Treasurer, Jas. H. Wilson. Reeve Mordon of Trafalgar, and Mrs. Mordon, leave this week for

Florida, where they will spend a couple of months or so. inspector Floody of the Inland Revenue Department seized a still in full operation at the home of Harry Hilson, Milton Heighte. MARTINO'S SINGING LIKE THRUSH OR NIGHTINGALE, SAYS OREGONIAN CRITIC guaranteed. Skates sharpened and concaved. Phone 200. Main st., North, Georgelown. One of the finest-tributes to the vocal prowess of Miss Josephine Martino, appeared in the Portland Oregonion some time ago from the pen of Joseph MacQuentin, one of the best known critics of the west. Here is what he said : "It seemed as f a real live thrush or nightingale visited the auditorium last night when Josephine Martino, soprano, lifted her fresh, delicious, young voice in song Miss Martino is just a little beyond high school age and is niready a highly gifted concert star. By nature she was intended to be a singer, and wise socal training has polished and made Oner a voice that is naturally sweet and of bird-like purity. If Miss Martino sings a year or two more and gets a tittio more concert experience, she will be of the Tetrazzini order of song

The foregoing is a sample of the lav ish press commendation which has been accorded Miss Mortino in her public work during the past few years. Her voice has attracted the attention of no less a personage than Enrico Caruso, who has predicted a great mu sical future for her. Former Presilent Wilson heard her sing two year ago and complimented her personally She is a distinguished artist rapidly forging to the front.
