THE LESSON

sat in the school of sorrow, The Master was teaching there. But my eyes were dim with weep-

And my heart was full of care. Instead of looking upward, And seeing His face divine; So full of the tenderest pity, For weary hearts like mine. I only thought of the burden. The cross that before me lay ;

So hard, and heavy to carry,

That it darkened the light of da So I could not learn my lesson, And say "Thy will be done," And the Master came not near me As the weary hours went on

At last, in my heavy sorrow, I looked from the cross above : And I saw the Master watching With a glance of tender love, He turned to the cross before me And I thought I heard him say

And learn thy task to-day.' "I may not tell the reason Tis enough for thee to know That I, the Master, am teaching And give this cup of woe."

So I stooped to that weary sorrow One look at that face divine And say "Thy will, not mine." And thus I learned my lesson Taught by the Master alone, He only knows the tears I shed For He has went His own.

But from them came a brightness Straight from the home above Where the school life will be end

And the cross will show the love
