

HARVEST

Let songs arise to Thee, O God,
From every harvest field,
And may the nations praise Thy name
For what the earth doth yield,
Unto thy holy throne of grace
Our praise-and thanks we bring,
And with the first fruits of the earth
Present our offering.
For Thou has in Thy goodness great
With plenty filled the land,
And we Thy blessings manifold
Receive by Thy command.
O give us grace that we may first
The heavenly kingdom seek,
In confidence that Thou for us
Do'st all our treasures keep.
Eatable-as to look beyond
The things of time, and see
That greater harvest, when we shall
Be gathered unto Thee.

Whiskey in Colla

Ontario run-runners have won the laurel wreath of bootlegging fame by landing a coffin box on the shores of Lake Huron, near Goderich, holding a funeral and burying the coffin in the cemetery. Suspicious police had the "body" exhumed—and found what they suspected—a load of liquor. It is said one of the policemen remarked, "Oh, death, where is thy sting?"—Farmer's Sun.

SHORT TERM CREDITS

How the Government Co-operates With Local Associations.

Individual Farmers, the Township Council and the Government Pool Subscriptions—Managed by a Local Board—The Associations Already Doing Business.

Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.

There is one distinctive difference between the system of long-term loans and the system of short-term loans recently inaugurated in this Province. Those who have followed the preceding articles will have observed that long-term loans are administered by the Agricultural Development Board, 5 Queen's Park, Toronto. In contrast to this, no short-term loans are made by the Board, but are made solely through local associations organized for the purpose.

Short-Term Credits Described.

The reason for this difference in method of operation lies in the difference in the nature of the security and the nature of the loan. In the matter of long-term loans, the security is a first mortgage on land, and the personality of the borrower is of secondary importance. In the case of the short-term loans, the security is not on the chattels, and the personality of the borrower, and his reputation in the community, is one of the determining factors. The loan is usually a small one, with $2,000 as the maximum. The average loan is not over $1,000. It would, therefore, be physically impossible for any central office to grant and supervise loans in an efficient manner for the Province for small amounts. No other system of granting short-term loans in an efficient manner has been devised by a central office for a whole Province since the existence of the Board. It is, therefore, a matter of safety by local committees familiar with all the circumstances.

Accordingly, a plan of organization of local farm loan associations has been devised, and this is so simple and so easy to carry out that a membership of thirty is required, and each member must take one share of stock at the rate of $100, and a payment of 10 per cent of the total stock represents capital, and the balance is held in reserve. In the event of any further payment being required on capital accounts, after the necessary meeting has been held, the township council and the Government are each asked to appoint two directors, and to contribute half the amount of stock subscribed by local members; this is added to the reserve. When the association elects a president, vice-president and one director, the directors, with the two Government directors and the two township directors, constitute a board of seven members, which looks after the business of the association. A secretary-treasurer is appointed, and he is the person who looks after the accounts. When the association is thus formed it continues from year to year with the same directors, and applications for loans can then be made from time to time to the secretary-treasurer who is authorized to have them considered by the directors.

In practice, it will probably be found desirable to have meetings at stated periods for the consideration of the loans. In this way, loans may be passed without any inconvenience either to the borrower or to the directors.

Associations Already Formed.

Although this plan has been before the farmers of the Province for only a few months, ten associations have been formed, and are doing business, while two others have been formed, but have not yet passed on loans. Loans available range from $125 to $1,800, in individual cases, and are for all manner of purposes connected with farming. The loans are repayable at the end of the year with interest at 4 1/2 per cent, but, of course, may be repaid at any time if the directors feel that such renewal is justified.

Each applicant submits to the association a detailed statement of his assets and liabilities, and also signs a promissory note. The application and for issuing of checks to cover the total amount loaned to an association. While, therefore, the subject is approached from the standpoint of helping the man on the land in carrying out his farming operations, it will be seen that due regard is paid to the question of security, and if reasonable discretion is exercised there is no reason why any of the money so loaned should go astray. Well Distributed.

The number of associations now doing business is regarded as a very satisfactory start. With the new system it was not expected that such associations would spring up in all parts of the Province, but it was regarded as desirable that such should occur. The associations now in existence are well distributed over the province. The Board of Directors selected includes some of the very best farmers in the country. Their interest in the matter, and their public-spirited efforts to assist their neighbors in the matter of finance gives the associations organized a good standing in their respective communities.
