A Weekly Talk with Home

by Long Distance

"Why don't you talk home by Long Distance telephone?" said Mr. Wyndham-King, Banker, to his secretary, "Have a good talk with your mother occasionally; it will do you good."

The young woman, an invalid and to the busy banker, had not been at her best for some time, and her work was suffering.

"I never thought of telephoning," she confessed when the suggestion was made, "I'll surely try it!"

She was simply homesick; her employer had guessed right!

These weekly talks with her home have made a wonderful difference in the girl's life. Her health, her work, her general outlook on life have all reflected the change.

Long Distance did it! It is doing the same thing for hundreds by bridging the gulf between them and far-away home and friends. Station-to-station service with low Evening and Night rates has brought Long Distance within the reach of everyone.

After 8:30 P.M. Station-to-Station rates are about half the day rate. At midnight they become about one-quarter the day rate.

Notes and Comments

IF THE SAME amount of attention had been devoted to the boys of thirty years ago as is being paid to the boys of today by various organizations, one wonders whether the most of us would be where we are, or better or worse off.

PREMIER DUBRY and his cabinet will please take note that Manitoba's cabinet ministers have undertaken a reduction in salaries, from the Prime Minister all the way down the line. On March 1 the salary of every minister will be reduced $800 a year.

THE SHERIFFS of Ontario are not going to be added to the list of unemployed. There is not the slightest likelihood of this national and honorable office being abolished. When questioned respecting the possibility of such a step being taken, Attorney-General Raney replied that the office was to be strengthened and made of more importance.

IT IS RECORDED of Lord Byng, Canada's Governor-General, that he never makes more than a ten-minute speech. "May he and all such as he live long and prosper," is the fervent ejaculation of many weary people who have to sit and listen to long-winded harangues that leave the audience as much puzzled as to what the speaker is talking about as possibly the speaker is himself when he winds up.

FOR YEARS CANADA has been proud of her banking system. Since the passing of the day of the private banking house the chartered banks have engendered a confidence which has rarely been misplaced. Recent occurrences, however, are reason for demanding that even closer governmental inspection should be made. To this end the appointment of a parliamentary committee to make a thorough inquiry into banking conditions in Canada and the Canadian Banking Act will, it is reported, be made at the coming session of Parliament.

THERE'S A nice little fish to be tried if the Ontario Legislature acts on the suggestion of the National Council of Women and makes a wife entitled to share the income of her husband, irrespective of whether he wants her or not. We don't mind their declaring that the dear ones are the equals of their poor men, if they are tired of claiming to be our superiors in many respects let them come down to being our equals if they want to, but for goodness sake be careful about further emptying our pockets.

In a great many homes to-day, when a man comes home after his week's work is done, he simply hands his salary cheque or envelope over to his wife and she either takes out what she wants or hands him back his allowance of spending money, and the incident is closed. To these men the fact that the law only allows the wife to take half will be a regular boon, but I suppose the better halves beg pardon, our equals—will retort that the half is for themselves and it doesn't concern household expenses, so there doesn't appear to be much hope for poor men—not in this world, anyhow, whatever there is in the next, where there is no marrying or giving in marriage.

If things go on as they are going there will be very little left for men to have any say in when it comes to regulating their actions and habits. First they took our beer away from us, now they want to remove our tobacco, and quite naturally the dear ones cannot see any good reason for they have cut off most of our privileges for us having any spare cash to fritter away in poker and a few other things dear to the heart of a man. We shouldn't need much to spend, that is a certainty, the way things are going.

But, let the ladies beware. One of these days the men folk may rise in all their wrath and rebel, and if they do the state of Ireland in the former days will be as nothing to the state of the homes where man demands, his liberty, his beer, his tobacco, and his right to freedom from having his pockets searched when he lays his weary head upon the pillow to enjoy a well-earned rest from the exertions and petty annoyances of this wicked, woman over-ridden world—Observer, Guelph Herald.

The trouble with some of the movie actors and actresses is that they are trying to strain their morals through too coarse a screen.

Have you tried Brown's Broad yet? If not, why not? It is the cheapest and has both quality and quantity. Get in the habit of saving and deal at Brown's Bakery.

Farmers in Sombra are having their cattle vaccinated as "black leg" is very prevalent. It is said the disease is caused by a germ in the dried-up grass of the pasture fields.

The best and smartest place to get a first-class shoe repairing job is at Roney's. Repairs while you wait and we save you 30 to 40 per cent. Our experience gives us the advantage over common cobblers. —J. Roney.

Live Stock Judging Contest

The county judging contest has been postponed to March 6 to 9, at Milton. Prizes offered in the final contest comprise, Shorthorn bull by F. C. Willmott; Shorthorn bull by A. F. Huxford and heifer by W. Rowhead; Holstein heifer by J. Leslie; and Yorkshire sow by J. E. Brothour. Boys under 28 years should make a special effort to attend and compete for one of the above animals.

For Sick Children

By the will of Mrs. Margaret Hamilton Pickett, who died in Milton on Jan. 28th, she made the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, her sole legatee. The hospital, it is understood, will get about $10,000. Mrs. Pickett spent her girlhood in Milton, but since then spent many years in other places. About five or six years ago, Mr. Pickett's health having failed, the couple returned to Milton. He died in hospital about three years ago.

Big Orange Celebration for Guelph

Guelph Orangemen are already busy preparing plans for the big Orange celebration to be held in this city on July 12 next, and, according to officials of the local lodges, very encouraging reports have been received from outside places in connection with the affair. Word has been received from West York that at least 2,000 will be here on the occasion, while other counties to be represented are: Halton, Peel, North Perth, Waterloo, South Wellington and Brant. It is expected that the celebration will be the largest ever held in this district. —Mercury.

J. A. McGill Promoted

It is a pleasure to congratulate Mr. J. A. McGill of the C.P.R., on his promotion from the position of City Passenger Agent in Ottawa, which he has held for six years, to the new position of general agent of the company in the Capital. John McGill is an old Linn house boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. McGill, Church St., Georgetown. It is men like Mr. McGill who build the greatness and success of the C.P.R. In a recent address President Beatty attributed the railway's pre-eminent position to the good will of the public. It is through its officers that the public meets the railway company and is accorded the treatment that inspires its goodwill. In this respect the interests of the great company are in capable hands in Ottawa. Mr. McGill embodies the qualities that make a valuable representative of such an institution as the C.P.R. So much so that the company has promoted him to create a new position in its organization, that of general agent in the larger centres. Mr. McGill's appointment being the first of his kind.

Oakville's Centennarian

The 100th birthday of Rev. Thomas Martineau was celebrated in the Methodist Church, Oakville, on Wednesday evening, 15th inst. The church was filled, the Mayor and council were present, also about 100 members of the Orange order and Lady Orange. There were many telegrams and letters of congratulation. Mr. Jefferies was handed a bag containing $100 in gold, one for each year of his life. Mr. and Mrs. Jefferies were presented with bouquets. Mr. Jefferies carried a silk Union Jack, which he waved in response to applause and, in his short, but well expressed reply, he asked that when he died his body should be wrapped in the flag. Mr. Jefferies was born in Bath, England. When 17 years of age he became a local preacher in the New Connection Methodist Church. He came to Canada in 1847. His ship was wrecked off Cape Breton and the passengers got to shore in small boats. He was ordained in 1847 and began work in the Canadian backwoods, where he had a hard time of it as a saddle bag preacher. Usually he was paid in provisions. His salary for one year was $20. On the union of the Methodist Church in 1874 he was superannuated and moved to Trafalgar, later going to Oakville. Mr. Jefferies has been an Orangeman for 70 years.
