Easter

EASTER will be, with us again in a few days. Easter morn, the glorious morn that fills us with hope, that bright angel who is ever ready and waiting to unlock the gates which leads us to ever lasting life, if we only follow the lesson set us by our Saviour and live pure and noble lives, and so know our appreciation of God's great gift to the world, for the beautiful story of Christ's resurrection must forever arouse our souls to renewed efforts at exaltation of the Master's life, and strive, all that is noble and best in human nature with desire for expression.

There is something beautiful about spring: it is the time that gladdens the heart, invigorates the tired step and renews hope in all of us and every thing, for many flowers blossom beautifully at East-ertide, in loving remembrance of the One Who gave His life for us.

The bright blossoms, the beautiful trees, the happy, chirping birds, those harbingers of spring, all seem to come direct from the heavens to brighten our hearts and to inspire us with faith and hope, and to teach us confidence, which after all, is but a branch of the tree of faith.

Just as the flowers and trees glorify spring and gladden our hearts, so should we do our share towards brightening this hopeful season by helping one another. Therefore, wrap around you love as a garment, and warm robes of cordial kindness, and help all fellow creatures who came in your path, thus making the world brighter and better for your goodness, for this is indeed our Master's desire.

Remember, the flowers give fragrance and beauty; the birds give song; the sun gives light; and we can give these, and more, if we will, by being patient, sweet, loving and helpful, extending sympathy to those in trouble, lending a helping hand to those in need, and giving a loving word to the sad at heart.

Watch for the moments in which you may do good. It will not be wasting time; you will be helping others, and at the same time aiding your own nature to blossom forth in beauty.

Notes and Comments

DESPERATE EFFORTS ARE being made by cities, villages and rural municipalities to reduce tax rates, but in most cases these efforts are futile, and rates threaten to increase rather than decrease. The amount of economy that municipalities can procure is inconsiderable, while increasing burdens are coming from the outside. The heaviest expenditures are on education and on roads, both worthy objects, but expansion in outlays has been going on too rapidly, it seems to many.

HYDRO MUNICIPALITIES are to be linked together before long by a system of wireless telephones, so that when ice storms put the power system out of business and the ordinary telephone, as well as all the wireless system to fall back upon for information. This ought to save a great deal of time in locating wire trouble and turning on the power after a break has been repaired. Besides that, it ought to provide some facility for securing wire as to where the trouble is and how long the power will be off—lack of which has been the cause of much inconvenience of power shut-downs to day.

THE SALARY PAID to Mr. Howard G. Kelley, as president of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, is $50,000 per annum. This salary is all chargeable to the Grand Trunk and subsidiary companies within the system. No portion of the amount is chargeable to the Grand Trunk Pacific properties and Mr. Kelley receives nothing whatever from those properties at the present time. Mr. Kelley also received $2,000 as directors' fee from the Grand Trunk Railway. This information was given by the Minister of Railways in the House of Commons this afternoon, in reply to W. F. Garland (Conservative, Carleton). The Minister further gave particulars as to the salaries paid to a number of the other officers of the Grand Trunk. Frank Scott receives $18,000 per annum; W. H. Biggar, $20,000; W. D. Robb, $19,000; J. E. Daly, $18,000; R. S. Ross, $14,000 per annum. These amounts also are all chargeable to the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada.

GEORGETOWN HAS MANY beautiful trees and still there is room for many more. Why not have an Arbor Day proclaimed during the first week in May for the purpose of encouraging the planting of trees in the newer portions of our town. As a matter of fact, the encouragement is needed generally by all over the town, for there are many wide gaps filling the older streets which are treeless. Once upon a time Arbor Day was given yearly custom, and it accomplished considerable in the way of securing reforestation. It could well safely be tried out again, but associated with the day it is necessary to have a supply of trees on hand that can be purchased at a small price and easily secured. Helpers recognize the value of nice-growing trees, but the difficulty and expense of securing them acts as a deterrent. Remedy this defect and we have no doubt that an Arbor Day would be a great success and lead itself to considerable tree-planting.

A MATTER which is worthy of general consideration at this time of year, is that of taking "short cuts" across the grass on lawns and boulevards. The time gained by such a practice is not worth considering when balanced against the damage thoughtlessness in such steps can inflict when the ground has not dried up after the passing of the winter's snows. It may seem a small matter, but the real town beautiful can never be attained until we learn to pay attention to the little details which make or mar the appearance of the town. Well kept lawns play a big part, and it is the duty of everyone to assist by using the walks instead of the sward just now, when taking a short cut may result in lasting damage being done. At this time of the year, when private lawns and boulevards are in a more or less stony state, they can be seriously damaged and marred by persons taking a "short cut" across them. This disposition on the part of many pedestrians is perhaps due more to thoughtlessness than inconsiderateness or selfishness. It is to be hoped that residents of the town generally will, especially at this time of year, "watch their step" and keep off the grass as much as possible.

I have to watch a rooster crow. He's like so many men I know, who brag and bluster, ramp and shout, and beat their manly chests without.

The first damthing to crow about.

"How's this?" asked the lawyer. "You've named six bankers in your will to be the pallbearers. Of course it's all right but wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?" "No judge that's all right." Those fellows have carried me so long they might as well finish the job."

MAJOR JETHRO G. ROBERTS

Major (Dr.) Jethro G. Roberts, who died last Wednesday in his 59th year at his home, 67 & Gloucester Street, after an illness of several months was a well-known dentist and formerly a prominent resident of Brampton. He had lived in that town 12 years and was for several years chairman of the High School Board and well known in musical and lacrosse circles. He was appointed in 1916 to take charge of the dental clinic at the Central Military Convalescent Hospital, Collyer Street, under the M.H.C.C., later the D.S.C.R. and was later stationed at Spadina Hospital. He was very popular among returned soldiers. The late Dr. Roberts was past master of Ionic Masonic Lodge and a former trustee of Grace Methodist Church, Brampton. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Ina and Jessie of Toronto, and three sisters, Mrs. R. Golding and Mrs. L. Roberts of Toronto, and Mrs. W. Milner, Winnipeg. His only son, Lieut. James Roberts, was killed at Amiens in the drive of 1918.
