Correspondence

Dear Editor: I'm sending you my sentiments on this debate about hits and misses of married life, and I'm sending 'em in rhyme. Not my own rhyme, either. I'm a prosy old fellow, but it's exactly how I feel. As I like it, folks don't need to look on marriage as a sort of siege of perpetual peace. A flare up once in a while isn't going to do any lasting damage to the holy estate of matrimony. As you of your correspondents has said, it's a business proposition and any business man knows there's got to be differences in opinion, and plenty speaking between partners sometimes just to to, well, preserve the balance of power. But here's the verses.

"COME ON IN"
Is marriage a failure? Well, now I dunno,
I embarked on the venture a look
Some time ago.
Not always smooth sailing we both realized,
And many's the time that we almost capsized,
But the mate was a good one, and
In fair or ill weather she did her true part.
She sighted the rocks many times
From afar,
And steered us to safety, like a jolly good lar.
Sometimes we met pirates out on the high seas;
Our snug little bark gave a wide berth to these,
For the tide washed up wrecks of many good ships.
Who fool 'round with danger to spice up their trips.
The ocean of life is a mighty big place,
And the lone sailor sure needs a whole lot o' grace.
As a hardened old cruiser still sailing the brine
I say, "Come on in, folks, the water is fine." "M.S."

Ontario Municipal Electric Association

The representatives of the municipalities in the Ontario Municipal Electric Association made it emphatically clear where they stand on the question of Sir Adam Beck, the Hydro Commission and Hydro radicals, at their meeting in Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Standing solidly together they made it very apparent that the municipalities interested are prepared to fight for their rights, and the rights involved in the attack on Hydro, even though it be a provincial government which proposes to encroach upon those rights. There is every reason to believe that as the contest wages very material support will be forthcoming from the majority of the municipalities of Ontario, for if the administration will encroach in one respect it is certain to do so in others as it becomes flushed with power.

Very heartily did the gathering express its confidence, and the confidence of the people of Ontario, towards Sir Adam Beck, and the latter reciprocated by declaring that he was willing to continue as their leader to the end of an announcement which will be received with gratification generally and ensures able leadership against the forces which are being lined up against the public ownership movement. Faults the chairman of the Hydro Commission may have, like the rest of us, but the mass of the people have faith in his personal integrity, largeness of outlook, in his public spirit and in his large capacity for public service.

The association by resolution protested against any interference by the provincial government with the existing Hydro Electric system, based as it is upon contractual obligations between the power municipalities and the commission. Particularly does the association protest against the policy of having the government take over the executive work of the commission and assume direct responsibility for it.

Equally emphatic were the representatives of the municipalities concerning the question of Hydro radicals. They very clearly and plainly told the power that to be cease attempting to curb the activities in behalf of a provincial scheme of radials, and conclusively, but resolutely, declared opposition to a scheme designed to put a drag on the whole movement.

In his address to the municipal representatives Sir Adam again explained the reasons why expenditure on the Chippawa work had exceeded the estimates—the enormous increases in the prices of materials and labor, labor inefficiency, unexpected delays in the supply of machinery, when supplied, the necessity of rushing the work at any cost, etc. So far from resenting the proposal that an investigation be made of this expenditure on the Chippawa work, he said he would welcome such an investigation. Evidently Sir Adam is not afraid of the searchlight. He does not deny that the power development work at Chippawa and Queenston has cost much more than was expected, but he claims that, costly as it is, the capital cost per horse-power will be as great as is that of the privately owned power plants on the other side of the river. If this claim, upon examination, proves to be sound, it will be a good defence for the Hydro Commission and a thorough refutation of the attacks of the anti-powerites.

Milton

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fleming announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Rita, to Robert Stuart Murray, son of Mr. Jas. Murray, all of Esqueving, the marriage to take place soon.
Mr. Anderson, M.P., now attending to his parliamentary duties at Ottawa, spent the week-end at his home here.
Mr. and Mrs. T. Cox of Esqueving, who have moved into town and taken up their residence in their handsome and commodious new brick dwelling on Martin St., will be a valuable acquisition to our citizenship. We understand Mr. Cox will open up a wood yard on his property and will do the townpeople at the wood they want on most reasonable terms. People have been paying most exorbitant prices the past few years for their firewood, but Mr. Cox promises to put a stop to that sort of thing. He informs us that he has about 825 acres from which to draw his supplies, and is therefore in a position to make good his promise. That's the kind of a man the town has been looking for for some time.—Reformer.

Acton

Mr. H. S. Holmes, G.T.H. Agent, who was in Toronto General Hospital for several weeks, treatment for cataract on the right eye, has almost entirely recovered, and expects to return to his duties in a week or so. The operation was quite successful.
Mr. Harvey Wilson of Georgetown is moving to Acton where he has taken a position with Mr. H. S. Wilson.
Postmaster and Mrs. James Matthews celebrated their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary, Friday 24th. They were married in Acton and have lived together very happily these years. The congratulations of the community are to be credited them and best wishes extended that they may still be married to each other.—Free Press.
