Oddfellows and Rebekah Lodges at Church

On Sunday evening a splendid banquet of men and ladies representing the local Oddfellows and Rebekah Lodges worshipped in the Baptist church. The whole centre section of the church was occupied by these as was any sitting in the side seats. Rev. Jas. H. Moore, pastor of the church welcomed them on behalf of the members. Kind words were said of the splendid principles upon which the lodges have been based. The Oddfellows indeed could hold such standards for to hold them would necessarily make them different than other men, yet to be true to the principles of the lodges on which the lodges based their claims was imperative. Every member who failed to be true weakened the chain of the Order in the community. The lodges are known to the outside only by the kind of members who belong to them. Jonathan's love for David was given as a first pattern of true friendship and love. The visitors were advised to read the story again of that noble example of what friends ought to be to each other. Their friendship and love was ideal because it was based on truth and faith which led to hope and noble charity as seen in David's kindness to Jonathan's son years after the father was slain in battle. Oddfellows and Rebekahs ought to aim at such friendship as this and allow nothing of selfishness to hinder the practice of such virtues. To accomplish this in one's own strength seems impossible, yet it must be if all would be true. Jesus Christ, David's greater son, was declared to be alone able to give moral force sufficient for the task. To prove his friendship he died for all. None may despair, all may be saved since he bore the sins of humanity in his own body on the tree. All were exhorted to get right with God and find him the power of God unto salvation to every one that believed. In Him every member could raise the standards of their lodges high that none might deride. Mr. Dilly's solo and a quartette number were beautifully rendered and the music by the choir appreciated.

Norval

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sharp, near Norval, gathered at their home on Friday evening of last week to bid their good bye on the eve of their departure to Sandusky to home near Cheltenham. A very pleasant evening was spent in speech making, games and dancing. Mr. Sharp has farmed in the vicinity of Norval for over twenty years and during his residence there the family made many warm friends. They were presented with two comfortable chairs by Mrs. John Ismond and the following address was read by H. C. Pettigrew: To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Sharp: We, your friends and neighbors, have gathered here to spend a social hour with you on the eve of your departure from your old home. We feel that your removal from our midst will be a distinct loss to the neighborhood. Your many acts of kindness during the long period in which you have resided amongst us have been much appreciated. We are glad to know that in going to your new home you will not be far removed from us, and we look forward with pleasure to further social times with you. We congratulate you on the fact that you are leaving a successor in the person of Major Leach, a respected citizen of this neighborhood. May we further say that it is our earnest desire that you have much happiness in your new home and that God's blessing may abundantly rest upon you, and now in leaving us we would like you to carry with you some token of our esteem and affection, so we take this opportunity to ask you to accept these chairs, that in their use you may enjoy some pleasure and serve as a medium to recall pleasant memories of your old friends and neighbors of Norval.
